Eddie Zimmer Defeats Paul Shaffer in Finals for State Golf Championship

RAIN IS FACTOR IN DEFEAT OF SANDERS IN SEMI-FINAL PLAY

Zimmer Winner, 2 and 1—Sanders' Long Hitting Is Feature of Meet.

FRENCH LICK, Ind., Aug. 19.—Edward Zimmer of Indianapolis won the state golf championship here today by defeating Paul Shaffer, Indianapolis, in a 36 hole match, two up and one to go.

Zimmer won in the final nine holes because he was steadier in the pinches. A dropped shot on number 10, and an approach which went out of bounds on the 32nd hole that appeared to the defeat of Shaffer, Shaffer then proceeded to take the 33rd hole with a birdie, after both drove into the trees. Shaffer made what appeared to be a wonderful recovery but the sloping green carried the ball into the trap on the other side. Zimmer won this hole, becoming two up with only two to go. The 34th was halved, giving Zimmer the match and the championship.

This is the second time Zimmer has won the state golf championship, he won it in 1911. Last year he won the Indianapolis city championship.

The match was fought with determination, the first nine holes ending with the score even. On the second nine however, Zimmer got three holes in front and had what seemed to be a comfortable lead when the afternoon round started. Shaffer then began to hit his stride and was even even at the 17th hole.

There is a general belief at French Lick that the rain in the semi-finals put Dan Sanders out of the running this year the same as it did last year when he had Johnny Simpson beaten at Chain O'Lakes when the storm broke and he lost out.

At the eighteenth hole in the semi-finals Sanders had Zimmer 1 up and was going strong when they took time off for tomb.

Eddie and Dan took a long rest and it did Eddie good. He won the first hole in the afternoon with a par 4 and the second in the same by planting his approach right up to the pin. Dan here missed putts and halved. They were square when they came to the third green. Then came the rain.

Eddie got under the umbrella he was carrying and stepped from under it long enough to lay his approach putt within the tension distance. Dan was eight feet and needed it for a half. He addressed the ball, and before he hit it, the blizzard arrived. Away went Eddie's umbrella. The water fairly thundered down on the golfers and for the next eight the contestants the rain caused a green keeper's tool house for shelter and right in this little shed Dan Sanders lost to Eddie Zimmer.

The Toothpick Talk

There were several workmen around and the two players sat on a bench and each smoked his pipe. The discussion somehow or other got back to last year's final at South Bend between the same two players, ten dollars two at the thirty-fifth tee and lost the match in forty holes when water fairly poured out of the sky. There was a lull in the conversation and some one looked down to the two players and those and heard this question asked:

"What will you do to your game?"

"Nothing," answered Dan. "I won't hope to do any thing. Dan?"

"I was just going to answer, 'My game's gone too. Do you remember last year at South Bend?"

Of course there are those who will say that this was only an incident in the terrible beaning, but perhaps there are those who won't. And to those in the former group, be it known that this boy from South Bend was not the same golfer on the 36th of the afternoon, eighteen and halved only three.

That is the story of what happened to Sanders, and as he came up on the hill at the eighth fairway after a beautiful drive, he whispered to one of his friends that he was tuckered. His shot from there was an iron shot something Dan Sanders felt he didn't have. The ball on a wet lie, with a wet club, was a difficult shot and he was beaten. He was a dormie then, and halved the next two holes.

He was still four down when he took the twelfth hole and made it 5 to the hall. Zimmer was cracking and on the 195-yard par 3 hole, the Southbender reached the green in 3 and was 11 with a birdie 4.

The Climax

On No. 15 Zimmer was a little off on his second shot and Sanders had Dan tend his ball and let fly but he held back too much. He found the rough in front of the green. Eddie shot high into the air. Up to the top of the trajectory went another one and down they followed. Eddie was on to pitch, and stuck.

Dan, still puffing at his pipe, stepped down into the sand, glanced at the ball and stuck at the ball. It didn't take him long to do that. The snappy little finalist who came so close to a title in 1921 raised the club that had failed him in his most trying moment and was about to smash a maddened stroke at the jealous ball when something stopped him and he held firm. Then he tried again and just barely got out of the sand into the green, seven yards from the pin.

Eddie was away, but not for long. His approach putt, carrying him about three feet from the cup. Dan tried to hole out and missed by inches.

The son that had been hiding for hours burst through and a gorgeous rainbow rose over the clubhouse as Sanders picked up the master Eddie's ball and shook hands, congratulating the conqueror. Youth and Fight had won over the semi-finals riches of this meet to Age and Experience.

