Today's Game.
(Final game for state championship)—Bendix Brakes vs. Evansville Thysons, 2:15 o'clock.

BY ARTHUR JOHNSON,
Tribune Sports Writer.

Northern Indiana this afternoon may for the first time in the history of organized softball crown one of its own as state softball champion when the Bendix Brakes and Evansville Thysons have had their sets in the finals of the state tournament at Bendix park. This date of survivors of weeks of eliminating rinds, representing the extreme ends of Hoosierland, will come together at 2:15 o'clock.

Bendix Brakes came bounding into the final round Saturday night with an impressive victory over the Whiting Cleaners by a count of 5 to 0 while the Thysons won 2 to 1 over the Kennedys in a game that on tactics an affair as has been unfolded here in tournament play or otherwise. Their mettle already proven by their successful negotiations of previous tournament stumbling blocks in their respective sections, the Brakemen and Thysons should exact a battle satisfactory to the patrons of the most rabid softball enthusiast. In addition to the state title laurels the winner will carry the Hoosier colors to the Amateur Softball association's national tournament in Chicago next week-end.

Score Five in Fifth.

Bendix exploded with skyrocket hitting power in the fifth inning to drive home the runs the Cleaners Saturday night and came through with five runs, culminating from two home runs, a triple and two line drive singles. Behind the three-hit pitching of Ronny Kronenetter, this was sufficient and the Cleaners never threatened thereafter.

Kajzer, duplicating his feat of the previous night, touched off the winning Bendix rally with a single to left field. Richter followed with a single to center field. Crosser Saturday night and came through with five runs, culminating from two home runs, a triple and two line drive singles. Behind the three-hit pitching of Ronny Kronenetter, this was sufficient and the Cleaners never threatened thereafter.

Kajzer, duplicating his feat of the previous night, touched off the winning Bendix rally with a single to left field. Richter followed with a single to center field. Crosser and Gregory Jernstrom sent one of Ephraim's pitches to the far corner of right field for a home run that swept the bases. Ronny Kronenetter then connected for a three-ply swat and Rhinoxy Pritzel completed the rally of Ephraim's offerings into the second home run of the inning to bring the Bendix total to five. Zandstra relieved Ephraim at this point and retired the side without further damage.

Kronenetter struck out 14 Cleaner hitters and gave but three hits while the Brakemen found Ephram and Zandstra for eight hits.

Play Close Battle.

The Thysons and Kennedys of Evansville and Shelbyville respectively, unfolded another of those nip and tuck affairs as each put forth their best in an effort to reach the final heat and a crack at the state crown. Grimmer, on the slab for Shelbyville, and Pitzel, Evansville ace, pitched neck-and-neck ball, however, as Everett Barnes strode to the plate in the first of the sixth and blasted out a circuit clout for Shelbyville to tie the score.

Newman, Evansville catcher, took over the here role in the last of the regulation seven innings by drilling a single to center field and hit of the game a clothes line to left field. Taking third on a passed ball, Calwell teased the Kennedy backstop, Richeson, for a throw to third and when the pop went wild came racing home with the winning tally. Newman had previously fashioned a three-base hits off one of Zimmer's offerings.

SEEN and HEARD IN THE SPORT REALM

BY JACK LEUDEN,
Tribune Sports Editor.

TODAY'S COLUMN will be made up principally of contributions Joseph Petritz, Notre Dame's publicity chief, has come through with some very interesting data on the squad which will report to Elmer Layden Sept. 10. So we're off with Petritz for a hurried summary of some veteran material and new stars.

WHEN WILLIAM Shakespeare, Notre Dame left halfback is graduated next June, his place may be taken by William Foss, a freshman football prospect from Waynesburg, Pa. The Irish have plenty of other famous names on hand this fall. Bill Schwartz, Marchie's brother is a right end candidate. Emmett Crowe, all-state high school football and basketball star, is the seventh member of that family to enroll at Notre Dame. Fred Fromhart, brother of varsity quarterback Wally Fromhart, will be a member of the fresh team.

