Dazed from the terrific thunderbolt with the Indian Coach Cayou hurled into the local football camp Saturday Notre Dame to-day knows not where to turn and the depression which hangs over the university can be lifted only by a victory over Indiana, the next contender for the football championship of the state that the gold and blue will face.

Never before in the history of Notre Dame football has such a stumbling block been thrown across the path of that institution as was dropped by the great little team from Wabash college. Notre Dame students are unable to explain the loss of the game and in their efforts to find an excuse which will let the varsity down as easily as possible, the rooters are trying to call the responsibility on Billy Silver and a fumble by Quarterback Dorais, forgetting that the quarterback did make a mistake in judgment in calling for an end run with only a foot to gain. The fact of the matter is that the Wabash team knew more about football than did Notre Dame, the team from Wabash being the more perfect perfection as has ever been seen on Cartier field. Time and time again in the first half the machinemade eleven of the silly Indian coach has started through the Notre Dame line before the aware of what was going on. Consequently the speed of the Presbyterians swept the Notre Dame men off their feet and rushed down the gridiron for touchdowns at will. Notre Dame, throughout the first half Wabash continued to rub it in and clearly outplayed the local team, both in offensive and defense.

The generalship of Capt. Spaulding, of the visitors, was notable. Having found the weakest spot in Notre Dame he sent his backfield crashing into the hole and made that point the pivot of the Wabash attack throughout the entire game. As a result Munson the soft spot in the Notre Dame line, for a minute notion, was a badly used up man.

In the second half Notre Dame was a changed eleven, not that the style of play changed any, but that the spirit of every player was desperate and frantic. The vision of defeat envelled the men individually to herculean tasks and Draper, Beacom, W. Downs and Funk were everywhere at once, now on the ball to the Wabash line, now on top of these occasions Downs carried the ball over the line, but being unsupported and unaided by a single man he was thrown back by a leaty Wabash back, who managed to him while he was still on his feet.

The loss of the game practically places Notre Dame out of the race for the championship of the state, as Purdue with a victory at 12 to 0 over Wabash, the only team in the state which looks like conquering who will not be scored on by a Hoosier team.

Purdue Commands Respect.

Purdue's victory over Illinois puts a new angle to the championship fight of the western colleges and the Lafayette team must be considered the leader. Coach Stagg, whose crews will go against them on Nov. 11, Purdue is now coming fast and Northwestern promises to have the greatest eleven ever seen in Evanston, Illinois, when the date for the Chicago game arrives. With a great and powerful line averaging 185 pounds and with brilliant backs it looks as if Purdue will be able to make the Chicago game one of the best of the year.

Eckersall's Great Victory.

From any standpoint, Chicago was fortunate in defeating Minnesota, not Wisconsin. Without Eckersall the tale probably would have been vastly different. Wisconsin's gains were offset by the long punts of Eckersall, and his runs skirting the ends, with the Indians unable to get a good shot at him, gave the Maroons their victory.

Had the foot been dry, dominoes the advantage in Chicago's favor would have been greater. Eckersall probably would have been able to stretch his punts, which were so short, and was able to get away his kicks in cleaner fashion than with a boot clogged by the soft dirt.

It is useless to debate upon what the Chicago team would do if Eckersall had not been in the game. He has been a big factor in all the coach's calculations, and if he had not relied upon Eckersall Stagg probably would have adopted a different style of play for the Badger game.

Each team seemed powerless to score on straight football. If Wisconsin's fine individually outclassed Chicago's, by reason of the Indian team's ability to supplement good football lacking in the Badger team, just as apparent in the Thanksgiving game against Chicago last year.

Yale's Machine All Right.

At Ann Arbor Yost's machine failed to get going properly in the first half against Nebraska, and the corn-huskers, with a chance to score, the rooters had little chance to score. The second half a different tale was told, for Tom Hammond, Curtis Longman, Weeks, Graham and Blachmell all scored, the last three making runs over the visitors what they really could do.

The Gophers blanked Iowa and for the purpose of deciding a western championship it is again regrettable that Chicago cannot meet Yale, who plays Minnesota this season. The local lot, will come, of course, when Wisconsin plays the Gophers at Minneapolis Nov. 11.

Kentucky, western, held to a 0 to 0 tie by Kentucky, was a distinct disappointment. Whether this was because of the absence of Coach McCormack and his words of encouragement and encouragement is a question, but it is doubtful

M'AVOY, GREAT END ON NOTRE DAME ELEVEN.

One of the greatest players on the western gridiron to-day is McAvoy, the end rush of the Notre Dame team, who was injured in the game with Wabash. McAvoy's injury Saturday made his post doubtful. He went into the game with a bandaged back and his trouble in taking of his position. Unless McAvoy is able to be in the game will certainly be an injury of the most face him. The above photograph was taken for The Tribune while he was making a catch of a punt.

