DIVIDE WITH VETS

SOUTH BEND AND DAYTON SPLIT IN DOUBLE HEADER.

BUNCHED HITS WIN GAMES

Successful Clouting Chief Factor in Each of Contests Before Big Crowd at Ohio City.

The Tribune's Special Service.

Dayton, O., Aug. 19.—The Vets were able only to draw a half-and-half break with South Bend Sunday in spite of the fact that 2,500 people turned out to see Manager Malachai and his heaves play and expected them to win. The visitors took the first game by the score of 2 to 1 and lost the second 4 to 1.

In the first game, as has happened often between the teams this year, the visitors won in spite of hitting the ball less frequently but their hits were bunched and Keener kept the Vets guessing from start to the finish of the game.

In the first inning Bush worked Malloy for a walk and took second when Maloney bunted himself out. Coffey's single scored Ovrain.

The winning run came in the fifth. Hayworth opened with a single. At the start and an infield out put him on third, whence he scored on a fly.

O'Brien's single, Manson's sacrifice, and a hit by Malloy gave the home team one tally in the seventh. The Johns was a hard problem for the Indiana hitters in the final game but Moore, although he pitched well, was found for hits when they would do the most good.

The visitors tallied one at the start just about as they had done in the first game and the way Moore was bunting them across in the first two innings made it look as though the game was to be a walk-away.

In the fifth they connected with his delivery for four hits and sent over three counts enough to win, for Johns would not let the visitors get near the home plate thereafter.

Serious Charge Brought Against Elmer Goodspeed by Daughter.

The September term of the grand jury, the charge against him being an attempt at improper relations with his daughter. The case was tried before Justice of the M. "BILLY" EDWARDS GONE.

Famous Floor Manager of Hoffman House is Dead.

The Tribune's Special Service.

New York, Aug. 19.—Once the champion lightweight boxer of the world, a title he won with the "sun-down" W. H. Edwards, since 1882 bouncer at the Hoffman house bar room, is dead, after giving Brighty Grosso a battle worthy of victory.

"Billy" Edwards was an Englishman. He came to this country in 1882 and became prominent in the squared circle. In 1883 at Baltimore he won the lightweight championship from Sam Collyer in a battle that has always been considered a classic of the ring.

For years "Little Billy" as he was affectionately dubbed, met men big and little. He was beaten by Charlie Mitchell at Madison Square garden, and in 1882 gave up the ring, to become a bouncer at the Hoffman house. Some years ago he retired from three many a young blood into the street, when the young blood became too obstreperous.

A dandy in dress and manner, few suspected the Celtic kidney beneath his silk shirt and diamond pin. Of late, and his sudden attacks upon trouble makers were uniformly successful.

As the years passed Edwards became the confidante of many revel sports, and it is said he held, at times, the purse strings of the "big" political elections, or upon the eve of a big sporting event. Edwards was 62 years old.

WILL FORM FEDERATION.

Employers' Associations Send Delegates to New York.

New York, Aug. 19.—Delegates from 19 employers' associations in the United States will meet at the Waldorf-Astoria to-day to form a general federation of organization of employers. The movement is the outgrowth of a resolution adopted by the national association of manufacturers at its annual meeting in May.

Officers of the national association were instructed to establish and finance a council to serve as a means of harmonizing the relations of the national and state organizations of employers, merchants and citizens, so as to get them to co-operate with the manufacturers in an educational campaign "for the protection of the individual rights and mutual good will."

James W. Van Cleave, of St. Louis, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, will preside at today's meeting, pending formal organization.

"More than 75 per cent of the national organizations of employers have responded to the call to form a federation," said Van Cleave yesterday. "And we expect others to come in later.

"Specifically, our purpose is to defend our common interests as employers and as public spirited citizens against the aggressive attacks of organized labor, the chief leader of truth in the report that the federation's money and influence are to be used to crush labor unions."

Organizations which will be represented at to-day's meeting are the National Association of Manufacturers of America, the National Association of Agricultural Implement and Vehicle Manufacturers, the National Foundry association, the National Association of Master Plumbers, the National Association of Merchant Tailors' National Protective association, the National Wagon Manufacturers' association, the National Plough association, the National Brass association, the National Association of Master Printers, the National Metal Trades association, the American Anti-Boycott association, the American Cotton Manufacturers' association, the Master Carriage Makers of America, the National Association of Master Steel Metal Workers, the National Manufacturers' association of the United States, the Master Carpenters' association, the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers, and the Carriage Builders' association.
