JOHN H. MYERS PITCHES TO VICTORY IN GREAT GAME

GREAT TILT IS WON BY BENDER KNIGHTS

MYERS IN SUPERB EXHIBITION; SCORE 1-5.

PLAY IS SENSATIONAL

Second Game With Zanesville Results in Series of Fine Bits of Baseball—Schmick Hits Thrice

When the second tilt of the four days' jousting in ye lists at Springbrook park ended on ladies' day, again were ye Bronchos victorious. With him of that beloved name, John Henry Myers, twirling superb ball, Ed Smith's steeds yesterday romped home with a 1 to 5 victory over the Zanesville Athletics, after eight and one-half innings of the prettiest play seen on the local lot in many moons.

Flashy fielding, clever baserunning and a superlative brand of mound slinging by both Myers and Johnny Jones, he of most ball fame, both sides furnished a specimen of baseball of exceptionally high class so early in the season. Both fingers were in their element with men on the sacks, with John Henry pulling out of the rut every other inning by grand pitching and gilt edged support of his teammates.

Sensational stops were very much in evidence, not the least of which was a stab of a drive off Hillinger's bat by Wetzel in the first, when Buss completed a double play unassisted by throwing to Ed Smith, who had just reached station No. 2 by virtue of a double to left, had been advanced to the far corner on Crowder's sacrifice, and would have scored easily in Gloomy Gus' shot had slipped away.

Kelly Gets First Hit.

Kelly smacked out his first hit since the return of the team to the fold, and was rewarded with a fine fielding game despite his one mistake. Johnny Patten swiped one from Midge Craven in the fourth when he pinched Midge's "good for one" poke toward Mit Reid and threw the speedy Bronchos out at first.

Jones was the encore for John Henry for the big fellow pitched one of the best games of his career, not excluding that great struggle of 1910 when three game clubs battled for 21 innings before the winning Bronchos had forced home by Ike Benders. John was wonderful in his ability to regard to control, but with Athletics spiking the corners he was practically unhittable, while his fielding of his position was excellent. With Mickey O'Brien on third and Ed Smith on first, he knew that certain scoop when he pounced on Crowder's slow one toward short, and threw Ned out at the first turn. Again in the seventh, after the first two hitters had become tenants of first and second, the big fellow got the Athletic pitcher to a sacrifice and destruction by fielding his bunt to third in time to head off the fast Hillinger. Reilly and Swartzlig he forced to hit in the air.

Athletics Dangerous in Sixth.

After the first inning, which Wratten inaugurated with his double, the Athletics could do nothing with John Henry's offerings, and it looked like ill the sixth, when Mickey O'Brien waited patiently and successfully, Johnny Johns gave up his life, with the subsequent advancement of the "German" backstop, Kelly, to make a nice stop and throw. Wratten's effort to repeat the stunt of Johns pulled off his "ma and ma" stunt on Crowder's soft infield tap. The eighth after the Bronchos had scored their one and only tally, found the Benders in danger of a knocking out, Crowder and Connolly batting for Jones. Buss had been retired, Wratten hit to left, but Ned Crowder was benched on strikes, and Hillinger's fly found lodgement in Phil Geier's glove.

Johnny Jones, with the eight inning thrill John walked "Red" Farrell, but Geier scored two of the succeeding putouts easily, and Midge Craven the other.

With Doc Schmick pitching the evil ship, the Bronco steered eight singles into the ninth, but failed to score a run. Fan's position as batsman was his through his annexation of three singles during yesterday's combat with the waver of the Athletics, although Ben Koehler had the signal honors in landing the carpo, and in the process of getting his third second safely of the local season.

Ben Makes Good.

Ben went up to the plate in the seventh with the intention making good at his probable last chance Bang! Ben had made good. Aiva Holt, after fanning around Koehler, retired, and the dying Bronchos took a last gasp, Koehler came in to field Cecil's hunt. Geier chased Ed Reilly for enough into left on his hearty smack toward the carriage gate to allow Ben to stroll home. Buzz Wetzel singled to deep short, but Holmes fanned him at second for the final out.

Notes of the Game.

Did he "come back"? No, he's still there.

Not only that, but John Henry pirouetted one to center for one safe event.