If the Purdue eleven can up sufficiently to defeat Chicago, some argument falls to Wabash.

In the east Yale and Harvard both had difficulty in keeping their opponents in hand, the former only defeating Penn State by 11 to 0 and the Harvard team only managing to defeat the West Point's by a single touchdown. Princeton had somewhat easier going with Lafayette, but Columbia and Brown tied and Pennsylvania just beat Brown by two points.

WABASH DEFEATS NOTRE DAME.

Plucky Crawfordsville Eleven Scores Only Touchdown of Game.

Although outweighted plucky Wabash defeated Notre Dame Saturday on Cartier field by a score of 5 to 0, the only touchdown of the game being made in the first half through terrific backing of the Notre Dame line by the Wabash backs, led by Spaulding.

The game was the finest contest put on on Cartier field this year and was so fiercely fought that no-rib tackles was used by both teams, the local eleven being a little further than the visitors.

Wabash won the game on straight football within the aid of tricks. Spaulding and Bauer found a weak spot in the Notre Dame line and by directing all their plays at Munson were able to make good. Munson, for a minute notion, was a badly used up man.

In the second half Notre Dame was a changed eleven, not that the style of play changed any, but that the spirit of every player was desperate and frantic. The vision of defeat envelled the men individually to herculean tasks and Draper, Beacom, W. Downs and Funk were everywhere at once, now on the ball to the Wabash line, now on top of these occasions Downs carried the ball over the line, but being unsupported and unaided by a single man he was thrown back by a leaty Wabash back, who managed to him while he was still on his feet.

not to the 25 yard line and Silver held of the point. A Wabash player tackled him and was penalized ten yards.

Notre Dame then advanced from the Wabash 15 yard line to the two yard line, Funk making a desperate stand. The teams were battling in the center of the field when time was called. The lineup and summary:

SOUTH BEND TIES LAPORTE.

High School Eleven Plays Hard Game Without a Score.

South Bend and Laporte High schools played a 0 to 0 tie game at Laporte Saturday, the contest, while unusually hard, being loosely played because of the interference of the spectators who constantly swarmed on the field and prevented the South Bend team from making gains when touchdowns were almost in sight.

Laporte expended all its strength in the first five minutes of play when the ball was carried towards South Bend field for a score and Mike Stack had not recovered all the lost ground and five yards additional on the very first play Williams making a 16 yard run. On the 10 yard line Laporte had like a stumbling and took the ball on downs to South Bend. Soon after this Laporte had South Bend outplayed Laporte at all times but the crowd stopped any progress of scoring. Suzy, Williams and Rowe were the stars. The line and lineup:

South Bend (0).		Laporte (0).
Brandenberger	R. E.	Brandenberger
Stack	R. T.	Tangier
Williams	L. T.	Tangier
Rowe	L. E.	Williams

GAME ENDS IN TIE.

Howard Parks Hold Heavier Team at Springbrook Park.

About 600 football fans witnessed one of the poorest football contests of the season at Springbrook park yesterday and saw the Howard Parks hold the heavier ex-Howard Parks to a 0 to 0 tie game. The game was marked by considerably disputing of decisions by the players.

SIX GAMES ARE BOOKED.

COACH BOOTH, OF NEBRASKA, IS HARD WORKER.

Coach Booth

The work of Coach Booth is always having an eleven at Nebraska which is capable of commanding the respect of the big teams, has won for him the title of "hard worker" among the football men. He is one of his best coaches in the west.

TWO OF THE MEN RESPONSIBLE FOR YALE'S SHOWING ON GRIDIRON

RALPH HOMER. JUDE OWSLEY.

Ralph Homer and Jude Owsley, who are coaching Yale this fall are two of the most famous football players the country has known. Both were former stars of the Yale gridiron.

their schedule of football games for the season is as follows:

Howard Parks vs. Dowagiac, Mich., at Springbrook, Nov. 4.
Howard Parks vs. Mishawaka Moccons, at Springbrook, Nov. 5.
Howard Parks vs. Columbia A. C., at Springbrook, Nov. 12.
Howard Parks vs. Milford, Ind., at Springbrook, Nov. 19.
Howard Parks vs. Kalamazoo Mich., at Springbrook, Nov. 26.
Howard Parks vs. Wabash A. C., at Wabash, Ind., Nov. 7.

Sunnyside Juniors Claim Victory.

The Sunnyside Juniors, a light, but fast eleven made up of players on the east side claim a victory over the Bunkers Hill team of Mishawaka by a score of 5 to 0. In the collision making a safety, Notre Dame disputes the claim and places the score at 2 to 0.

Local Football Teams.

A great deal of football matter sent to The Tribune by local eleven could not be published to-day because it was late in reaching the office. All matter for the sporting page must reach The Tribune not later than 4 p. m.

Niles Defeats International.

