By Associated Press.

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., May 22.—Four state records were established here this afternoon in the intercollegiate track and field championships in which Notre Dame emerged the winner for the 12th consecutive year with a total of 43 points. Indiana was second, with 41½ points, and Earlham third, but with only 12 points. Butler, Wabash and DePauw tied for fourth, with 11 points.

Sturtridge, of DePauw, set a new time for the 120-yard high hurdles when he broke the tape in 15 flat, a fast heat with Bender, Indiana, in 15 1-10 second. However, the record will not be followed, due to marking down a hurdle.

LOCKE MAKES RECORD.

Famous Nebraska Athlete Ends Collegiate Career.

By Associated Press.

LINCOLN, Neb., May 22.—Shattering one world mark and, tying another, Roland Locke, University of Nebraska, passed from the horizon of intercollegiate competition to-day as Nebraska won the Missouri Valley conference track and field championship. Nebraska scored 65½ points to Oklahoma's 32½-16, and Ohio State, 28 1-4.

Locke equaled the world mark of 9.4 seconds for the 100 and set a new mark of 20.7 seconds for 220.

TURF IS HEAVY.

NORTHERWICK, Scotland, May 22.—(Sec Robert Burns added to his fame by writing "The Cotter's Saturday Night"; this Robert chooses to write of "The Caddies' Saturday Night.")

This the Saturday night before the British amateur golf championship with a score and more American golfers here prepared to make an attack on the almost impregnable amateur championship of Great Britain.

It was "the caddies Saturday night" of course and perhaps the boys were a little loose in their chatter, but they were canny. Jock Macpherson is perhaps as capable of predicting the winner of the championship as any caddy and quick retorts it out this way:

"You'll be a great week for the Yanks, sir, this week-Bo, said the Man who can give a good 'drawsee' shot will be the winner," says Jock. Jock explains that the turf is heavy. There is no roll.

The man who can add a consistently good 175 or 180 yard tranzie shot to a good drive will win the tournament Jock says.

IOWA WINS OVER NOTRE DAME, 3-2

NINTH INNING RALLY GIVES HAWKEYE'S VICTORY.

Bad Throw by Pelisky Gives Conference Rivals Close Ball Contest.

The Tribune's Special Service.

IOWA CITY, Ia., May 22.—Notre Dame bowed to Iowa, 3 to 2, this afternoon. It was a close game to lose for Boston, Irish hurler, who held the Hawkeyes for 8 2-3 innings.

In the ninth inning Corbin was walked but Heisaman and McNabb proved easy outs. With two down and but one on base Pfeiss singled to center and Corbin came home and Moore then doubled Boardsley to pelisky, allowing Corbin and Pfeiss to score. This tied the count. Then a grounder threw Sullivan advanced Boardsley and Pelisky's wide throw to second allowed the winning run to score. Boston hurled masterful ball, allowing but the one hit. Notre Dame's first run came in the fifth inning. Moore singled past third, Pearson sacrificed and an error on Smith put Moore on third. He scored on Parisher's hit through second hole.

In the seventh Moore doubled to deep center and scored on Sullivan's single.

The game was played before a large crowd which included the governor of Iowa. The score:

OSBORN ELECTED HEAD.

Northern Indiana Tennis Association Holds Annual Meeting.

By Associated Press.

GARY, Ind., May 22.—H. T. Osborn, of Gary, was elected president of the Northern Indiana Tennis association at the annual meeting here to-night. The association which will be composed of 10 clubs this year arranged plans for a yearly northern Indiana tournament to be held at the Twin City courts at East Chicago July 19. Plans to extend the association across the northern end of the state also were completed. Six cities, Gary, South Bend, Whiting, East Chicago, Hammond and Michigan City are represented in the new association. Inter-club matches will be held weekly beginning June 6. Other features planned by the association and sanctioned by the United States Lawn Tennis association are the St. Joseph valley open tournament in South Bend and a three-city meet staged by the Whiting and Gary clubs.

MUNCIE, Ind., May 22.—Hagglevskii, of Butler, continued to hold the state collegiate tennis singles championship which he won for the first time last year, when he defeated Donovan, of Notre Dame, in a fierce set match here to-day of the Muncie State Normal courts, 3-6, 6-3, 6-4. Hagglevskii's victory was the best work seen for Wood and Boyle, of Terre Haute Normal, over Donovan and Stendel, of Notre Dame, in straight sets, 6-2, 6-4.

RUTH IS BACK.