Ed Reilly and Bill Holmes "substituted" a little as the result of the Zanesville lefty's tendency to hick Dopky's shins up. "With a fling pop-den," of course, but it got momentum and the bold bad man of Athletics the little fellow second to take it in the ribs.

Kid Reilly smiled after the first defeat. He looked serious yesterday. The Central league plays half after all, eh, Kid?

Aiva O'Brien nipped a double steal in the bud in the sixth, with Schmick and Kelly as the principals. Schmick had third picked, so Mickey pegged to second and caught Speed.

Phil Geier secured three of his last four putouts of the game on Zanesville's last only chance of the only tier.

Alva Holt pinked a two bagger yesterday in the second. Phil Geier, who hit the ball hard at every trial but failed to land safely, drove one straight to short stop, Swartzlig was covered, Hillinger was covered, and Teddy Kroy's understudy was set for a dash for the plate.

Joe Raidy ran for Connolly in the eighth after the latter had hit for Jones. Connolly is one of the most dangerous hitting pitchers in the circuit and fast on his feet.

Two of Schmick's putouts were infield drives. The other was a hard bounder through Crowder, which the latter failed to touch.

Ben Koehler promises to be striking their aerials. If they are just beginning the race will be all to the valuetach for the representatives of the city on the bend.

It requires fast field to stop those Athletics on infield drives. They tried it on the Bronchos yesterday. Not that they were stopped. What's the very obvious deduction?

Geier, Kelly, Holmes, Koehler and Craven. That's hardly a sore baseball combination. Schmick has been following the pathe in especially fine form.

Phil Lindsay drew a bushelbasket of the fines Cleary when he became overzealous in telling the umps his duty on a certain play.

JACK RYAN WHO WILL MEET EDDIE SANTRY AT AUDITORIUM MAY 12

Jack Ryan, of Buffalo, will arrive to-morrow night and will take a run around the morning. He is a pet of Gallo's take on Eddie Santry Friday night at the Auditorium in a 10-round bout under the auspices of the the Empire Athletic club. Sammy Gallo's "handsome cash" boxer is in South Bend and tooks spic on the "Buffalo Bull" to be a cinch. Ryan's record shows that he has twice have notified McVickers they are in the ring shape, and ready for hot battles. Jack Ryan, Santry's opponent in the main bout, is one of the best light-weights in the east, and has fought all over the world. Most of his latest fights he has won by the knockout route. Harry Forbes, the real "come back" of the ring, who was supposed to be in Santry's corner, decided that he has a good a chance to win back laurels in the ring as has Harry, so far as age is concerned. "Too old to fight," is the reply of Forbes when persons learning of Eddie's return to the game. Forbes is as old as Santry, yet is displaying wonderful form. Chicago newspapermen laud Santry's work highly.

The big home run was made by Funk in the seventh after he made a three bagger. Funk was strong in the box for Beloit, but lacked support. Summers pulled himself out of a bad hole in the seventh with two men on and one out. Williams knocked a home run in the ninth. The score:

By the action of the national board of arbitration the Ill league club has been awarded the services of Groh, who has been also claimed by the Sacramento club. Groh has made a decided favorable impression with his hitting, and was expected to beat Nick Kahl out of the job with the Sacramento club. Groh is a Illinois Girls' product, and Monday's and Tuesday's games here, both of Joe Raidy was selected to be in the game this afternoon at shortstop, with Ned Crowder slated for second base.

GLENALVIN MAY BE FRAME-UP VICTIM

GRAND RAPIDS BUSINESS MEN UPHOLD ARBITRATOR.

Claim Indicator Man Accused of Drunkenness Umpired Good Game Last Week—Other Protests.

That Umpire Glenalvin, charged with drunkenness during Saturday's game at Grand Rapids, has been the victim of a frame-up is the belief of many witnesses of the game at Grand Rapids in which he is said to have displayed signs of intoxication. Letters from prominent business men of Grand Rapids are flooding the office of President Carson stating Glenalvin umpired an excellent game Saturday, and as such indications of a maudlin condition such as charged by Dr. Hartley Parker, with Manager Joe Raidy's support, were in evidence.