MARTY PETERS and Don Kiser, Notre Dame all-round athletic stars, are mutual protection for one another against outside invasion. Where one goes, the other goes. Both are six feet three inches tall. Kiser outweighs Peters by only 15 pounds—depending the scales to a mere 220 pounds. The popular idea of a big man chumming with a little man is dispelled in this Damon and Pythias relationship.

WAYNE MILLNER and Pat Thomas, Notre Dame varsity end candidates, and rivals, were born a day apart. Millner on Jan. 31, and Thomas on Feb. 1, 1914. Millner spent his summer driving a coke truck, while Thomas lugged ice to sweltering residents of Cincinnati.

KEN STILLEY, Notre Dame left tackle, went through grade school and high school in Chariton without missing a day of school. His father, incidentally, was the truant officer. Stilley was an all-state fullback in high school, and now he's a tackle w' varsity caliber.

AUGUST (Sunny) Church, smallest of the watch-chain guards on the 1935 Notre Dame football squad, weighs in at 154 pounds, exactly the same as Bert Metzger, 1934 all-American star. Church won a monogram last year and may duplicate Metzger's feats this year. He was very proud this summer of his prowess as a window trimmer, arranging the cabbages, oranges, beets, etc., in his father's grocery store.

THE SO-CALLED "dumb guards" have found their champion at Notre Dame. John Lautar, who will probably hold down the starting position this fall, has a 93 average in the college of engineering as a freshman, and came through almost as well in his sophomore year. He has a mild look, which belies the dynamite in his charge.

JOE RUTTZ, promising South Bend contender for a guard position on the Notre Dame varsity as a sophomore this fall, kept in shape during the summer climbing the Great Smoky mountains in Tennessee and North Carolina. He'd like to hoop up with an expedition to far away lands searching for museum materials.

THIRTEEN NOTRE Dame football candidates have birthdays in September, with Joe McMahon, varsity guard candidate, becoming 21 the day Notre Dame opens its season against Kansas, Sept. 28. Bill Shakespeare, varsity left halfback, becomes 22 on the eve of this game. Other birthdays are Stan Chanowicz, tackle, 20 on the 2nd; G. Haynes Bishop, tackle, 19 on the fourth; Glen Richardson, halfback, 20, and Orlando Scafati, halfback, 20 on the sixth; Dick Coffeete, tackle, 22 on the tenth; Jay Maxwell, halfback, 22 on the 14th; Ed Krachey, guard, 20 on the 25th; John Levitch, tackle, 22 on the 24th; Bob Derengoski, end, 19 on the 28th; Bill Benjamin (Butch) Bruno, quarterback, 22 on the 29th; John Mehuta, tackle, 22 on the 30th. Joe Boland, varsity line coach will be 31 on the seventh of the month.

WHILE JACK Robinson, all-American center of last year's team, will probably never be forgotten as long as Notre Dame football is remembered, two members of the 1935 team will do much to confuse the public regarding him. They are Robert Robertson, of Peru, Ind., and James Robinson, jr., of Hinsdale, Ill., both sophomore center candidates.

JOE KUHARICH, South Bend sophomore guard candidate at Notre Dame, contributed the greatest football thrill running 60 yards with an intercepted lateral

WEST ALLIS INITIAL FOE OF CENTRAL

Jones Uncertain as to Lineup; Start at 8 O'clock.

BY BOB OVERAKER,
Tribune Sports Writer.

A question which Central Senior High school football fans have working over and over in their minds the past several weeks will be answered next Friday night under the floodlights at Schoolcraft where the Bruins will open their 1935 season against West Allis, Wis. The initial kickoff is down for 8 o'clock.

That question is: "Will Coach Bob Jones win his first game as freshman of Central's fiery football flock?"

Naturally, no one person can answer that question. Only the gridiron results will be youngsters in Orange and Blue football garb when the former Indiana university star will call upon to battle the invading Badgers.

Lineup Is Uncertain.

Coach Jones, named as the successor to Elmer H. Burnham, who resigned last June r er 18 years of service at Central to accept the head freshmap football coaching post at Purdue this fall, has worked with the Bruin candidates for three weeks. Saturday night Coach Jones stated that he was far from uncertain as to how the starting lineup will read.

