

Smith and Koehler Make Change in Hoosier Line-up for Series With Toledo

CHANGE IN BENDER CREW EXPECTED TO ABOLISH NEW JINX

Korfhagen is Placed on Bench and Grodick Will Play Third With Koehler on Second and Dobbins in Center.

Lonesome in last position, the Hoosiers will try a new reef against the Toledo Mud Hens this afternoon in an effort to retrieve a part of the triple loss to the Ducks. Manager Koehler announced a new batting order and a change in line-up for the afternoon, Korfhagen being sent to the bench, Grodick taking his place at third, Koehler going to second and Dobbins occupying center field. The new batting order follows:

Broder, lf.
Koehler, 2b.
Stevenson, ss.
Grodick, 3b.
Diem, rf.
Dobbins, cf.
Lake, c.
Beall, 1b.
Loudemilk, p.

Whether the new line-up is temporary or will stand was not stated by either Koehler or Smith. It is hardly believed that Korfhagen will stay on the bench as he is one of the steadiest men on the Bender line-up. He has been handling the third base job in good style and rarely fails to get on base, being a good wailer and able to elude the sphere.

Wants Outfielder.
Smith is still searching for a new outfielder and it is probable that a proposed deal will be put through in the next few days for a clouting garden man belonging to one of the leading teams on the circuit. With another clouter the Benders would have little difficulty in forging ahead at once. There appears to be absolutely no discouragement in the Hoosier camp because of the loss of the first three games of the new season.

"Don't worry, we're going up," said Ed and Koehler this morning. "We were beaten yesterday, but lost our own games Tuesday and Wednesday. I can say that with the determination to win with absolute confidence that we will."

The Hoosiers got a lot of rotten ball out of their systems yesterday and are now prepared to go in and lick the life out of the Mud Hens. "Got a hunch we get three out of four," said Ben.

Saturday is boys' and girls' day at Springfield and all the juvenile fans in South Bend and Mishawaka are invited to the game as the guests of the Hoosiers. A double-header will be staged Sunday afternoon with the Toledo club. Loudemilk hurled this afternoon. Kiefer is slated for Saturday and Duffy and Schorr are expected to do the mound work in the double-header.

Hoosiers Defeated.
Johnnie Jones is the one pitcher in the Southern Michigan league who can truthfully say the Hoosiers can't beat him. At least they haven't beat him so far this season and he has pitched several games against them. Yesterday he administered one beautiful drubbing to the Benders, letting them down with five hits and nary a run. The Saginaw Ducks got seven counters, thereby making the score 7 to 0.

Duffy is usually the one who is pitted against Jones, but this time it was the mighty Schorr who was selected. But Schorr, with a string of eight straight wins hanging onto him, was unable to cope with the original South Bend Jinx.

Schorr may have had an off day or the Ducks may have been long on RAUS-MIT-EM SALE on hitting on this particular afternoon, but the fact still remains that Holmes' men flashed out a total of nine knocks. The worst part of it was that they came in little bunches and little bunches usually mean runs. Those five hits that Jones deluged to give the Hoosiers came in as many different rounds and only two of them were what might be called clean hits.

Young Tornado Breaks.
The elements again tried to kick in with a little interruption, the method yesterday afternoon having been a young tornado. It all came about as it did Tuesday afternoon—right after the duck half of the third. This time the Ducks had just finished counting three when the clouds appeared and with them came a bunch of wind. The wind played havoc with Schorr's curves and the sand threatened to stop the game, but they played through it.

Foley was again the cause of the Ducks getting away with a win right at the start. It was a triple again, too. Jones singled over second with one down in the third. Bashang beat out a bunt to third. Foley then tripped to left and the Ducks had enough runs to win right there. Strupp drove a long fly to Koehler and Foley scored.

Schorr Starts Good.
Schorr held them hitless for two sessions, but in the seventh he granted them a pair of hits and the same number of runs. Stupp singled to center, Stevenson booted on Leber's grounder and they were safe at both places. Jansen sacrificed both runners and Tate hit over second. Stupp scoring. Tate and Leber started a double steal. Lake threw to second to get Tate and made a low peg. Leber scoring and Tate going to third. Manning hunted to allow Tate to get in and Hughey was caught at the plate.

Jones started the eighth with a hit to left center. Schorr kicked Bashang's tap and he was safe. Beall grabbed Foley's grounder and tried to get Jones at third. He threw low and everybody was safe with the bases loaded. Stupp fanned and Leber flew to Grodick. Jansen hit to center. Jones and Bashang scoring. Tate ended it with a fly to right.

