PULL IT FROM HOLE

BIRDS WIN GAME IN GREAT RALLY 6 TO 3.

CROSS SOME BALL PLAYER

Catcher's Three Hits Figure in Run Getting—Cruikshank Bats in Tying Run—Eddie Coffey's Work Shines.

Just to show what something near an even break in luck and good umpiring can do the Blackbirds sauntered in and won yesterday's game after it had been lost to all appearances, timely hitting being the main feature of the contest. The locals overcame the stupendous lead of the visiting Hoptigs and won a brilliant victory on the home stretch. Of all the heart gladening games ever heard of it was the one best yet. And it wasn't anything but proper work on the part of the collect zone that did it.

Among those present was Edward Coffey, at one time a player of considerable notability in these here provinces. Edward was stationed on the imaginary judge's bench and judged the game righteously, unerringly, and without prejudice. His performance was as superior to that shown by the Hoptigs as it was from a home run hit to a 10-mile walk. Nobody had any kick coming on Edward's judgments.

Cross is Brilliant.

Frank Cross was another of the guests who did pretty well. Frank is some ball player. He has not been playing the game long enough to get three bingles yesterday. What he will do when he gets back into form will hurt some twister's rep. Besides gathering the bingles in bunches he made a brilliant stop of a hot one and seriously needed, starting the rally that resulted in the tie score and driving over the winning run. Besides that he crippled two attempts to graft second.

Frank was not the only star of the game. Cruikshank and Coffey had gotten together to make the game look like the milky way. Another of the glory winners was Mr. Cruikshank, whose timely single scored the tying runs and the winning run was driven home in the boneyard. Pearl Holycross was there with a double to start the winning run around. The principal works on the West Vaginay side was Buck Ewing's. Buck's team had given him of two chances to win early in the game. He canned tell the difference between a labelled hit and an easy chance and treats them all alike.

Somewhat less than two-score bugs were present, but those bugs had to pay the same admission as when the game was over. Dear me. They were quite tickled. The game was all to the hallelujah for them and they made enough noise to celebrate a pennant winning. Cruikshank's timely hitting undoubtedly had much to do with the ascension of one Dick Maddox, whose act at the right time for a local victory would have made Santos Dumont green with envy. He plugged middle at the Cozy wedding.

Game Starts Directously.

The start was all to the lemon. Hard luck seemed to be with the home aggregation right at the jump and the game looked lost before it shot its swaddling clothes. But that only shows you that anything may happen in a game of baseball. Pope started the Hoptigs until the third inning, when Roy Kauser, who was pulling the traps for the bonds, got his. He recklessly gave Spade a pass to begin with and then Spade stepped to Pitcher Pope with a complimentary to Maddox, the Wahahman. Tubby Price was unable to climb into the glory wagon and hit to Hoje, who hesitated a moment or two and then decided to throw to Bunting Spade. Temporary relief. Wessel was the next man to earn part of his salary and his double scored Maddox. McCombs failed to do anything but lift a fly to Bunting, Wessel going to third. Alva Bunting, everybody's pal, and sometime Hoptig, singled to left, driving over two more. Lefty Cole forced the tail one and that was all.

Hard luck and the Duck cut off chances of the locals until the seventh inning, when something to do happening. Handsome Frank was No. 1 and he put one down by Venable that for once the star didn't kill. Cermack was to outside, but the Wheeling pitcher was unable to locate the plate and passed the Texan. Benjamin Harworth laid down a sacrifice which was as neat as anything ever done in the line. The bunt was so well placed that it was a cinch for Cermack to get home safely, piled up at the stations they were headed for, and only some quick work on Maddox' part caught Ben.

Frederick Pope entered at this crucial moment. Maddox kicked on a pitched ballset and hit the short one in the bellyer. Pope went to the mat like a tackling dummy, the wind squeezed out of his lungs till they were as flat as the hot water bag when used for a pillow. Maddox was disqualified. It was rumored that Pope had received the blow in the heart and for a time it looked a fatal injury, but nayney, Agnes; Pope loped to the sack, the game was called on account of Maddox was agent for a tenant. Now Maddox didn't like some of the tenants and started on his own hook to evict them and so passed Gwate Bush, forcing Frank over with the first of the locals' tallies.

Pope was not the change in the cast. Price had seen enough of Maddox and shipped him to the lazy, calling out Spiffish Robinson. Rob had as worrying up whatever and was not right to the plate. Rob's work was the cause of loss of the game, which would not have gone to his credit if he had shut out the locals all the rest of the way—a case of lose anyway you fix it. Hard luck pursued Rob. Hoje was called to pinchcounter Aggie revoked Keener, who was just advancing to the plate with a billy in his mitt, and sent him to the pine while Zeke was ordered to the sacrifice. Zeke was to bat for Johnson who was next to bat for Rob. Elmer appeared in his bed room slippers. A few days ago one of the crud Chinks rimmed him with a pronged hoof and put one of his feet on the infirmary list. Well, anyway Robbie fooled everybody by not showing.

"Crude" Delivers the Goods.