"There is much more work to be done," he said, "and it is not that we have accomplished a lot, especially during our camp period, but several positions are far from filled. Intensive drills are on the docket for each day until Thursday when we will taper off with a light signal drill that night."

In the Badger eleven, the Bruins will face a combination that is under the direction of a former Central star, Ralph Ellis, and Bob Cunningham, who, was his varsity spurs under former Coach Burnham in 1917 and 1918. West Allis, a suburb of metropolitan Milwaukee, has been coming right along in football the past several years. Games with Marquette University high, Catholic league champions of Milwaukee last fall, and North High, city league champions the same year, are on West Allis' chart this season, an indication as to the calibre of the Bruins' first foe.

Veterans in Backfield.

During the practice sessions three veteran backs have been getting the call regularly, and it seems highly improbable that they will be riding the bench when the battle gets underway. The trio includes Capt. Sammy Augustine, Ernie Rice and Marvin Kaczmarek. Capt. Augustine, revamped into a quarterback midseason last fall, is a speedy little fellow who, in the fall, write Rice, one of the earlier set high school backs in the state last fall, has been cutting his usual capers. Kaczmarek, a two-year veteran, has also been showing to an advantage and probably will be in the starting field Friday.

The fourth member of the starting backfield probably will be Duke Kuczmitz, who is serving his first season as a gridder. He has been working along with Rice, Kaczmarek and Augustine in the backfield, and seems to have caught the fancy of Coach Jones. Others mentioned as possible starters are Don Ellis, a cotton-thatched quarterback, and Charles Baillie, a fleet-footed ball lugger.

Coach Jones stated Saturday night that one of his chief worries is a center. At present, he said he is using Harry Badel, a strapping youngster, out for his first year of football. Coach Jones said he was working with several other candidates for the position and will make his choice not until early next week as to the starting snapper-back.

An oddity of the Bruin inaugural remains in the fact that the rival coaches are starting their first season as headmen of the respective eleven. Coach Jones will have one advantage over his rival mentor in that a stay ruling forbidding Cunningham from starting practice until Sept. 4. Thus the Badger coach will have had a little more practice behind them than their initial foemen.

Tickets for he Bruin opener will go on sale early next week at the high school and several stores in the business area. Places where durnts may be secured appears elsewhere in sports section.

BOSTON, Mass., Aug. 31. — George Earnshaw, right hand pitcher for the Brooklyn Dodgers, broke the little finger'on his right hand today when he stopped a terrific line drive.

The accident occurred in the second inning between the Braves and Dodgers. Leslie Mallon, third baseman for the Braves, hit the ball toward Earnshaw who knocked it down with his bare hand.

WOOD DEFEATS HALL BY RALLY

Favorites Advance in National Meet at Forest Hills.

By Associated Press.

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Aug. 31. — Form came dangerously close to taking a terrific beating in the second round of the men's national singles tennis championship today as Sidney Wood, Davis cup alternate and former Wimbledon championship, turned a seemingly inevitable defeat into victory and escaped upset elimination that marked the passage of two foreign stars.

Seven thousand spectators, more than half the capacity of the west side club's stadium, looked on in consternation as Wood, America's No. 2 star and seeded fourth, stood at the cross road of his career against J. Gilbert Hall, unseeded and ranked 12th nationally, in one of the most bitterly fought matches ever staged in this Long Island stronghold.

Wood's superior sholmanship and experience enabled him to pull out a five-set decision, 3-6, 3-6, 6-4, 6-4, 6-4.

Wood's uphill victory overshadowed the other developments of the day which saw 96 matches in the men's, women's and veterans' championship completed. The women's field was reduced to the last sixteen, with Alice Marble, one of the seeds, 32—the latter opening their annual championship this morning. The fate that Wood narrowly escaped fell to the lot of Christian Boussus, France's No. 1 and third seeded foreigner, and Kakeji Inoue, Andrews, of New Zealand, seeded seventh. The French lost to Robert Harrison, of Oakland, Calif., 6-4, 3-6, 7-5, 6-1, while Andrews' elimination was accounted for by Frank Parker, of Miami, Fla., 7-5, 3-6, 6-3, 6-4.

