Wheeling, W. Va., Feb. 8.—It is reported here that Charles R. Krueger has called off all preparations for the prosecution of the proposed injunction proceedings to enjoin the Perkins-Irwin faction of the Wheeling baseball club. It is also stated that Krueger has been given indirect assurances from the opposing faction that they will meet his overtures for peace half way by the declaring of the extra stock issue illegal, and will restore him to his old position as a member of the board of directors of the association.

The news that the baseball clash is about to be ended with everybody rejoicing, will be well received by local fandom, which looked askance at the troubles in the club and feared they would interfere with the club's proper mission of furnishing the town with a winning team.

Venable, who is wintering at his home in Washington City, states that he is greatly pleased that he is stated for a place among the Stogie regulars next season, and hopes that he will have position since the sale of Dolmen to Little Rock. # KLONDIKE MINER MUST GIVE HIS FORTUNE TO THE CHURCH

PETER ANDERSON'S GOLD MINE AND MILL.

The Tribune's Special Service.

Ashland, Kan., Feb. 9.—How would you like to be a millionaire? Hundreds hope and dream and scrimpe and save and get a fortune, then have to give it to the church? This is the plight of Peter Anderson, a young Swede of this county, who left his home here for the Klondike a prospector and came home a half millionaire.

Anderson, lived on a farm 12 years ago. He went to Chicago, became ill over his work and was advised by a friend to go to the Klondike. A twenty thousand dollar mine was offered him and an Alaska girl with fascinating food in her veins was also a patient. The latter induced him to go to Klondike when he recovered.

Anderson with four others, he inhored, found gold—lots of it. He resigned from the mining service and became a miner. His first year's returns were $50,000. The next year he (in fact) [illegible]

One of his companions became discouraged and sold a claim to Anderson for $45. Out of it was taken $10,[illegible]

Anderson came home worth half a million. He bought seventy of the best farms in this section, laid now worth $40,000. He gave a fine farm to his aged father and mother. Thinking $50 with which to go to Chicago, he took a $1,000 stock of goods on a credit. All his brothers and sisters were made well to do.

He married the pretty nurse in Chicago and spent the hospital buildings that cost a lot of money.

Then he went back to South Africa and bought a few diamond mines and to Missouri, where he bought zinc mines. All these mines are producing and he is retiring big dividends.

He is now in this section society and has been noticed that he is soon to go to the Klondike as a missionary he must give to it the fortune he found while there. It was arbitrated, and he was given a fine farm in Indiana, he has been noticed that he is a court of this county and in Illinois for $267,000. He never tried to go to Alaska and he decided to his relatives and to his wife in this country, the fortune for which he suffered greatly, should go to the church which gave the Klondike a chance. It was useless to can secure a change in the ruling he will have to give up much of the fortune for which he suffered greatly. The church will be the gainer. Anderson is 50. A Swedish college in central Kansas wanted help. He sent a check for $25,000 and this message: "Please let it be announced as coming from Alaska." It was weeks before it was known.

He likes to travel. He has been to Europe on a wedding trip, to South America and all over this continent. He avoids newspaper reporters and is difficult to find. He has never married. Neighbors say he has made fortune, giving away large sums each year, mostly to the institutions of the Swedish church.

ILLNESS IN SQUADS

PRACTICE AT NOTRE DAME GIVEN A HARD SET BACK.

SMITHSON IS OUT AGAIN

Fast Track Man Will Take Part in Work—M. A. C. to Come Next Saturday For First Meet.

Lagrippe has been prominent among the athletes at Notre Dame this week and coupled with injuries to several of the men has given the practice, which for a time went along entirely in the big gym, a hard setback. The baseball squad has suffered a loss in the accident in which Catcher Scanlon broke his leg and the illness of Perce, last year's pitcher, and Shortstop McKeon. They have been in the infirmary all the week.

Coach Craigie has put the men out every day, however, and the squad put in some good practice during the week. Yesterday Scanlon, brother of the catcher and candidate for pitcher, captained a team which defeated that led by Walker 4 to 2 in an exciting game.

Raymond Scanlon's broken leg is now in a plaster cast and is said to be mending as rapidly as anyone could expect. He will probably be out for practice in a week. Perce and McKeon will also be in shape to resume the drill under Coach Craigie's eye next week.

Smithson Out Again.

Smithson, the star track man, is able to be out again after being laid up for a week with a sprained ankle. He will begin hard practice, if he is permitted by the doctors, next week, and will be in shape for the meet with the M. A. C. team Saturday. The injury to the Kansas sophomore star is not so bad as the baseball squad's, but Smithson suffered with lagrippe during the last week in addition to his sprained ankle.

Smithson is a fast man at this time in the half-mile and should give a good account of himself in the meet with the Aggies Saturday. Wood has been getting the shot 35 feet right along this week, and will be ready to show the Lansing boys something when they come here next week. Other track candidates for track honor in position, Scales, Graham and Casper have been doing good work in practice this week.

THAW FEARED WHITE.

by Assemblyman J. F. Hughes, of Mexeville.

The revelations of the Thaw murder trial are one of the things that caused Mr. Hughes to introduce his bill. "The trouble that developed into the Thaw tragedy, and the publication of the sanitary stinkard chorus on a theatrical stage," said Mr. Hughes last night. "The first time Stanford White saw Evelyn Nesbit Thaw was in this chorus. If his attention had not been had not been drawn to that night it is probable that he would never have made her, as on trial for killing him. This is only one of many instances that might be cited of the tragedies that have had their beginning with the chorus girls allurring attire."

Chattanooga, Tenn., Feb. 9.—Under the leadership of the Woman's Christian Temperance union, the women of Chattanooga are up in arms over the Thaw case and have asked the editors of Harry K.