Chance in Second.
Things were looking like some Hoosier scores in the second and that was the only time in the whole afternoon that the prospects did look bright. Diem beat out a bunt and made second on Korfhagen's hit. Diem could see things that way as Dobbins hit down to Foley and Diem was caught between the plate and third.

Ducky Holmes' catching staff is all crimped up now. Holmes himself is out of the game and his assistant, Plate, had his thumb broken yesterday afternoon. Ducky made an attempt to borrow Dobbins, but Smith couldn't see things that way as Dobbins will do some catching for the Hoosiers within the next few days.

O'NIEL HAS ACCIDENT

President of Western League Falls Into Sidewalk Stairway.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 17.—Pres. N. L. O'Neill of the Western League limped into the ball park yesterday afternoon with his right shoulder in bandages, and his left knee badly bruised, following an unpleasant experience early in the morning. Arriving late in the night he found his hotel room too hot for sleeping. Starting for a stroll to get a bit of fresh air, he fell into a sidewalk stairway and lay unconscious until discovered by a hotel attaché. The house physician was summoned and O'Neill was bandaged up. He was able to resume his journey last night. O'Neill is a total abstainer.

Here's a Few Freak Games, Fans; Some Funny Things Sure Happen in Sport

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON.

We had a fanning match and the talk turned to freak games. Mordecai Brown was telling of the recent game at St. Louis. "That beat them all," laughed Brownie. "I was working against Tom Seaton and both of us were going pretty well. We went into the 12th inning. I had been feeling tired, but the air was cooler and I started feeling all right. Suddenly they started slugging the ball. Nothing I could do would stop them. They hit anything and everything and piled up seven runs. The last two men struck out on purpose to finish the game before darkness."

"We came to bat to end it up in a hurry and started hitting. We wouldn't go safe. We made eight runs off Seaton and had two men on bases with only one out when we scored the winning run. No one could explain it."

One of the freakiest of games was one played in Boston when Stivett was a great pitcher. He had held the opposing team to one fluke hit for eight innings and struck out the first two men in the ninth. The score was 7 to 0 in favor of Boston and suddenly the other team started hitting Stivett, and 11 successive hits went by against him, breaking his fences, and Boston was beaten 9 to 7.

that sort happen to him. It was possible to explain that. Chicago had the game won 7 to 2 in the last half of the eighth Overall was merely breezing along, and lobbing the ball up for the Braves to hit and finish up the game.

When Richie reached the clubhouse he found big Cole sitting on a bench, weeping mournfully. "Did you hear what he called me?" wailed Cole. "He called me a big, yellow, four-flushing minor league idiot."

"Cheer up, King," said Richie joyously. "He just told me I was a bigger, yellower, rottener, four-flusher than you ever dared be."

Have you been watching this Indianapolis Federal league club? It is coming, and it is playing a lot of baseball. Bill Phillips and Charlie Carr are working wonders with their r-w material and the club is playing a lot of brainy inside ball, besides hitting. MOUNT CLEMENS, Mich., July 17.—Thursday's contest between Jackson and Mount Clemens was fast and snappy and was featured by five double plays. Pitcher Carpenter of the locals was forced to retire in the second inning; a batted ball went through his glove and closed his left eye. The locals came out on top, 1 to 0.

FLAG WINNERS LOSE AGAIN

BAY CITY, Mich., July 17.—Flint defeated Bay City 2 to 1 Thursday, but it required 11 innings of strenuous baseball. Both Scott and Thomas pitched well, the latter issuing no passes. Theboul's sensational catch in the tenth spoiled the locals' best chance to win.

Games Scheduled Saturday.
The changing of the Southern Michigan league schedule necessitated quite a change in the Factory league games for Saturday as the local teams are unable to leave Springbrook park as per the original schedule. The Singer park was to have been idle for the day as far as league play was concerned and the manager had scheduled an exhibition game for the champions, which was cancelled in order to give the clubs in the league an opportunity to play their scheduled game. Consequently the Oliver-Studebaker contest will be played at Singer park Saturday.

At Mishawaka the Ball Bands and Rubber Res are scheduled. This will give the Ball Bands an opportunity to display a lot of new men, who become eligible Saturday. Wolf, Allen and Kirby, all former South Bend high school stars, are expected to be in the line-up Saturday afternoon. Eddie Edgren does not become eligible until a week later. These stars will undoubtedly strengthen the woolen mill boys considerably and will now very likely prove one of the strongest teams in the league. In fact, the new material makes them slight favorites for the honors in spite of the fact that they are now below the 500 mark in the percentage column.

