JUVENILE SPORTS WILL BE GUESTS OF HOOSIER CLUB

Boys and Girls Will Be Admitted Free of Charge at Springbrook Park Saturday Afternoon.

Boys and girls of South Bend and Mishawaka will boost for the Hoosiers at Springbrook park Saturday afternoon when the Hoosiers meet the Battle Creek team. The Hoosiers are a par with the Bay City crew but the Hoosiers have succeeded in putting the clump on them at different times this season. Smith expects an even break at least with the Foodtown crowd and will give them a race for their money.

Battle Creek is at Springbrook this afternoon and will play a double-header Sunday afternoon. The Hoosiers are a par with the Bay City crew but the Hoosiers have succeeded in putting the clump on them at different times this season. Smith expects an even break at least with the Foodtown crowd and will give them a race for their money.

Whenever South Bend gets less hits than the other fellow one can just put it down in that trusty little memorandum book that the Hoosiers are going to win. The Hoosiers do is to allow the opposition to get a few more hits than themselves and then they go out and do a lot of brilliant fielding and win the game. Yesterday they did this and won by the count of 5 to 2.

Loudermilk and Cristall were doing the throwing and it was some nice little throwing that they did. Loudermilk had one bad run and that was in the fourth. The Tots got to him for four hits before he was out. The rest of the Hoosier gang stopped the knocking carnival. The Hoosiers touched Billy Cristall up for some time; but there is one thing about long leads off first. It can't be done with or without a make-up. Cristall has a swift, sure throw to first and he gets them.

Another League Scout.

That the large league scouts are beginning to realize that there must be some regular baseballers on the Hoosier team was shown again yesterday when one more man with a watchful eye hopped into South Bend to look the boys over. The new one was Joe Sedgen of the St. Louis Browns and he is taking a long look at Stevenson. With him was Charley Hickman of the Naps, who saw Wednesday's game to watch Schorr and Stevenson.

Even with two of the big boys watching him Stevenson showed no signs of nervousness, for he was right there at short like lots of things. He made four putouts for himself and three assists, but failed to land in the hit column. He scored one run. In the second the Adrian hopes for winning the last game of the series went up like a bunch of smoke. Lake's home run in that session sent two lads in ahead of him, but there had been one run put over just a little while before that. Lake's hit was nothing to be sneezed at, for it was a regular home run. It took a straight course to left center and stopped some place near the wall. Grodick had gone down, from third to first, to start the round when Diem was safe on Henderson's high throw to first. Diem went to second. Korf-hagen singled through third and Diem scored. Beall walked. Lake then came through with that circuit wall-p that counted Korf-hagen and Beall.

Adrian Scores a Pair. After that one-bag round for the Benders the Tots didn't have much of a chance. Of course, they got those two runs in the fourth, but just the inning before that the Hoosiers had increased the lead to five. Five runs appeared to be too much of a lead for the Tots to overcome, especially when Loudermilk only allowed them three hits after that big fourth. South Bend's one run in the third was chased over by Stevenson. Ben Koehler started it with a hit to left and was forced at second by Stevenson. Stevenson stole. Diem laced out a long hit to center. Stevenson scoring and Diem going to second on the throw. Diem died there when Korf-hagen fanned.

Adams led off for the Tots in the fourth with a strike-out. Kaad gave Stevenson a hard chance and it was good for a hit. Lewis doubled to left. Kaad stopping at third. He had a chance to come in, but stuck to the motto of safety first. Bowden went down, third to first. Billy Cristall singled to center. Lewis and Kaad scoring. Mitchell singled to right. Cristall was caught getting a little slumber off second.

Hoosiers Get Another. Koehler's tribe added one more in the Hoosier half of the fourth and then there was no more counting by either bunch. The locals never have made that run had Adams in center kept his hands on Beall's high fly. He dropped it and Beall stopped at first. Lake's tap that was to have been a sacrifice hit turned into a fly to Cristall. Loudermilk singled to second. Broder hit just over second, scoring Beall. Loudermilk was picked off at second. Broder was caught at first by a throw from the trusty arm of Cristall.

After the fifth the game settled down into a real battle. Both clubs were working together in the field and both pitchers were producing some real pitching. After that fourth inning counting. Cristall held the Benders to one hit, which came in the seventh. Broder did it for his second knock of the day. The eighth was the only round in which Adrian had more than three men at the plate. Five men appeared then.

CHICAGO BOAT APPEARS GOOD FOR TAKING PRIZE

CHICAGO, July 10.—Chicago's entry in the British international speedboat trials, Disturber IV, was given its second trial Friday in the waters of Lake Michigan. The craft Thursday was taken for a two-mile spin, and while it was kept at only 20 miles an hour, it showed speed in its every line. Commodore Pugh is confident that he now has the boat which can win back the Harmsworth trophy, emblematic of the speed boat championship of the world. This entry was won two years ago by the British boat Maple Leaf IV.

OLD CATCHER DIES.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., July 9.—Ossie Schreckengost, who ten years ago was the catcher for the Athletics' famous battery "Waddell and Schreck" died suddenly in the North-western hospital here Thursday. He was 39 years old.

SMITH IS FAVORITE IN LONDON BETTING

American Appears Best Wager in Contest For Heavy-weight Title.

LONDON, July 10.—Gunboat Smith, the American pugilist who will fight George Carpenter of France for the white heavyweight championship next Thursday night was a slight favorite in Friday's betting. A number of wagers were made at 5 to 4 with the Frenchman on the short end.

There is plenty of money in sight for the support of each of the boxers. Smith has reduced his weight to 181 pounds. He is training aggressively at Harrow and his sparring partners complain that they cannot stand the punishment which is inflicted in the training bouts. About the only one of Smith's sparring partners who can stand up before the sturdy American is Bob Armstrong, a husky colored boxer. One round is usually enough for Smith's other boxing partners.