Then it was that your friend-to-near-friend-indeed "Crude" advanced to the plater. There was a glimmer in the eye of the one-time Dakotan that boded ill for Robinson and the Hoptigs. Crude was a stranger to the truth. "Crude" picked out one of the nicest in Robbie's selection and slammed it over second so that that it was completely dry when it was picked up. And in the meantime Cermack had gone, nothing at all. Cermack and Pope tie with the tying runs, that was the only time that Cermack was in the game. The only tough part of it was that Gwate Bush was finally murdered trying to take third on the hit.

Well, the worst was yet to come for the spiffish dinger. After Fortune had been given a free ticket to first in the eighth and see their batting averages clipped the locals came in to bat again, and who should come up but Maddox, the new gardener. Now Mid hadn't been doing much in the way of local debut, having been brought three times in succion, but this time he did the best possible thing—he got a ball. The Pearl was no dick thereupon and Maddox was left on second, Cermack trying to reach right and pocketed to post direction to the seniors and smite the pill. He soon fastened it. Out to the fence it sailed and only good work on the part of the Hoptig fielders kept it at third while Holycross gilded to second. Now at this time nobody was out and who should come up to the bench quesser hit? Cross again, hungry as ever. Ding! went the bidsey and bliesy bob again. Cross was the first man to come home, the Pearl Holycross was in third and when Cornick lifted a high one to Letty Cole, Pearl easily brought in No. 2. Just to make it sure.

The sort of thing made Tubby either beet red and the opening paragraph which he had been going to wire the morning dailies down to Hoptown would have to be changed unless Hoptown wanted to laugh. Tubby pitched a few tasty lines binging on the pane-pusices three rims the centerpoint called early. Therefore he instructed his man to make a powerful stab in the first part of the ninth, which was then also the "ninth."

Price did the kind of thing for a minute or two. But, gahan, where was your faith in Zeke? He took care of the first hitter himself, but Spade worked him for a walk and Robinson was left to bat. Price left Zeke to hit him here and responded to the call nobly, Bunting. Wessel met a fast one and sent it far afield, but what happens to that kind in the bird garden is a mystery to Bunting. Bunting was there, shadow it to say that Holycross was nearby.

SCANLON HOLDS HOOSIERS HELPLESS—SCORE 3 TO 1.

Notre Dame Defeats Indiana in Second Game by Timely Hitting.

The Tribune's Special Service.

Bloomington, Ind., May 17.—Notre Dame easily defeated Indiana in the second game between the colleges here yesterday the score being 3 to 1. Scanlon was in the box for the visitors and pitched great ball. He struck out 16 of the state college batters and fielded his position well, too, getting five assists. His number of fielding chances was large because the Hoosier hitters were unable to hit his offerings hard, while fine support back of him cut off many a hit. Notre Dame won by timely hitting and timely errors on the part of the home boys. The score:

WHEELER IS RELEASED.

Outfielder is Let Go When Birds' Garden is Filled.

George Wheeler, the roaming Illinoisian, who has been playing also left outfielder for the local clubs, has been released and has gone to Paris, Ill., where he has been released for quite time by the fan independent team of that place. Telegrams for him seeking him to return to Paris were received on the average of once a week and Manager Grant, having secured a complete roster of gardeners concluded to let him go. Wheeler is a fast and hard hitting outfielder and with a little more experience will be able to keep up with fast company. He surely ought to be able to play great ball with the Paris nine now.

NEW UMPS ARRIVES.

Elmer Woodmansee to Break in on New Job.

Elmer Woodmansee, the umpire from Ohio appointed to take the place of near-Umps J. Dugan, reported in the city to-day. He will take his first work out in the game at Springfield this afternoon.

Tippecanoes, 17; Studebaker School, 1.

The Tippecanoes defeated the Studebaker school team Thursday afternoon by the score of 17 to 1. Only three earned hits were allowed by Kale, of the winners, who held his opponents down to a run until the ninth inning. The Tippecanoe team is to play the Lincoln team of Chicago here next on the latter's diamonds Saturday afternoon.

Walk-Over Jrs. 8; LaSalle Stars, 6.

The Walk-Over Juniors defeated the LaSalle Stars by the score of 8 to 6. The battery for the winners was Robert Birth, Raymond Hoyde and Cole Dunlap and the battery for the LaSalle Stars was Clarence Shool and Harold Keener. The umpire was Louis Scott.

First Word a Knock.

James I, of England, and VI, of Scotland, was, as everyone knows, defoliant in vigor and steadiness. Having heard of a famous preacher who was very wifty in his sermons and peculiarly so in his choice of texts, he ordered this dargyman to preach before him. With all suitable gravity the learned divine gave out his text in the following words: "James, first and sixth, in the latter part of the verse, 'He that waveeth is like a wave of the sea driven with the wind and tossed.'"

"Ode-chickens! he's at me already," exclaimed the king.—Scrap Book.

Relic of Ancient Rome.

Prince Borghese has discovered in the cellar of his palace at Rome marble fragments which put together proved to be an ancient Roman sarcophagus bearing figures representing one of the early myths of Rome, the marriage of Aeneas to Lavinia, daughter of Latinus, king of the Latini.