What the Rubber Res are expected to do in order to be noticed officially by Pres. Daily remains an enigma. In their battles against the Singers last Saturday the rubber men gave promise of pulling a winner. In fact, they showed so strong that the champions were on the defensive for seven innings. But it looked too good, so they began aerial experiments and before they returned to terra firma the Singers had chased four runs over the counting station and another opportunity to join the league procession was killed. The Rubber Res now occupy the same position in the Factory league as the Melbourn & Dorans held in the City league 13 years ago. The cigar store men took part in all the games scheduled during

FEDS WIN COURT BATTLE

Restraining Order of Johnson is Reversed.

CHICAGO, July 17.—The decision of Superior Judge Charles M. Fiebel, restraining George H. "Indian" Johnson, the baseball pitcher who left the Cincinnati Nationals and went to the Chicago Federal league club, from playing with the latter organization, was reversed in the appellate court here today.

The decision is a great victory for the Federal league in that it hits organized baseball contracts in their most vulnerable spot. Johnson jumped in the early part of the year and was immediately restrained when Judge Fiebel of the supreme court issued an injunction upon the application of the Cincinnati team.

Since that time Johnson has remained idle.

Pres. Charles H. Weeghman, owner of the Chicago Federal league team, was elated over the decision.

KAZOOZ GET TO CRISTALL

ADRIAN, Mich., July 17.—Kalamazoo won Thursday from Adrian, 4 to 0. Kreski and Cristall consecutively in four innings, while Kreski held the locals to one tally.

Cristall hurt his hand in the eighth and Jones finished. Mitchell, playing his last game for Adrian, fielded brilliantly and stole two bases. He goes to the Ottawa team of the Canadian league.

FIGHTER GOES BROKE.
CHICAGO, July 17.—Tony Capone, an ex-pugilist, filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy in the United States district court yesterday afternoon. Liabilities of $495 and assets of $111. The greatest part of his assets are loans to persons who address is unknown.

MURPHY GETS DECISION.
AURORA, Ill., July 17.—Jimmy Murphy was given the decision over Danny Goodman here Thursday night at the end of six rounds. Goodman was badly punished.

ing the season, but did not bag a victory until the final game against the Tippecanoes, who proved the flag winners.

SMITH-CARPENTIER FIGHT BY ROUNDS

Round 1—Smith led and fell into a clinch. He carried the first to Carpenter and led several times. He showed fast foot work and the Frenchman clinched frequently. Carpenter tried a nasty right uppercut, but Smith evaded it. The American was warned for hitting low. Despite the warning, Smith sent a low hook in the break-away. He was punished for this and shot in a terrific left which jolted Carpenter. The Gunboat drove a hard right to the body. Carpenter came back with a right swing but missed. It was Smith's round and he was loudly cheered.

Round 2—Carpenter clinched. This caused the crowd to shout "break-away." The Frenchman then began jabbing with both hands. Smith swung wildly three times with his left. A number of clinches followed and Referee Corri was kept busy breaking the men. Smith jabbed Carpenter on every break-away. He got one good left to the jaw. Carpenter clinched again. When they separated Carpenter rushed Smith and landed right and left on the head. He was faster than Smith, and it was Carpenter's round.

Round 3—Referee Corri cautioned Smith against hitting low. Smith began to jab with his right. Carpenter clinched to avoid blows. The Frenchman tried for a terrific uppercut but missed. Carpenter took the offensive, and Smith began to hold. Carpenter was jabbed with his left and shouting faster work. The round ended in a clinch. Carpenter's round.

Round 4—Smith took the aggressive and with his forcing tactics he puzzled Carpenter, and made a terrific left swing to the jaw but missed. Carpenter clinched. The Frenchman shot home a good uppercut which had little effect on Smith, who was fighting strongly. Carpenter sent a left to the head and then knocked Smith down. It was a terrific blow and the American was down nine seconds. He was saved by the gong. Carpenter's round.

Round 5—Carpenter rushed Smith and got home a right to the jaw. Smith then jabbed to jaw three times with his left. Carpenter responded with a powerful right hook to the chin. The round was fairly even.

MURPHY TAKES BATTLE

AURORA, Ill., July 17.—Jimmy Murphy was given the decision of Danny Goodman here Thursday night after the fastest six rounds ever witnessed in an Aurora ring. The Italian batter had the better of all but the first round, which was even. In the semi-wind up Artie Armstrong of Chicago knocked out Stockings Kelly of Chicago in the second round. Frankie Lynn and Jack Smith, both of Chicago, fought six rounds to a draw in the preliminary. The bouts were held in the open air and were witnessed by 1,000 people.

