LOCALS IN DOUBLE SHUT OUT BILL

SUNDAY'S GAMES FEATURED BY CLASSY PITCHING.

HAGERMAN ALLOWS NO HIT

Cy Alberts Returns to Old Time Form —And Stings Grand Rapids in the Second Contest.

South Bend's inability to hit Hagerman, who pitched one of the softest games seen on the local lot for decade or more, letting the locals down without a single hit, cost the Benders the first game of yesterday's double header. The Grand Rapids flinger had the locals pushed into a corner on the hit question, the only smash which had any feature resembling a single being Lee Fay's attempt in the fifth, which the Francis speared after a hard sprint.

Smith, who started to pitch for South Bend, was ineffective being unable to locate the plate and after passing two men and being well started towards giving a mileage hook to another was lifted by "Capt." Grant, who hustled a distress signal to "Pudrick" Lindsey. The fair one appeared on the scene without being warned an a fact which the furniture makers took advantage of to the extent of scoring two men in the first and one in the fourth and two more in the fifth. Hard hitting on the part of the errors by Grant and Mosbier were responsible.

How the Scores Were Made.

First—Smith walks Nobbit. Lowe sacrifices him to second. Betts works Smith for base on balls. Lindsey replaces Smith when the latter shows signs of disintegration. Kocher hits Mosbier's ceiling. Kocher stolen. Lindsey fields Geyer's attempt to Grant covering first, who muffs Lowe. Gill hits short Texas league to left field, scoring Nobbit. Lindsey hands Figanie base on balls forcing Betts in with second run. Figanie stolen. Double play by Grant to Hayworth retiring side. Two scores.

Third—Betts works Lindsey for base on balls. Sacrificed to second by Geyer. Figanie throws Kocher out at first, Betts going to third. Rowe hits Francis' wallop to left. One score.

Fifth—Betts stings in left. Goes to second when Kocher throws bad to Cabin Geyer. Both runners score when Francis stings to right.

Sixth—Betts stings in another close to score. Hagerman was invincible at all times.

Benders Take Second.

"Cy" Alberts pitched a game to enable the Benders to retain a hold on a lead advantage of the fifth by returning to his old time form, shutting the hard-hitting Lowelites out in the second game yesterday to the score of 3 to 0. And believe me, the old boy was some there. The old fellow had his curves and every other asset a pitcher should have. He never was in much danger of losing having the enemy pinch hitter Hoffman, who substituted for Fay, pinch sided to a great measure by Edward Cadley, whose catch of Meier's awful wallop in the ninth with Francis on second waiting to score deserved a medal.

There is no another man who did more for the Benders game be the name of Kurtz, his clean cut two earlier in the first, scoring Benjamin Koehler putting things on ice for the locals and successfully paralyzing any chances Lowe, L. Francis, et al had of winning.

No Hitting After First.

After the first inning the Benders were unable to connect with Dickson's shots in bunches and, verily, the tall boy allowed but two hingles after his natural depression of the opening frame. Francis and Lowe, by peppery work, made the two hits, the latter, a little aided by the wind, was able to pull down two long flies having enough of two bases.

How the Scores Were Made.

First—Craven beats out infield hit which carrooms off Dickson's glove. Dickson makes wild pitch, sending Craven to second. Dickson fields Cadley's bunt and throws to first. Dickson bounds rim off Koehler's head. Bailey has passed ball. Craven scoring. Sheehan out, Nobbit to Gill. Hayworth hits to left. Kurtz hits first ball pitched for base on balls. Kurtz has two bases, giving Koehler Kurtz, impropoerly checked by Tieman, runs Hayworth off third. Ben reaches plate on Bailey's error. Three scores.

Notes of the Games.

Three out of four.

The team is at Somerville to-day.

Tom was crabbed at Pfeil who seemed fair.

Home next Sunday after playing Wheeling and Zanesville.

Gill's hit in the first game was a Texas leaguer, Kocher's Kocher's which neither Fay nor Ben could quite reach.

Betts had a clean record in the first game getting two passes and three hits in the second game without error.

Bobby Lowe was easy for both pitchers. He reached first on a base on balls out of seven times at bat.

