WIN GOOD-BYE GAME

PATRICK LINDSAY OFFICIATES AT LAST OBSEQUIES.

ALMOST A CROWD AT GAME

Over 700 People Turn Out to See Final Contest—Kelly Reps Circuit Drive —Home Twirler Fans Nine.

It was an revoir (might say "what-ever that is" here, if it wasn't a bromide) in the Central league yesterday and the Tots and Tommies were the opposition in the fag end doings which occurred at Springfield. The game was worthy of the season so far as the contestants have been concerned and was probably the worst you ever saw. For the information of those who were not there, and there were several, it may be stated here that Storrops Passengers closed their glorious journey by pronging the Sammonites. The score indicates how hard fought and close a contest it was: 8 to 5.

Cameron Donald had the nerve, i. e., the neck, to use his youngest and least influential bend shooter against the lads who would have fattened average on anybody yesterday. The name of this full guy goes and probably is yet Gildewell. The school census shows that he still performs first reader stunts in the third grade and eats from a high chair. Your mammy knows, night bells to records, it would soon, if it knew that he pitched.

Now for the never-nevers none other than Patrick Lindsay, the third member of the local staff, was used to fool the Tots and make the stringh gentlemen think that the game was chuck-full of the mean fodders, too. He caused nine of the struggling Highlanders to choke on the wind and cost counting the one heat in which they took an active part in the game, and then he is apologizing to him for stepping up to bat.

It was a different story with Young Mr. Gildewell. He was cloated good and plenty in two innings, and in one he was allowed to make a target and was enough to take his goat right at the jump.

Bush Makes Last Hit.

Mr. Bush led off, as usual, and his blow was the finishing one hit by a local player. Owens opened the season for Springfield and closed it. He was for honest during the interim, too, and here's hoping he'll make good with the big people. There's no doubt that he will, for he looks like the best short that ever expectorated in a scrapper.

There was somethat of a scrapper, too, and there was for the first time in several moons, the large number of 775 paying admission to see the finale. There was among the crowd the same old once-a-month-fans, who are full of goodness and who don't care whether the people or otherwise on the work of the men. It was nice to see so many of you present, though. Seven hundreds have been seldom this year.

The end Patrick Tiernan, who up to the last game had punched out 99 bingles, to round out the century, Heinie and Lindsay were the only ones who didn't get a hit. It is the first time that Tiernan has been in the first nine without a hit, but he took his colar home in a collision and was out several weeks.

Other people did plenteous bingling. B. R. Kelly, whose first name remains an unknown quantity, hit two times and Bush and he added three marks to the list of his hits. One of these was a round trip slough.

Fourth of July Opening.

The contest opened promiscuously. Bush batted from the sunrise side of the plate for the second time and hit to the pitcher. Bush was not a hard hitter, and he was a slick wheeler and hated a bull-pen. Bush was the only one for three inches. This event, which was loudly proclaimed by the populace, was followed by William Minoy's jab between the drawn infielders for a cincyr, and Minoy was left on the bag. Owens Jave issued for a hunt which he beat out and Benjamin, the big one, did the same. The young south wing, had therefore a tenant in each of the villas, and Bush was anxious to get home. Catching Mahony asleep on third, Coffey, who was worried off a double steal here, which was neat and fancy, and when Butch lost the ball on his peg to second Edward came one in. He took third and when Kelly lined on his shoulder and Benjamin left Heinie's fling way, on the feed when Wheeler grabbed it and George touched B. R. ending the round and making a double play all by his lonesome.

The Springfield team was soft in the first but took a big lead in the second, mainly through the intensely poor support Harry L. received, though he opened the way himself. All the cute stuff was not on the Springfield side of the ledger distributed. The first one was the first batter, Mr. Roman. After he had died a miserable death, trying to make an impression on the breezes Lindsay grew kind hearted and Wheeler was and walked Dahoen and Moore. Moore was a mistake, and he left the first runners tallied and then Gildewell was fanned. Wheeler rimmed to right, where Mr. David Martin was stationed, and David let the hopping sphere slide through his legs and as soon as his chirpy horse would permit but by that time Butch and Goodie had crossed the pentagon and Wheeler was on him to third. Aggie reinyed the peg in an effort to get Wheeler and allowed to drift away and Wheeler timed. That made the count five to three and the five was the skipping Tots were given.

All With the Umpire.

Patrick held them in the hollow of his large Celtic paw the rest of the way except in the sixth when he dug out a single and Mahony, who seemed desirous enough to stay the whole game into and lose the chance for the flag, (Dream.) It was only by superb fielding on his own part and the fact that Piggy Minor, who was batting for him, wasn't due for his monthly hit that Mahony escaped. Mahony, who was suffering from a chill was the first hitter and he shot one to Aggie that Aggie couldn't control. Aggie Dahoen banged one at Owens which the little Jave fumbled and Mahony was safe on play but which ruled away from him and both were safe. Moony and Freese both hit to Pat in succession and Pat forced the runners at third in each instance and Mahony scored on Freese's nogging. Goodness was walked, filling the sacks but the peerless twirler was pock and for Patrick and went out on three.