IN PLACE OF RIVERS.

LOS ANGELES, July 17.—Johnny Tillman was pitched last Thursday night to box Leach Cross 20 rounds at the Vernon arena on July 28. Tillman will substitute for Joe Rivers, who is sick in bed. The boys will fight at clock weights.

REFEREE HANDS FRENCH BOXER TITLE IN SIXTH

Carpentier Knocked Cold With Right to Stomach by Smith. Corri Says "All Right" When American Hits Foul.

LONDON, July 17.—Georges Carpentier, "white heavyweight champion of the world." This title was handed to, not won by the son of France Thursday night in Olympia after Gunboat Smith had knocked him out in the last minute of the sixth round.

A more disgusting and at the same time more sensational climax to what proved to be probably the most remarkable contest in many ways that the prize ring has ever seen, could not be imagined.

The enclosure, almost twice as big as New York's Madison square garden, was instantaneously transformed into a scene of indescribable pandemonium. London costers and Paris apaches in the $1.25 seats; famous wearers of the Legion of Honor of France and titled English sportsmen in the $55 seats—virtually every individual in the vast place "asked for trouble." And the Englishmen all favored Gunboat Smith and were ready to do battle on their own account with the first Carpentier sympathizer who dared to voice glee at the Frenchman's "victory."

"Robber," "fake," "dog," "quitter" were a few of the mildest epithets hurled at Carpentier and Eugene Corri, the referee.

Yet Smith undeniably committed a technical foul, hitting Carpentier a glancing blow on the top of the head after the latter had been knocked to his knees by a straight right to the pit of the stomach. Even so, under every known rule of boxing, it was not Smith, but Carpentier who should have been disqualified as a result of what happened immediately after the foul blow.

Here is exactly what did happen: Smith found the chance for which he had been waiting for five and a half rounds and when the Frenchman rushed him with a straight left to the face Gunboat shot out a straight right and caught the oncoming Frenchman squarely in the pit of the stomach. Carpentier did not fall down; he seemed simply to shrink into a shapeless mass on the floor. Actually the blow doubled him up and he fell forward to his knees with both hands pressed to his stomach.

Smith Hits Unknowingly.
Smith not realizing that Carpentier was actually knocked out, not seeing that he was even off his feet (Carpentier had been using the crouch all through the fight, his head being almost level with Gunboat's knees), instinctively tried to land a finishing blow—a right overhand swing. It missed the wobbling Frenchman's left ear and grazed the top of his head.

Referee Corri instantly jumped in and motioned Smith away saying "That's all right!"

The writer, at the ringside, was not more than 15 feet away from Corri when he spoke to Smith and heard the words distinctly. It was absolutely clear that Corri realized that Smith had supposed that Carpentier was still on his feet when he started the follow blow to the actual knockout punch, and seeing that the second blow was no longer a foul, was waiting for the time-keeper to toll off the count of 10.

The count, however, was never made. Descamps, manager of Carpentier, shrieking madly at the top of his voice, urged Gunboat to rise and the ropes almost before Corri had finished telling Smith to wait.

In another second the wildly excited Frenchman was on his knees beseeching the referee to allow him to carry him to his corner.

Jim Buckley and the others in Smith's corner shouted protest to Corri, claiming that the entrance of Descamps to the ring automatically disqualified Carpentier.

Boxing critics at the ringside shrieked advice at Smith's seconds not to enter the ring.

Smith in the meantime was standing with both hands outstretched waiting for the Frenchman to rise and go on with the fight. But had Carpentier been able to stand on his feet he never would have had a chance.

Within five seconds, a score of Frenchmen, half of them in evening dress, had swarmed through the ropes, all struggling for the honor of helping to carry the unconscious fighter to his corner.

Among the men on the mix-up in the ring was the official announcer who finally succeeded in fighting his way to Corri's side.

The referee finally made his decision and the announcer shouted vainly above the din that Smith had been disqualified.

Drops Smith in 4th.
It was anybody's fight for the first three rounds. In the fourth, however, the American contingent got a terrific surprise when Smith suddenly dropped to his knees like a dog after a whirlwind mix-up in the middle of the ring.

The Frenchman finally had succeeded in landing that right square on the point of the jaw. At the count of nine Smith, unthinkably groggy, was on his feet, but the bell intervened. Gunboat came back strong in the fifth. The Frenchman, still wary and fighting carefully could not gain an inch or foot upon the advantage of the knockdown he had given.

Then came the sixth with Smith full of fight, apparently having found himself. Only the unintentional foul blow saved Carpentier from being counted out.