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, May 22.—Any rejoicing on the part of George Herman Ruth over the fact that he is back in the lineup is tempered by the fact that he is coasting wherever three strikes are as out and a ball drives over the fence or into the bleachers on the other side of the field is good for four bases.

After all, smart hitting brings the fans to their feet more often than does smart fielding, and the Yankee slugger is the outstanding batsman among the several major leagues currently chasing pennants.

Ruth's remarkable home run hitting is part of a batting performance that ranks with the best of his career. He opened drive he jumped way ahead of his homer slugging in 1921, when the record of 59 was made. The 12th put him on a par with his total on May 23 in 1921.

Additionally, the Babe ranks second in the American individual batting with a percentage of .392.

GIANTS DEFEATED BY INDESTRUCTOS

MISHAWAKA TEAM TAKES NARROW VICTORY, 3 TO 2.

Badly Wrecked Studebaker Club Put Up Great Battle in Shivering Cold.

The Studebaker Colored Giants were defeated by the Mishawaka Indestructos, 3 to 2, at Playland park yesterday afternoon. The game was played in the bitter cold and witnessed by a small but enthusiastic group of spectators.

Considering the fact the Colored Giants were practically wrecked during the last week when seven of the original team went elsewhere to play ball their showing against the Indestructos was commendable.

Freeman got himself in a hole in the first inning when Brennan doubled to left field and Frankel was safe on first when the barler played to get Brennan at third. Van Andwep was hit by a pitched ball, filling the bases. Fisher came up at first when Brennan went home, failing to score. A hit and an infield out ended Frankel and Van Andwep to scope.

In the ninth inning with two down a squeeze play attempted but Grace was out at first. The score:

DUNN PILOTS ELMIRA.

Former Central League Star is Now Minor League Manager.

Joe Dunn, who for years was a fixture in the old Central league during the time Dr. F. H. Carson, of South Bend, was president of the circuit, is managing the Elmira, N. Y., team in the New York-Pennsylvania league this season. Dunn was sold by Evansville to the Brooklyn Dodgers, but lasted only a short time in the National league, soon returning to the Central league as a member of the Evansville backstop was widely known in South Bend as he performed for over 10 years in the circuit when "Punch" Knoll was pilot of the Evas.

Other well known players at the time of Dunn were Larry Lajoie, Babe Meyers, Jack Flourney, Lil Sager, Harry Arndt, Ben Koehler, Bob Boecher, John Gansel, Ike Francis, Jack Hendricks, Dum Wetzel, Bill McKechnie, Cy Alberts, Toddy Hoyt, Dan Cahoon, Alva Spangler, Marty Hogan and Goal Anderson.

Dunn, while playing ball, was playing left field for the Elmira team. Nagler is hitting over .300 for Dunn's men.

PROMOTER IS CONVICTED.

Washington Man Sent Up Three Years For Staging Bout.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—Price fight promoting in the District of Columbia proved to be a hazardous business for Frank Dane, also known as Frank Cocarelli, who to-day received from Justice Stafford, of the supreme court of the district, a sentence of three years in the penitentiary for staging a bout at which admission was charged in violation of the district code.

Dane and 16 fighters were indicted in the case. The prosecution claimed that a club membership ascribed to the exhibition at which the fight was held was merely an attempt to evade the law.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., May 22.—Failure to hatch hits until too late in the contest and mishaps in the field spelled defeat for Minnesota in its Big Ten game with Indiana, 5 to 4, to-day.

SIX TEAMS START GAMES AT CHAIN O'LAKES LINKS

BEST PLAYERS IN VARIOUS PROFESSIONS ON TEAMS.

HARD MATCHES EXPECTED

Bankers to Play Insurance, Physicians Meet Dentists and Lawyers Tangle With Finance Quartet.

South Bend's Business Men's Golf league gets underway to-day over the Chain O'Lakes course of the South Bend Country club. Six teams are in the battle which will end July 25.

The teams which will oppose each other in the opening fray are as follows:

BANKERS VS. INSURANCE.
PHYSICIANS VS. DENTISTS.
LAWYERS VS. FINANCE.

The personnel of the teams are as follows:

Bankers—Charles L. Zigler, captain; J. E. Neff, D. M. Coen and Claude J. Jackson.

Insurance—A. N. Hepler, Jr., captain; Harvey F. Rentner, J. C. Beck and Col. R. E. Stogsdall.