The gang we have boosted all summer on the final genie in the half of the third. Mahoney's drive was too fast for Hadley and Gildewell threw the pellet into the casino on Coffey's attempted suicide, letting Biffy over with one. Hadley took third and after Mahoney had stolen second Gildewell let the curve and stunned it to short for a fate. Coffey scoring. Tiernan's hard nap was fielded to first by Wheeler in time to get the German, but Kelly took second and Grant's safe music scored Ben with the winning run.

Minor succeeded Gildewell in the fourth and did well for two innings, but in the sixth Grant singled, went all the way to third when Martin hit Kelly on the ear with a pitched ball, Kelly was thrown on Beaver's hit, Kelly in the seventh met a shoot in the abdomen and fumbled it to the left fans for the circuit, making the last tally.

TOTS WIN FENALTY.

Brooks Holds Locals to Four Hits and Takes Game 3 to 1.

The Tots won the penalt game from the local minnows the final coast beating 3 to 1. Mike Brooks, who has been making himself awfully good this year, was on the slab for the visitors and allowed the home gang not four enough hits, some of which went beyond the corporal limits of the diamond. Williams was touched for six but was poorly supported.

A walk to Wheeler, Roman's triple and Donald's single gave the Tots two in the first and though the home bunch scored one in the fifth it was all they could get. Kelly hit to Cameron and Don threw to first where nobody was. Kel was safe on the play and Thoman's out gave him the second sack. Kelly scored when Grant singled.

The other people covered this top in their half. Goodness singled, took second on Mike's muddle, and went to third on Beaver's hit. Beaver, who by was walked filling the sacks. Benjamin hit to Evans, who made a dandy stop. Lindsay was able to only frighten of the bunch and Goodie tallied. The score:

SEASON A GOOD ONE

FINANCIALLY THE LEAGUE DOES WELL, IS BELIEVED.

Some Losses but Gains in Other Quarters—Official Standing is Given Out.

The Central league season, which closed with the games played yesterday, is thought to have been more successful in a financial way than any preceding season in spite of the bad weather which prevailed in the early part. No figures are available at this time but the game is by a person who is pretty well informed.

What the paid attendance figures were have not come to headquarters yet but while some of the cities in the league fell off in crowds others did better and it is thought that several made up the deficit. It is stated on the strength that the Grand Rapids club which completes monthly of Phillip Arnold, cleared up a little in the season, for the double that saw the games in the Michigan town, while not as great as other years, was large enough to offset the loss of the Canton gate drew on the road. Coffey Hadley, who was leading at seven, Evansville to have lost a little. Canton, Springfield and Wheeling to have made money. Terre Haute, Chinks and South to have somewhat more than enough needed to pay expenses and put by a comfortable balance; Dayton to have lost a little and Canton and Canton club to have been the greatest loser.

There is nothing definite in these figures and until the official attendance figures all come in it will not be known just how the money matters are, and even then the expenses of Canton will not be known, for it has not been ordained as that the top financial state will not be known. The race was a close one from the early part of the season, however, and the attendance was good in Canton and Springfield in most of the games played there.

Artistically the season was a success, though from a local standpoint it may not be so good as it might have was so close. In the last six weeks of the season there might be anybody at the top at the time the race was on, and when the Canton and Springfield Babes, were at the top of the heap they were within a few games of the top.

Following is the official standing given out to-day by Secretary Robert Schmulbach of the league:

Springfield	102	58	.637
Canton	102	58	.637
Canton	102	58	.637
Wheeling	102	58	.637
Terre Haute	102	58	.637
Chinks	102	58	.637
Evansville	102	58	.637
Grand Rapids	102	58	.637
Dayton	102	58	.637
South Bend	102	58	.637

The curious part of the standing is that Canton and Springfield played an extra game. It is unlikely that such a thing will ever happen again, the chances are that one of the managers will be known about it. It is hinted that perhaps it was Hadley Moore, who might have seen the chance for an easy game and some extra coin, but when he had the opportunity he took advantage of it.

CAN YOU WALK ONE THOUSAND MILES IN ONE THOUSAND HOURS

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 16.— Do you think you could walk 1,000 miles in 1,000 hours?

Easy?

Well, you think so, but maybe it isn't such a cinch. Remember you have to walk 1 mile every hour for 24 hours of every day until the 1,000 miles are called off.

It has been done, and it even better than that, by one who is hard core. Now, this person is not a professional pedestrian, who still holds numerous long distance records, is trying it in this city.

He is walking at Norwood Inn, over the racing track, starting each mile at the beginning of every hour. This allows him from 45 to 50 minutes between miles, which he employs obtaining rest.