The Niles High school football team defeated the International Business college eleven, of this city, Saturday. The game was played at Niles and was the first of the season for the local team.

Junior Stars Win Game.

The Union Stars defeated the Bennett Street Stars by a score of 6 to 0 yesterday, both teams averaging 150 pounds. The game was played on the south side.

Bumpers Defeat West Ends.

The Northwestern Bumpers defeated the West End eleven by a football game Saturday. The score was 10 to 0.

FITZ MAY MEET HART.

Former Champion is Willing to Take on Kaufmann.

Chicago, Oct. 23.—If articles of agreement are presented to him for a fight with Marvin Hart, of Louisville, for the championship of the world Jim Fitzsimmons will sign them at once. At least this was the statement made last night by the former holder of the title, who twice succumbed to the powerful dela of Jim Jeffries.

Battling Nelson has received an offer of $1,000 a week to go to England and he will probably accept, the chances are that Nelson will be there in June. Both sides are not dallying.

Jimmy Gardner offers to meet Nelson at 126 pounds, weigh in at 2 o'clock and box 15 rounds for the lightweight championship of the world. Nelson for the fight there during the holidays.

Jack McGuigan, manager of the Lakeside club of Philadelphia, Pa., has offered Terry McGovern and Young Corbett a guaranteed purse of $1,000 for a six round contest. Corbett accepted at once, but Terry is holding out for a return match with Battling Nelson for the same money.

Tommy Murphy's poor showing against Terry McGovern was a sad blow to his friends, who had expected that he would at least show some evidence of a fighter, especially after his good showing against Young Corbett, though his old-time vigor and courage as good as he ever was. Young Corbett will probably be taken up by Terry.

Tommy Ryan's manager says he has the best right to the heavyweight championship of anyone in America, since Jeffries relinquished the title. If Marvin Hart is inclined to dispute this claim Ryan's manager is willing and anxious to meet him in a finish fight to settle the contention.

The return of Charles McGovern to the ring the other night, when he knocked out Jack Bennett in Philadelphia athletic club, is another evidence that the old-timer who takes care of himself and occasionally slips his easter into the ring and gets away with the money. McGovern was one of the lightest in the ring, he defeated Tom Farrell, Jimmy Mitchell, Billy Dawson and a bunch of heavyweights black and white, in rapid fire order after defeating Jim Corbett. He was finally beaten by Tommy Ryan, Terry practically retired from the ring.

Marvin Hart is to be started in a melodrama. "Hoy say the chee-hee is Lonesome" they told the snow in Louisville.

Willie Willie Lewis has outgrown the lightweight limit, he has been forced to seek laurels in the 141 pound division. His first turn yesterday at Buffalo, if the Buffalo fellow can be believed, he put Joe Walcott before Lewis will go after Jimmy Gardner, out on the coast.

Jack Dempsey explains Britt's defeat in the following ring chatter: "Mason did the trolley that cost Jimmy out of it. It is the polite thing that does the business. Jeffries was the big fellow who put the kibosh on Mahon beating Jim. Jeffries chose as soon as he coupled up with them have fancy stamps. Fried any fighters can do their side stepping action, but Jeffries with the waltz cops the prize."

Boomer Weeks, the Spokane, Wash., boxer, who put Frank Gotch away, has been notified that he must report to his job at Spokane or lose it. Weeks is a good one and the Spokane fight fans are anxious to see the champion of the Northwest take up the challenge of Frank Gotch, who was recently beaten after a desperate fight with Dusty Rhodes.

TRADE PLEASES FANS

SOUTH BEND BASEBALL MEN THINK WELL OF FRANCIS.

NEW PLAYER ADDS STRENGTH

With Evansville Star on Third Base, Grantina Will Have Fastest Infield in Central League Next Season.

The Tribune's announcement of the trade of Sagir for Francis which was announced by South Bend and Evansville at the Wheeling meeting last week, caught the fans just right and every practical baseball man in the city is happy over the deal. It is freely admitted that this is by far the best trade made in the league and that his addition to the South Bend team will add lots of strength and make the infield the strongest on the circuit. Always a reliable guardian of the third sack and a sticker of more than ordinary merit, Francis can be depended on to put in a whole lot of capers in a South Bend uniform next season.

Two or three other baseball deals are hanging in the balance and when they are put through it is more than likely that local fandom will be highly pleased.

Plans the local utility man left for Vicksburg, Miss., where he will spend the winter. Whether or not he will be signed by the Vicksburg team in 1906 remains to be decided by the National commission. Grant having forwarded a claim to his services, disputing the right of New Orleans to play him.

Seymour is Best Batter.

Twelve of the eleven regulars finished the season with batting averages better than .300, according to the official figures of President Pulliam. Jay Seymour, of Cincinnati, with .352, "Heinie" Wagner was not far behind with .349, and Chance was sixth with .321.