Physicians—Dr. H. L. Cooper, captain; Dr. C. C. Terry, Dr. C. M. Fish and Dr. Kenneth T. Knode.

Dentists—Dr. Leb Quinlan, captain; Dr. Frank D. Hager, Dr. Robert T. Brown and Dr. K. H. Robinson.

Lawyers—G. A. Farabaugh, captain; Judge T. W. Slick, Orie Parker and Ed. Hoffman.

Finance—Karl G. King, captain; Franklin Morse, Charles Pask and Lee Fleming.

Tribune Will Award Medals.

These are the members of the teams who will battle for the battle, as far as possible will continue play throughout the season. The Tribune will award medals to the members of the winning team, and for this reason the teams should remain intact if possible.

Local players are already figuring the outcome of the league, the probably winner, runner-up and tail-ender. Both duffing at first is rather in the nature of a guess. The Physicians have the best chance. However, the Lawyers will not concede anything to the Physicians, and the Bankers are far from being weak. Perhaps, the most feared team, the team that is likely to sweep all before it, is the Insurance. Hepler has assembled a quartet of real match players. Good medal players are far from being good match players, and there is a difference.

Doctors Have Strength.

Dr. Cooper has perhaps more material to pick a team from than any of the other professions, yet a physician's business and hours interfere with his golf. Dentists are well represented but lack a much narrower field from which to select four players. All games are match play and are considered good training in view of the Indiana Amateur tournament to be played here this summer. For the benefit of the fans who will follow these matches closely the rules are as follows:

All matches to be played on or before date set. That is, if the two players have failed to get together to play on scheduled date they can play the match at their convenience. The match must, however, be played by the date set in the schedule.

Each team is to have four members, but teams can make changes in the personnel of their teams, providing all players are members of their respective professions.

At the conclusion of the schedule if the teams wish to continue, another round will be played.

Nassau System Used.

Games are to be match play, Nassau system.

In case of tie games, the disputed games are to be played over at some time and place mutually which.

Play will be 18 holes.

No handicaps will be allowed.

In all games players must be paired according to club handicaps. That is, the two best players pair together, the two second best, etc.

League standings will be figured in percentage basis according to games won and lost.

All disputes referred to the teams captains, who will act as a body in conducting the league.

PLAY BUCHANAN TO-DAY.

Mishawaka Independents Have Fast Game Scheduled.

The Mishawaka Independents will play the Buchanan Blues at Buchanan, Mich., this afternoon. Manager G. L. Dipert has also booked a game with the Bangs Club of Niles team at Buchanan Harbor, Mich., for May 30. The Bangs, which will meet the Tribune gang against the Niles team in as follows:

Chaney, pitcher; Albright, pitcher; Fitzpatrick, catcher; Bolan, first base; Zumbo, second base; Applegate, short stop; Bates, third base; Lepine, left field; George, center field, and Dugdson, right field.

Middleton Going Big.

Jimmy Middleton, Argus boy, is going great guns this year again in the American association. Last year with Minneapolis, Middleton staged a real "comeback" and surprised many critics, who thought the big boy was through. Another Argus player, Lefty Thompson, is making good with Uncle Dud's Indianapolis team.

WESTERN TEAMS APPEAR TO RULE NATIONAL LOOP

EASTERN OUTFITS HAVE EDGE IN AMERICAN LEAGUE.

RACES ARE INTERESTING

Reds and Yankees Seem to be Bullies of Their Respective Circuits. Cuffing Visitors With Ease.

BY GEORGE CHADWICK.

(Copyright, 1926, by South Bend Tribune.)

NEW YORK, May 22.—The west trimmed the east and the east smote the west—and there you have the two very different stories of what has been happening in the National league as compared with events in the American league baseball.

The painful visit of the eastern clubs of the National league to those in the west is over. So, too, is the unpleasant stay of the western clubs in eastern cities of the American league. The guests have been kicked out of the parlor and thrown out on their respective ears.

From this elevation, viewing the denied heads and bruised breasts, the deduction off-hand is that the two sections of major league baseball indicate very strongly that the championship of the National league in 1926 will be won by a western club and that the American league title will be blithely appropriated by an eastern team.

Nine Sweep in National.

The picture now being drawn for the fans depicts a very pretty fight between the Cincinnati Reds and the Pittsburgh Pirates, with the Chicago Cubs and the St. Louis Cardinals dashing into the fray at intervals to place a few well directed kicks in the pants.

In the east the American league scrap looks like more of a three-cornered affair, but there is some prospect that the battle will be decided in the west.