Studebaker Nine Ties Cutters For League Leaders

Plant 1 Nine Defeats Lathe Works While Cutters Lose to Dodges.

By defeating the South Bend Lathe Works team by the score of 16 to 5 the Studebaker Plant 1 nine went into a tie for first place in the Industrial baseball league with the Cutters who lost to the Dodges game 4 to 4 defeat at the hands of the Dodge team in Mishawaka. The game was played on the Lepper park diamond.

The Studebaker aggregation took an early lead and piled up a score that the Lathe aggregation was unable to overcome. They scored three times in the opening round on wild base hits and errors, but the Lathe team came back and tied the score in their half. However, the Plant 1 team scored twice in the second and third and the Lathe team was unable to stand the pace.

One of the outstanding features of the game was the all-around playing of Ken White, the Lathe Works shortstopper. The youngster fielded in great style and contributed four runs on triples and a double in four trips to the plate.

Kirsch pitched good ball for the winners and though touched up for 12 blows kept them well scattered. Gruber behind the bat also went good and his bat hit timely.

Score by innings:

Plant 1 ..... 021 0—4 11 1
Lathe Works ..... 110 001 0— 5 12 6

Kirsch and Gruber; Kanz and Grabowski.

Cutters Lose

The Dodge team of Mishawaka managed to slip over a 5 to 4 victory on the league leaders Cutters yesterday afternoon in eleven innings, which resulted in giving the Cutters in a tie for first place with the Studebaker Plant 1 team. With a victory the Cutters would have another game in the lead. Today's game finished the league's regular schedule.

The Cutters should have won the game as Stanley pitched good ball. But his support crowded in a couple of spots and the hosts proved costly.

The game was a battle all the way through and the Dodge aggregation put up the best exhibition they have shown throughout the entire schedule.

The Studebaker team and the Cutters will play a game at the latter's park on Sunday. It is expected a special park will be selected to play the game in. Stanley and Beals were the battteries yesterday for the Cutters while Hendricks and Morse were on the points for the winners.

Iowa Extends Stands for Coming Football Season; Seat 42,000

IOWA CITY, Iowa, Aug. 19—Completing of the 8 ft. extension to the football stands at Iowa field which will increase have a seating capacity of 42,000, gives the University of Iowa a stadium which at present can accommodate 23,000 for a gridiron battle on a rainy day.

Alumni and former students of Iowa, returning for the homecoming game, scheduled with the University of Minnesota on Armistice day November 11, will be greeted by a new style of stands, built of steel and conceived by an Iowa professor, B. J. Lambert, of the college of engineering. Prof. Lambert is chairman of the university board in control of athletics.

When it was found that the old concrete stands would be much too small to accommodate the increasingly large crowds attending Big Ten football games here, an athletic board turned to Prof. Lambert. After considerable study he decided steel ties could be erected behind the old stands on either side of the field, at considerable less cost than concrete stands.

I. A. C. TEAM TAKES HONORS IN ANNUAL MEET IN DETROIT

Jones of I. A. C. Furnishes Thrills in Dashes—Beats Murchison Twice.

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 19.—Displaying an array of athletes who rank among leaders of the country the Illinois Athletic club today defeated all opponents in the annual Central A. A. U. senior and junior championships here Saturday staged under the auspices of the Detroit News.

The Illinois club went into the lead at the start of the meet and maintained the lead throughout the meet was concluded. Twice first places were captured by the local winner, which scored a total of 108 points. Illinois neatest rival was the Detroit Young men's order which gathered 11 points. Detroit Y. M. C. A. was third with 7.

Four Central A. A. U. records were shattered, all of them by athletes wearing the colors of the I. A. C.

Although two of the stars, marks made an equal number of points, Harold A. Jones of the Illinois club provided the greatest thrills of the day's contests. Twice he defeated Loren Murchison, his team mate and widely known sprinter, in dashes, one for a distance record. Jones took the 100 yard dash from Murchison almost at the tape, cutting in front of the latter at the finish. Jones also took the 220 yard dash, beating out Murchison by about 15-4 2-5 of a second finishing ahead the former central A. A. U. record, made by R. Simmons, C. A. A. Aug. 21, 1907.

Kirk W. Anderson clipped one-tenth of a second from the 220 yard low hurdle record, cutting it to 24.5 seconds. The former record was held by C. A. Carey of Chicago A. A. who made in 1921.

Jones also threw the 56 pound weight over 3-1-2 inches. The former record was 32.11, made by Hammond of the Chicago A. A. in 1921.