Dickson caught Ben Koehler on the back of the head with a speedy to shoot in the first inning of the second game. The ball bounding on the roof of the stand.

When Kurtz forced Ben Hayworth off third into a try for home during the first inning of the second game, Ben was caught between the plate and the line finally leading the round when Bailey dropped Lowe's throw, which was high. Tieman was coaching and received a warm calling from Grant for his indifference.

Kocher's stolen base was all the little Lowelite pitcher willing to take the blame for a number of times the first game yesterday when he made three errors he was responsible for directly with himself. He pulled Smith's throw from Mosbier's foot in the second game the big fellow was up in the air a fine piece of headwork.

SPIROS DEFEAT VALPARAISO.

Kellar Plays Star Game for South Bend.

The Spiros baseball club took another pot shot at the Valparaiso Standards yesterday, defeating the fast independent team on the Valparaiso grounds by a score of 5 to 1.

Alby was on the firing line for the Souts. Bend club and divers worked for the Standards. Both pitchers were clouted for seven assets. Kellar playing a great game for the Spiros, allowing four chances without a single error.

ALBERTS REFUSES TO REPORT.

Fort Wayne Pitcher Declines to Join Wheeling Squad.

It developed yesterday that Pitcher Charlie Alberts, recently turned over to Wheeling by Manager Hendricks, has refused to report to the Stogie management and is still in Fort Wayne. Alberts, who was suspended by the Fort Wayne management for quitting the team a few days ago, wants to go either to South Bend or Zanesville, but declares he will not join the Wheeling crowd.

The Fort Wayne team has been augmented by the addition of Pitcher Off of the Youngstown team, of the O-P league. Outfielder "Doc" Ralston, who has been with New Castle, and Outfielder Carrie, late of the Trenton team of the Tri-State league. Players giving Manager Hendricks considerable trouble are Del Hughes, Pitcher Robert Wade, Pitcher Kiewan and Pitcher Dean.

GRANT BEGINS ANOTHER PITCHER

Comstock is Latest Addition to South Bend Club.

Seven pitchers now compose the batting staff of the South Bend baseball club and Manager Grant announces that he is still searching for more.

The latest addition to the staff is Pitcher Comstock, who reported in South Bend Friday. He comes to the Bends from Ashtabula and is said to be a pitcher of considerable promise. Some member of the staff will probably draw his release before the present road trip is finished or as quickly as Grant makes his selection.

J. H. LOSHBAUGH INJURED.

South Bend Horseshoer is Hurt in Kalamazoo, Mich.

While shoeing a horse at Recreation driving park in Kalamazoo, Mich., Friday afternoon, J. H. Loshbaugh, a South Bend horseshoer, received painful injuries.

The horse which he was shoeing became unruly and struck Mr. Loshbaugh across the right foot. It was necessary to remove him to a hospital where two of his toes were amputated. He will return to South Bend within the next 10 days.

HOFFMAN DRIVES FAST HALF.

Minnie M. Owned by George Studebaker, is Promising.

Writing in the Kalamazoo, Mich. Telegraph, H. P. Hall speaks very highly of Minnie M., owned by H. M. Hoffman and owned by George M. Studebaker of South Bend. He writes the following of too promising South Bend pacer:

At Recreation park are two entries for the Hickory Stakes for the 2:12 pacers, that are very popular among the horse people. The two are owned by C. C. Cornell and Minnie M., 2:14, entered by H. M. Hoffman. Both these able scholars have negotiated miles in 2:12 this spring, with halves in 1:05 and 1:06 and quarters in 32 and what will be required to get prices of the money in the big pacing stake, they have worked so easily and steadily that it is believed that will further the few weeks intervening, for today a fine burst of speed and endurance will be required to be successfully needed in the battle with the big fliers. Hoffman has been training Minnie M. with the express purpose of getting her away quickly and is breaking her from the wagon and is a fast one the first quarter. She has always been very fast in the second half and now realizes that speed, at the same time getting off on the jump.

Friday morning at Recreation park, Minnie M., 2:14 1-2, and May Bird, 2:14 1-4, were worked a mile each. Cornell drove May Bird and Hoffman drove Minnie M. a half in 1:05 1-2.