The SPORTLIGHT

Up in the Air

This also will be "up-in-the-air week" at the intercollegiate games which come to Cambridge on Friday and Saturday.

For one of the leading dakarcs will be the pole vaulting battle between Lee Barnes, of the U. S. C., and Sabon Carr, of Yale, who have both passed 13 feet on their way to the sky abode.

The odds are against Carr, the Yale vaulter, but he has an outside chance. Young Barnes has been at high sq 13 feet five and one-half inches, against 13 feet one or 12 feet two for Carr, but any vaulter who can beat 13 feet always has a chance, unless Charlie Hoff happens to be around.

Barnes and Carr are almost sure to set a new record for these games and it will take a new record to win.

The Timing Wonder.

Those who care to make a study of almost flawless rhythm will have a chance to do it in watching Bud Houser, the U. S. C. captain, handling the shot and the discus.

Houser is hardly a giant. He weighs around 185 pounds, which is light for a star shot putter and discus thrower.

He is a specialist in these two field events, and he has a fair chance to set a new discus record before the week is over.

Houser is a great competitor, at his best under heavy pressure, and he has a certain smoothness which makes every attempt look effortless.

The far west is sending on a brilliant flock of stars in Houser, Barnes, Dye, Harbor and Richardson, to name only a few. But here are five that only record-making rivalry will head off.

What Football Is.

"There is a lot of bunk about football," said Zuppke to Alton Halsten, in the Big Ten Weekly. "It is not a game, it is not play, and there is not much fun in it. It is not even good exercise, like most other sports. Football is work, the hardest, toughest, most strenuous work in the world. A man seeking physical betterment would be better off in wrestling, gymnastics or any one of a dozen sports than football."

"If it is not fun, if it is not a game, and if it is such hard work, why is it the great game of the colleges?" asked one of the bystanders, who probably was a track coach.

"Every student who is physically able," Zuppke replied, "by play football plays the game because it is the greatest drama in the world. The theater and the opera are not drama. Bah! They are mostly concoctions in which somebody runs off with the other fellow's wife or doesn't run off with her because she is going to run off with some other man.

"Football is fair competition between two teams, and more real. The great colleges are the great competitors of the world were not Beach, Sabin, Irwin, McCarthy, Dorias and Cox—only they were magnificent with their legs rather than their voices.

"Our college boys take their football more seriously than they take anything in the world—or ever will. Nowhere in the world are there such sacrifices in time, training, physical punishment and self-effacement as these boys make. But there is not one man in the stands who would not give his right arm to be taking part in the drama, to be able to be one of these collegiate heroes.

"The slender element in our universities opposes this sport, not because they dislike the game in itself, but because they say that there is nothing else in college that can approach it for drama, for realness, for intensity. They are just a bit jealous because football offers and teaches more than any course in the university."

This wasn't all that Zuppke said, but there may be other opportunities to give the rest of it. Meanwhile, the Odyssey, Gil Dobie, President Angell, of Yale, the Harvard Alumni association, Pop Warner, southern colleges, Aeschylus and Euripides and the Notre Dame.

Ed Wynn was paying off a few golf debts. "What were you playing for?" some one asked. "Fifty cents a hundred," replied Mr. Wynn.

YANKS HAVE GOOD CHANCE TO WIN BRITISH AMATEUR

United States Players Received Breaks in Draw—Results Will be Anxiously Awaited Here and in England.

BY RAY MCARTHY.

[Copyright, 1926, by South Bend Tribune.]

NEW YORK, May 22.—With a score of American amateur golfers including members of the Walker cup team, competing in the British amateur championship starting on Monday, the chances for an American victory are the brightest they have ever been since any player from the states participated in this event.

In the first place, America is represented this year by the strongest array of amateur golf talent ever sent abroad. Secondly, the United States golfers have the breaks in the saying in the draw made by the American players are well distributed through the draw, with the stars evenly divided between the upper and lower halves.

For the Britons particularly it will be an unusually thrilling competition for with Roger Wethered, Sir Ernest Holderness, Cyril Tolley, Robert Harries and their other favorites completely surrounded by American stars, there will be anxious moments awaiting the results.

Yanks are Not Handicapped.

It is not likely that any American star will have to oppose two of the best of the Britishers in a single day. Francis Quimet just to do three years ago. Meeting Tolley and Wethered on the same day in the same part of the tournament, and on a day that was none too good for him, killed off the popular Bostonian.

This year, however, Quimet, as