Howard H. Hoffman, former University of Michigan star, now under I. A. C colors turned the javelin 174 feet, 2 inches. The former mark was 171 feet, 4 inches, established by Brede of the I. A. C. Chicago A. A. in 1921.

Hoffman was the only I. A. C. man, the five mile race. Jack W. Ray, won the mile run in 125 yards without double exertion. Thomas Campbell, Yale star, won the half mile.

Harold M. coburn, Shamahan and Jones, were the high point scorers of the meet, each winning 10 points.

YOUNG TENNIS STAR FALLS BEFORE MRS. MALLORY IN FINALS

Experience of Veteran Too Much for 16-Year-Old California Girl.

WESTSIDE CLUB, Forest Hills, N. Y., Aug. 19.—The issue of perhaps the minutes Saturday Miss Helen Wills, San Francisco, stood within an even chance of being the mass tennis champion of the nation via the average time large for her 16 years. She failed in the quest.

Miss Wills did become a doubles champion, but this was due more to Mrs. Marion Jessup of Wilmington, Del., than to herself. Aside from the glare of the personalities in the singles, the doubles match was the most interesting of the two. Mrs. Jessup and Miss Wills defeated the Philadelphia pair from Miss Mallory and Miss Edith Sigourney 6-4, 6-4, 6-3.

Mrs. Jessup, short and slight, here is the winner of the match and though she made an astounding total of errors for a winner her play in exchanges that were finished by Miss Wills was amazing.

She was the crowd's heroine and when she finished the match in a sharp exchange with Mrs. Mallory there was a wonderful ovation and cheering. Mrs. Jessup and Miss Wills threw away the second set after being within match point.

To see just how good a tennis player she is Miss Wills must go to the east. Having become too superior for others of her age she went among the mature stars and before she was one fair sample of what she had fought her way through a long line of older contenders and was standing at the doorway—challenging the women who for years looked the racquet that symbolized the tennis crown of the queen of Amateur tennis.

SACKETT TROPHY IS WON BY ERNEST UHL

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 19.—Ernest Uhl, the middle Atlantic 220 yard free style champion, swimming unattached was the twenty-eighth annual one hundred yards free style race for the William P. Sackett cup, which was held by the Philadelphia Swimming club today. The straight away course left each club house wharf at Mission-on-the-Schuylkill. Secondly Ed Burke, of the Wilmington Y. M. C. A. was a close second with Al Bowman, of the Boys' Hygiea swimming club, Atlantic City, an equally close third. The winner's time was 61 1-5 seconds.

The Sacket cup is the oldest sectional swimming trophy. It was originated by Mr. Sackett, a New York sportsman in the interest of swimming. This is a 18 year old trophy and is winning form.

High Priced

EARL ADAMS

Two pitchers, an outfielder and $18,000 cash is what the Chicago Cubs management paid for little Earl "Oil-Can" Adams, shortstop for Wichita Falls in the Texas League.

Outfielder Art Weiss and Pitchers Keefe and Freeman were sent to the Wichita Falls club as soon as the deal was closed. So was the $18,000 cash.

Adams, however, will not report to the Cubs until the opening of the 1923 season.

Adams was purchased from the St. Louis Cardinals shortly after the 1921 regular season opened. Since then he has been loaned out. He's 5 feet 8 inches tall, he weighs 165 pounds and his fielding speed on the defensive as well as his effective stick work have attracted the attention of many or the big league scouts.

Up to and including Aug. 5 the Texas League official statistics on Adams are as follows:

AB. 410; R. 85; H. 146; TB. 204; 2B. 29; 3B. 7; HR. 3; SH. 14; SB. 10; BB. 31; SO. 17; DP. 17; PO. 14; BA. 356.

At the same time Adams was fielding for an average of .941. He erred in the field and his end for double plays was for nine his nickname of "Oil-Can."

NEW YORK—Resignation of Tom O'Rourke as deputy boxing commissioner will be presented at a meeting of the commission today, it is learned. O'Rourke recently was appointed to the position by Mr. Sackett, a New York sportsman in the interest of swimming. This is a 18 year old trophy and is winning form.

Duty done is the foundation of success as well as the right to take a bow in Brooklyn.

This Youngster Shows Plenty of Stuff for Stripling Breaking In Marty McManus, Brown's Second Sacker, Is Sand-Lot Tosser Whose Great Hitting and Fielding Has Been One of Features of Club's Race for Pennant.

CHICAGO, Aug. 19.—Martin J. McManus, now two-bagging it for the St. Louis Browns is another one of those sandlot meteors which every now and then flash out across the sky of sportdom.

Marty's career has been after the somersault in the Windy City behind the stockyards at the early age of 16 when he was playing with a neighborhood team of youngsters known as the "Athletics."