Fred J. Perry began defense of the crown he won in 1933 and again last year by trounning Arthur S. Fowler, of Pleasantville, N. Y., 6-3, 6-2, 6-1. His chief American rivals, Wilmer Allison, of Austin, Texas, and Don Budge, of Oakland, Calif., moved into the third round with him.

Budge turned in one of the cleanest wins of the day, defeating Ernest Sutter, Los Angeles, 6-1, 6-4, 6-1. While Allison won 6-2, 6-2, 6-1 from Tom Flynn, of Bayside, Long Island.

The other seeded Americans, Frank Shields, Riley Grant, Frankie Parker, Gregory Mangin, Johnny Van Ryn and Clifford Sutter made the grade along with them.

The completion of the second round in the women's division marks the end of "set ups" for the seeded women. Only one of the American ones survived today. Helen Jacobs, the defending champion, disposed of Norma Taubele, former indoor titlist, 6-1, 6-2, and Mrs. Sarah P. Palfrey downed Kay Winthrop, 6-2, 6-3.

CHICAGO, Aug. 31.—Vernon Kennedy, a gangling right-handed rookie from Missouri, became the baseball world's newest sensation today when he pitched the first no-hit, no-run game of the 1935 major league season and gave the Chicago White Sox a 5-0 victory over Cleveland.

To the 20-year-old rookie it was just another day's work as he mowed down the Indian's batters with only brief lapses of control.

He sent a sizzling assortment of curves, slow balls and darters across the plate, and then followed through with a brilliant performance at bat. He scored three of the White Sox's five runs when he drove out a screaming triple in the sixth to clear the bases.

VAN DER HEYDEN TO FIGHT HERE

Battlers Will Meet in Return Bout on Sept. 10.

Following much dickering and maneuvering, Jackie Sharkey, handsome Minneapolis, Minn., lightweight glove-tailor, will be brought back to South Bend Sept. 19 in order to settle a little dispute with George Van der Heyden.

The St. Joseph Valley Sports commission, headed by Frank Greenman has received Sharkey's signed statement that he will battle Van der Heyden in a 10-round return bout in the Armory outdoor arena on that date.

The first bout, held in the same arena slightly over a week ago, resulted in a widely disputed draw, the decision being rendered by Commissioner Albert Tellson after two referees that had everybody guessing.

MRS. VARE IS TITLE WINNER

Beats Miss Berg, 3-2 for Sixth Golf Crown.

By United Press.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Aug. 31.—Two straight birdies in the pinch gave Mrs. Glenna Collett Vare, of Philadelphia, her sixth national golf championship today.

She defeated Patty Jane Berg, of Minneapolis, golfer, 17-year-old prodigy of golf, 3 and 2 before 4,000 persons at the Interlachen Country club, largest crowd ever to follow a women's tournament.

The final match was a "natural" for Minneapolis with its popular little red-haired champion and the ace of the present crop of feminine amateurs fighting for the title.

It was the 14th time that Mrs. Vare has reached the final round. It was only the first appearance for Miss Berg.

But to see the youngster rally after being four down at the end of 27 holes, no one would have suspected that she was making her initial bid for the greatest feminine prize in golf.

Miss Berg was four down at the end of the first 18 holes and then held her opponent even for the next nine while they both played the 26th, 27th and 30th holes were halved.

Then Patty put on another of the rallies that enabled her to reach the finals. She won the 31st hole with par three against Mrs. Vare's four.

On the 32d J'ns Berg dropped in an 18-foot putt for a birdie four to win again, leaving her only two down with four to play. She came through with another birdie three on the 33d hole. Mrs. Vare matched that and Patty still was two down. The match ended on the 34d green when Mrs. Vare dropped in one putt for a birdie three while Miss Berg was shooting an even par.

Mrs. Vare's victory today added another chapter to one of the most illustrious names in golf. No other golfer, male or female, has won one major championship as many times as she.

She first came to the national in 1922, in her third attempt, and followed that up with a victory in 1925. She won again in 1928, 1929 and 1930 and was a finalist in 1931 and 1932. She stayed out of competition in 1933 but reached the semi-finals in 1934.