Incidentally, he is doing it upon an hospital bed upon the aged and afflicted. Every mile he is enabled, in his anticipated science will be benefited and that is the hope he is striving to learn the effect of fatigue upon the human body.

Should he succeed in the difficult task, O'Leary will get $1,000. Should he fail he will get nothing. But in the need athlete there is nothing that stands in the way of his attempt. Twenty-four hours and twenty-four days are spent in his pocket.

Taking the world's records, holds the 100-mile mark of 19 hours, 53 minutes and 48 seconds, made at Chicago in 1878.

The nearest to this feats similar to the Dan O'Leary's, have been failures, but in no case was the performer near the age of the old Dan.

William Gale walked 1,500 miles in 1,500 hours (twenty-four days, twenty-four hours) and 1,000 miles in 1,000 hours, England, Aug. 24-Oct. 4, 1877.

E. P. Weston, attempting to walk 2,000 miles in 2,000 hours (twenty-one days) walked 1,671 miles consecutive hours, stopped, then resumed and walked 1,000 miles in 1,000 hours, starting Jan. 12, 1878.

William Gale walked 5,250 miles in 525 consecutive hours, walking 1,000 yards every 15 minutes, or 24 miles every hour, at Brentford, Eng., starting Nov. 17, 1877.

William Gale walked 4,000 quarter miles in 4,000 consecutive periods of 10 minutes each, at London, Oct. 26 to Nov. 17, 1877.

EXPECT CROWD AT KAZOO.

Races to Begin To-morrow—Dan Patch to Beat His Own Mark.

The Tribune's Special Service.

Kalamazoo, Mich., Sept. 16.—The big fall meeting here opens here to-morrow promises to be one of the fastest and best attended ever held in the state. Crowds will be in attendance, as it is stated from every city in southern Michigan and northern Indiana. The feature of the meet will be the attempt of Dan Patch, the champion pacer, to beat his own mark Wednesday.

He is to beat his time of 2:08 that Dan Patch comes to Kalamazoo. That it will be a great undertaking goes without saying. But Mr. Stamp predicts that the feat will be made possible. It is to be hoped that the Westerman will be kind for the track at Recreation park has been worked to the limit and the management has spared no pains in advertising the event. There will be nothing about the tracks to prevent a wonderful performance.

It is practically certain that a great crowd will see this pile and the management has secured a portable grandstand which will seat 2,000 people, giving in all seats for 10,000 people.

Secretary Englemen has prepared a programme of 14 events for $11,000 in purses and the entry lists closed Sept. 1. The programme is a long one, and the big fields of horses will prevail during the meeting, thus insuring spirited contests. The 2:12 pacing purse $2,000, with 29 entries; the 2:20 trot, purse $1,000, with 31 entries; the 2:12 trot, purse $1,000, with 22 entries; the 2:20 pace, purse $1,000, with 32 entries, each on separate days, and some idea of the class of harness racing that will be seen in Kalamazoo during the four days of the meet.

LOCAL CLUB TO MEET.

Affairs of Season to be Discussed at Association Session.

The local association will probably hold a meeting in the next week or two and discuss the business and of the past season. It is known that the club is a heavy loser and that one or two of the directors probably have the brunt of the expense and staked the club to the necessary money to pay the debts.

It is rumored that the directors who have been connected with the club are needed with the intention of trying to make up the deficit and in case the other stockholders would rather give up their holdings and turn the franchise over to the local association that an agreement may be made on that basis.

The visit of Louis Heinie earlier yesterday is said to have been fraught with interest to local fans, for it is hinted he made an offer for the franchise of the local club. Heinie is said to be willing to put up enough money, how great a sum is only to be guessed at, so long as he gets the franchise, but Louis has a reputation of traveling around with four dummies and a system of bluffing.

Changes in the management are also in the air among the fans but Secretary E. D. Doran said to-day that nothing definite could be given out until the meeting of the directors and association.

A prominent baseball man said to-day that there was too much gameness in the local club to let the franchise go unless the offer for it is an unusually good one. He said he understood that his belief is the other league members would not be willing to drop South Bend unless they were assured that the city to succeed this would be in a position to make the game pay as a good backer-town and with a winning team will turn out crowds enough to support it.

EVANS IN BAD SHAPE.

Umpire Injured by Fan Will Not Officiate Again.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 16.—Umpire "Billy" Evans, the American league umpire who was struck on the head with a soda water bottle during the second game yesterday between the St. Louis and Detroit teams will not officiate in the remainder of the series, the highest of the season, his physician said to-day.

Lasque Pads and Buckeyes in Contest Closing With Dispute.

The second attempt of the Buckeyes and Lasque Parks to pull off a game resulted the same as the first and the contest was broken up by a dispute in the fifth inning. A dispute over the ball started the trouble. It was foul or fair ended the game. The Parks claimed a single when Cogen rammed out was behind the line and Cogen was out or forfeited the game to the Buckeyes.