Today, at 21, he is making great time in the big league piling up an average .315 batting average, which is going some for a stripling," as Cottonwood would say vernacular in speaking of him.

Had Hard Sledding.

Marty's father died when Marty was quite young. For a long time the family had a struggle of it. But Marty was a hustler and he saw to it that Marty doing odd jobs around the neighborhood, carrying water for workmen, etc. Little white-haired mother is contented comfortably in a cozy West Side flat with a photograph and everything.

And a tired little mother proud of her lad! You should hear her talk about him.

"He was just wild about baseball, even as a tiny tot," she says.

"I remember one day after he had been released up for the second time, he came home and said: 'Ma, some day I'm going to be with the big guys.' Just look at my batting arm. I'll make things ready for you some day, mother.' And he's been doing that too just as he promised.

Joined the Pros.

At 17 Marty came out with the Tulsa team of the Western League and had his first professional write up.

He had drifted around Chicago long enough, as he thought, and was with the semi-pro managers were anxious to be having anything. To them Marty was an excellent second baseman. No, his charging was a dispute.

Marty joined the Browns in 1921 as a rookie. Since then he has been playing unquestionably good ball. All the old gang back in Chicago watch his every movement on the diamond, as reported by the press with eager interest.

When Marty makes a play worthy of mention he is sent back to the minors in the parks.

And Chicago is mourning that it was not also who placed the laurel on his head.

SINGERS TO PLAY FAIRBANKS-MORSE NINE HERE TODAY

Joe Baker Out of Singer Line-up—Henning and Hanson in Slab Duel.

The South Bend Singer baseball team will meet the Fairbanks-Morse team this afternoon at Riverside park in the third game of the series minus the services of Joe Baker, star catcher, who is out of the game with a strained back.

This will be a big holiday for the Singer people, everyone on Baker-Hunt ball club will be out to see the south Bendenville former Notre Dame catcher was signed to play Sunday, but a former agreement with the management of the Mishawaka team made it impossible for him to play here. The Singer management last night secured the services of one of the Logan Square catchers of the Chicago Mid-Week league to fill Baker's shoes.

The game will be a close shooting for much of the game, games that this is still a close game of shooting through today's battle with a win if Henning turns his usual bottles game.

Henning held the "Fairies" in check in their last appearance here and slipped over a 1 to 0 ten inning victory. This was the fastest and most spectacular battle of the season and provoked both teams throw the same brand of ball today. Henning is the Singer's ace hurler. Roy Hansen, former Washington and White Sox pitcher, will be on the mound for the "Fairies" and is pretty certain to give the Singer batters a lot of trouble. Hansen hurled a good exhibition in the last game here, but Henning had the slight edge, which was enough to win. The rest of the series will take the field in their usual place, Hansen will be the Fairies pitcher and will be in center field for the "Fairies" this afternoon.

FRENCH TEAM WINS OVER AMERICANS

Cochet and Niles Stage Great Rally and Defeat Williams and Washburn.

CARNO, Newport, R. I., Aug. 19.—The defeat entered by Henri Cochet and Vincent Richards in their within a point of scoring a straight set victory over the Kinsey brothers of California, in the semi-final of the Casino doubles play yesterday had a surprising sequel in the final match Saturday. The team all but beaten, making the most of the eleventh hour of life which Cochet's call to military service in France and another Frenchman, Jean Borotra, a former champion, left Williams, II, and W. N. Washburn, and rapped out a five set win, the score were 6-2, 4-3, 4-2, 2-6, 6-3.

Defeat of the Williams-Washburn team in the past decade since it grew out of playing partnership on Harvard college course has been rare. Their defeat yesterday was marked by the Davis cup play for which each representatives in several years, almost invariably with success. It has been a champion combination in those and other years.

COLUMBUS, O., Aug. 19.—Hitting offerings of J. Johnson and Boggs in all corners of the ball Milwaukee defeated Columbus here today, winning Saturday's game 10 to 2. Northrop while the only Columbus pitcher to show effectiveness, Shauck pitched great ball for the visitors except in the fourth, when the Senators bunched three of their six hits. Score:

Milwaukee	000 241 003—10	16	1
Columbus	000 200 000— 2	6	3

Schauck and Mueller; Gleason, Rogge, Northrop and Sarles.

Adelaine Hanco has filed suit for divorce against Theodore Hanco, cruel and inhuman treatment being alleged as the grounds for the action. The couple was married March 12, 1921, and separated in April, 1922. The plaintiff also seeks the restoration of her maiden name, Adelaine O'Brien.