Eight experts who have visited the American's training camp at Harrow declare that the fighter is in excellent condition. Realizing Carpenter's advantage in speed, Smith is trying to develop his own foot work. Every day he takes special exercises with this end in view.

One phase of Smith's attitude is unique. Although he is confident of winning, he is not making any loud boasts.

"I believe I am going to win but Carpenter is a dangerous opponent and I am not underestimating his strength and speed," said the Yankee to a delegation who visited Harrow today.

A dispatch from Maniot, France, where Carpenter is getting in shape for the bout, says that the Frenchman is anxiously awaiting the contest fully confident that he will prove the conqueror. Carpenter is in the best possible condition. Those who see him at work say that he is a marvel of speed. He combines science with strength, and is always ready to mix it up with his opponent.

Carpenter is an aggressive fighter and stands a strong chance of winning on points if the fight goes the limit—20 rounds.

THE BOX SCORE ANNEX

Yesterday's game was rather slow and uninteresting because Adrian knew right from the start they wouldn't win while the Hoosiers knew they were going to.

The locals never had to extend themselves after Lake's wallop gave them four runs in the second. They played brilliant ball in the field but were not fighting for their runs. They didn't have to.

Loudermilk is capable of pitching a much better game than he did yesterday. He toyed with the Tots and with the exception of the fourth inning was never in any real danger.

In the ninth inning to show what he could do he fanned both Tarkenson sent up as a pinch hitter and Manager Cristall. He tried for Bowden but the catcher tapped to Stevenson.

Ben Koehler's feat are still troubling him and he called on Smith to run for him on two occasions. Cristall tried to catch Ed napping, but Ed has known Cristall too long and he never got far off that first bag.

Cristall has one of the best balk motions seen around these diggings in many a year. In fact his move finds few equals in the big leagues. He simply swerves his body and the base runner doesn't know where the ball is going. Bill has got by with it in several leagues and no umpire has ever called in a balk.

We remember seeing players sliding back to first while the ball was crossing the plate. Some delivery is Bill's motion.

Beall stretched himself into another double play yesterday. The throw was high but George grew about a foot and grabbed the ball just as the runner was stepping for the bag.

Adrian missed a score in the early part of the fourth. Stevenson's throw to third was poor and rolled back to the stands, but Kaad, who reached third on the play, never tried for home.

Henderson's attempt to make a double gave Loudermilk a hit. Beall had headed for second when Loudermilk hit the ball. Henderson could have tossed Loudermilk out easy but instead tried to get the ball on the fly and missed by a few inches. He couldn't get down to the ground and the ball rolled for a hit.

Battle Creek comes today for four games in three days. They will stage a double-header on Sunday.

In the present home series the Hoosiers have split even. They got the break with Lansing, dropped two to Bay City and then whipped Adrian twice.

It's now Mount Clemens, not Lansing.

TWO BATTLES ARE SLATED SATURDAY IN LOCAL LEAGUE

Games Will be Played in South Bend and Mishawaka—Studebakers Will Go to LaPorte.

Hostilities will be renewed in the Factory league Saturday afternoon with two contests, the Singers and Rubber-Res battling at Mishawaka, while the Ball Bands and Olivers are scheduled to fight it out at Singer park. Studebakers are the idle club for the benefit of the Studebaker employees, who picnic at Pine lake on Saturday.

Considerable depends upon the result of the games scheduled Saturday. Should Olivers win and Singers lose the two clubs would be tied for first place. On the other hand should the Ball Bands defeat the Olivers, the two teams would exchange positions in the percentage column.

The Rubber-Res have as strong a club as any in the league since their reorganization and things are bound to break for them some time. They played the Ball Bands to a standstill two weeks ago, the Ball Bands eventually bagging the game 1 to 0 after a hard struggle. There was a time when the trailers were favored as opponents but that has disappeared long ago. Now the Rubber-Res are the worst feared club in the league and their contenders higher up in the race have a perfect right to respect them.

It is a pleasure to learn there is at least one baseball league in existence which has some respect for legislation they are responsible for. The Factory league at the first of the season went on record establishing an eligibility rule to require a player to work in a factory he represents for 30 days prior to becoming eligible to perform on a team. While this has been violated in the past in order to meet certain discrepancies the directors do not propose to permit of gross violation except in extreme emergency. This did not appear to exist in the ranks of the Ball Bands.

Because the latter played ineligible players without sanction last Saturday the directors in session last Tuesday evening, declared the game between Studebakers and Ball Bands of last Saturday null and void and ordered it played over. This seems rather an imposition on the Mishawakans but they should expect to pay the penalty when found guilty. The result of the decision means a great deal to the Studebakers, which still gives them an opportunity to get into the running for league honors.

Factory league clubs are not unlike others in the baseball game in many respects, especially in the matter of fortifying themselves with talent. At the close of the college season a good many students return home and look for employment to spend their vacations. Just now nearly every club in the league has a number of new players to uncover, which will be done just as soon as the 30-day resident or employment rule makes these players eligible to comply with the league rules.

Some there are quite a number of college men residing here it can readily be seen where several clubs will spring some fine ball players on their opponents in a few days. We give the patron of that organization the better entertainment.

WANT BALL GAMES. The Cigarmakers baseball team challenge any trades team in South Bend for a game of ball. Games can be arranged by phone or write Albert E. Krauser at the Goetz cigar factory.

WILL FINISH SEASON. OTTAWA, Ill., July 9.—With the fank of Kankakee, and the necessary dropping of Lincoln from the Illinois Missouri league, the other four cities in the circuit—Ottawa, Decatur, LaSalle, and Champaign, determined to complete the season and adopt a new schedule with the schedule which began July 2.