Dr. Carson is firmly convinced of Glenalvin's innocence and the affidavit the letter worked in double harness with Raidy's protest. Glenalvin has been very much criticized over apparently baseless accusations, and the evidence from fair minded fans has exonerated the umpire in his eyes. President Harris (Pip) O'Neill, of the Western league, has informed the Central league that Glenalvin, by reputation of acquaintance, he has never known him as a drinking man.

Cappy Gruenchen was sent to Grand Rapids when the change was made.

Another protest has been handled at league headquarters in the shape of a letter from Manager Wheeler, of Terre Haute, who figures his wallop, from a game Monday resulted in the defeat of his club. Wheeler's protest is based on a rule which he is sidetracked by his pitcher, who was hit by one of the ball game as an outside. The former Bronche manager claims to have discovered a baseball law which allows a captain one minute in argue with the umpire. The baseball rule of organized baseball, however, gives the umpire authority to allow a player or captain dispute the judgment of an arbitrator in making a decision.

A new angle to the Fort Wayne-Zanesville protest has been brought to light. Zanesville still claiming Gilbert, who was ruled out of the game, is going to play with Newkirk. He then argued on Gilbert's single, they claim, instead of asking another base while the catchers were changing paraphernalia.

Where Do They Get It?

Here's one from Wheeling:

Bronchs fans are impressed by the showing of the Stogies and contend that we have one of the strongest clubs in the circuit.—Wheeling News.

Wheeling fans are impressed by Raidy's club looks like a cinch to get rent better than Wheeling. But he's the best.

If the boys can come home with eight wins and eight losses it will not be such a bad trip, and we'll stand up to the two-old back bit.—Wheeling News.

Not such a bad trip if they break even. A fair trip would probably be winning 14 and losing two. Most clubs find an even break on the road highly satisfactory.

Two Veteran Cubs to Go.

NEW YORK, May 10.—Two veteran members of the Cub pitching staff are slated to be released, following a bit of news at the hotel last night when Manager Chance announced a conference with the Giants, Jack Pfeiffer and "Big" Ed Ruelbach, former Notre Dame star are the players concerned. Waivers have been asked on the services of both Pfeiffer.

Kelo Defeats Denver.

DENVER, Col., May 10.—Kelo university, claiming the baseball championship of Japan, defeated Denver university yesterday by 8 to 5.

CONFIDENT OF TAKING STATE CHAMPIONSHIP

Rosters Expect Gold and Blue Nine to Down Wabash College.

The Notre Dame rosters are enthusiastic over the showing made by Coach Kelly's players while on the recent trip and feel confident that Notre Dame will spike the state champion Dame will spike down the state championship honors for another year when they meet Wabash here Friday and Saturday. Reports from the Wabash camp indicate that the stayed the trip with a spraihead band, is back in the game, and all the other gold and blue stick artists appear to have recovered from the slump that characterized them early in the season. Wabash has been hitting the Notre Dame sisters with his heavy hitters. The tall outfielder has been batting with an average of .333 while on the trip, and has several three baggers and two base hits credited to his credit.

Regan and Hoyt are in better condition than when they left the university. Phillips has also been doing some effective twirling in some of the contests. All three of these pitchers are expected to be in better form than enjoyed while playing at home.

The chances of "Billy" Ryan twirling for the varsity this spring have been further deteriorated by the fact that he has sprained his throwing his knee. Last fall Ryan threw the joint out of place during a football game and the injury left his knee in a weakened condition. His arm has been troubling him considerably. It is thought he will not be seen in any of the games during the latter part of the schedule. Regan and Hoyt will probably face the batters in the local games against the Little Giants.

CLOSE GAMES ARE BANE.

Cleary Has More Than His Share of One Run Margins.

Close games are always the bane of the umpire, and Cleary, who has been working here this week has had more than his share of them. Since umpiring in the Central league, he has been the 11th man in but three games where the opposing team won by more than one run. Cleary says he will remain here the remainder of the Zanesville series.

LEAVE FOR WABASH.

Local Boys to Get Trial With League Club.

One ex-candidate for the Bronchs baseball berth, and two local boys left South Bend to-day for Wabash, Ind., where they are slated for trials with the Central league team there. The three are Ed Ruelbach, former Dodge Intelligencer, of Laporte, Catcher Lindrick, and Bill Strauch, of South Bend.
