Boston, Mass., May 5.—A coterie of top Boston and New York financiers, including J. P. Morgan and J. J. Hill, but not including Mr. Harriman, are looking around for a candidate to beat Roosevelt because of his anti-trust ideas.

A careful canvass has just been completed for them which shows that Bryan may not be able to dictate the next democratic nomination and the combination has decided to finance the Cleveland boom for Judge Parker. It is said, has been used merely as a "cloak warmer" for Cleveland. The latter is to be pushed steadily from now on, if the financial interests behind the move they have just received from a high-grade democrat that the Cleveland candidacy will not be based on silver.

OLD FEUD ON AGAIN

MARCUM'S ASSASSIN WILL REMAIN UNKNOWN.

PEOPLE FEAR TO INVESTIGATE

No Man Has or Will Advance Theory About Shooting—Little Telling When Further Work Now Begun Will End.

Jackson, Ky., May 5.—The murderer of James B. Marcum, who was killed on the court house yard Monday morning will probably be known. People are afraid to investigate.

With the exception of a brief search made about five minutes after the shooting there has been no pronounced effort to discover the assassin. The town is quiet and it is next to impossible to get any one to talk. The correspondent has been advised by a friend that it would be wise than well for him to leave on the first train. No man has, or will, advance a theory about the shooting, nor as to the identity of the assassin.

So great is the fear of the feudists that even friends of Marcum hesitate to take a conspicuous interest in the disposal of his remains. His wife did not view his body until yesterday. No man has entered the court house since the tragedy to mark a clue to the murderer and the blood of the dead man remained on the steps until wiped up to-day by Mrs. Marcum with her handkerchief. Details of the assassination given to the public are very meagre as the correspondents here are afraid to send out news.

With the murder of Marcum the records for homicides in this county for the past five or thirty-eight months, a year in a half-which apparently settled as in Breathitt county, the capital of which, Jackson, has a population of only 1,500. And now the question is on every one's lips, though it is uttered only in whispers, "When and where will the feud end? Who will be the next to go?"

SECURE A BIG CONTRACT

Loughman, Hubbard & Loughman to Supply Schools With Coal.

Loughman, Hubbard & Loughman, the enterprising coal and transfer firm, secured a fine contract yesterday when it was awarded the contract by the South Bend board of education to furnish coal for all the wood schools of the city for one year. The price named was $2.35 per ton, the coal to be best grade lower vein Brazil block.

Although not the oldest dealers in the city handling steam coal they seem to be able not only to compete with the oldest concerns but also to secure business which has heretofore been contested entirely by other parties. The securing of the contract reveals considerable business progress on the part of the popular firm.

The firm is always open and ever ready at short notice to figure on contracts of any nature that may come in their line and it would be well to consult them before placing any future orders. The firm is perfectly reliable in every respect.

The cases are now set for to-morrow morning at 9 o'clock. William Szymanski is out on bail, but the other two men are in jail. The men are charged with assaulting Patrolman John Knoll on Sunday, April 26. The Szymanskis reside at 1330 West Dubrois street and Supercynski at 1313 West Ford street.

John Gleason, a barber, who frequently figures in the police court because of his habit of becoming intoxicated, was this morning sent to jail for 70 days. He was arrested yesterday by Patrolman Stiren after an exciting game of hide-and-seek. When Gleason would see the officer on his beat he would dodge into a saloon before he was finally landed, he had been thrown out of four bar rooms. Gleason's sentence was 60 days in jail and $20 fine, which he cannot pay. A few years ago Gleason served a 60 days' sentence for being drunk.

Besides sending Gleason to jail, City Judge Feldman assessed Sam Cottrell, an old offender, and Edward Martin $11 each on similar charges. Martin is a Michigan City man who was found in South Bend while on a spree. He told the court he did not know how he got into South Bend.

WERE FOR HOME TRADE.

Train of Singer Sewing Machines for Indiana and Ohio.

The item in The Tribune on Monday regarding the departure of a train of Singer sewing machines from the big works in this city for Europe, was wrong in one respect. The machines were not for Europe but to supply the trade in two states of this country, Indiana and Ohio.

The train consisted of 25 cars, filled with Singer sewing machines. Eighteen of these cars were billed for Cleveland, O., to fill orders for the Cleveland agent of the company there, and the other seven cars were loaded for Indianapolis to supply orders from the company's state agent in that city. A larger train will soon start out from the works in this city to fill orders for machines from other states. This shows it seems that the growing trade of the Singer sewing machine trade in this country.

PRICE OF COAL ADVANCES

Retail Dealers Now Asking $7.25 Per Ton for Anthracite.

The price of hard coal in South Bend was advanced this morning from $7 to $7.25 per ton by the local dealers. The retailers assert coal was advanced 10 cents per ton at the wholesale May 1 and also that coal ordered in April is now coming to arrive and May prices are charged. They also claim the Indiana coal strike, the government's action in changing demurrage for cars held longer than 24 hours had its influence in the decision to raise the price of coal, as well as the fact that the labor in handling the anthracite is becoming more expensive.

THE MEXICAN STUDENTS.

Honor Their National Holiday With Picnic on St. Joseph River.

At last night's meeting of the board of trustees of Notre Dame celebrated their national holiday commemorating the obtaining of freedom from the French yesterday. For the past few years it has been customary for the Mexican contingent to have a banquet followed by speeches by the various representatives from their mother country. In consequence it was decided that a change should be inaugurated and so this spring instead of having a banquet a picnic on the banks of St. Joseph river was arranged for and the fine weather yesterday contributed greatly to the success of the undertaking.

Father O'Reilly, who spent a number of years in Spain and Portugal and who speaks holding the chair in Spanish at the university is one of the most popular professors in Notre Dame. Americans was the only one in the party not of Spanish decent and the Spanish language prevailed throughout the day as well as in the speeches.

The party numbered about 40 Mexicans and beside these there were several Cubans and Porto Ricans in the party. A feature of the celebration was a meal cooked up in Mexican style and the preparation of several dishes distinctly Mexican. Music was furnished by the various members of the party who took their turns at the mandolins and guitars and it hardly ceased from the time the celebrants left till they had returned to the university. They have a very fine stringed band in it and are distinctly a music loving race as is apparent from all the Latin Americans at the college some of their meetings being complete without music.

Jose Batlle, of Mexile, P. I., was a guest of honor and related his experiences as a student in the Philippines and in Spain. Mesers. Trevino and Cano, of Mexico City, made short addresses comparing Mexican school life with that of America. Enrique Sada, of Monterrey, who was a guest made a patriotic speech and Virgilio Rayneri, of Ponce, Porto Rico, contributed to the after dinner oratory. Father O'Reilly made some interesting remarks.