DEFEAT DUE TO TRAINING.

So Claims Ben Selig, Manager of Jim Gans.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 6.—Ben Selig, manager of Joe Gans, refuses to believe that Gans' sudden collapse in the fight with Nelson Saturday was result of age. He contends that his course of training was radically wrong in method and as a consequence Gans was in no condition to fight a fast battle.

Selig interviewed stakeholder Graney in which he says: "I am not satisfied with the way Gans trained and do not think he was in proper shape. He ran his legs off on the road and would have done better with more boxing and less road work. Gans was in good condition when he first finished, but we think that his system accounts for that tired feeling which came upon him in the first round.

"When the first round closed Joe came back and said he felt tired and wanted to know if he could not allow the fight go on the morning of the Fourth Gans went on the road for an hour and twenty minutes. I still believe Gans can fight and we are willing to meet Nelson in a fast fight. I talked Gans with McMahon and Weale. If he wins, we will ask for another match with Nelson. Joe will leave for Baltimore Wednesday, but will return if we succeed in getting a match."

Gans was much depressed but was able to walk to his dressing room with his assistants.

Nelson was as fresh as a daisy and the happiest man in the country. He was not in the least hurt during the fight.

SPORTING NOTES

Extra! Manager Etherbid, of the Yankees has bought Hans Wagner for $1,000,000. Cy Young for $10,000, Catcher Sullivan, of the Sox, for $10,000 and Lajoie for $10,000. Also has secured Manager Lee Fohl, Bender and Orth to Detroit for Will Bill Donovan, and put in Bill Donovan, who promises will be spared to make the Yankees a winner.

Wheeling continues to be a clearing depot for baseball players. The disappearance of the weeks shows the name of Pitcher Dean, Kiewan, B. Hughes and D. Hughes. Pitcher McDonald was sent to his home for a night rest. New players were signed up yesterday by Manager Hendricks, Outfielder "Doc" Ralston, late of New-castle, Pa., and Outfielder Carrie, recently with Trenton in the Tri-State. Wheeling has a new team every two weeks.

Pendry, infielder, has been purchased by Manager Hogan from Altoona, of the Tri-State league, for Pendry played with Oklahoma City in the Western association last season and at the end of the season was drafted by Altoona, of the Tri-State league. Later he was sold to Altoona. It is also stated that the Zanesville manager will probably secure Hopkins from Toledo, of the American association.

"What Central league pitcher has the most speed?" was asked of Umpire Frank Killen a few days ago. Killen is a former major league pitcher himself and well able to judge of a twirler's speed. "Bender, definitely," he answered. "Bender pitched nearly with Fort Wayne and now with Springfield has more speed than any other Central league pitcher I know of, but he lacks control."

ELBERT HUBBARD, ROYCROFTER CHIEF AS HE IS SEEN BY HIMSELF

SIX YEARS ABOUT LIMIT OF FIGHTERS

RECORDS OF RECENT BATTLES PROVE LIFE A SHORT ONE.

BRITT IS FAIR EXAMPLE

California Battler is But Twenty-Nine Years Old and Was Put on Shelf by McFarland—Carries Retired Early.

The remarkable deterioration of physical condition and the age at which the powers of an athlete begin to wane, is a subject that has been so hard and fast rule in this matter, although generally it is found that those who take part in severe competition too young burn up their energy, which never seems to return in the same degree.

Britt is only 29 years old and yet he was able to make no stand against his younger and fresher opponent. The California book part in his first professional battle when he was 18 years of age, so that his active ring career covered a period of but six years, although previous to that he had boxed as an amateur. While a professional he took a lot of sensible exercise at the Olympic club and in the open air, but he began to show signs of dissipation and before he realized that his athletic powers had waned, he made the match which ended forever his career as a boxer.

Best When Young.

Eddie Hanlon is only 32 years old so his career has been shorter than that of Britt. He was the best middleweight from "Young" Corbett had he been properly advised in the ring. Instead of being sent in to force the fighting throughout he was held back, and than Corbett was allowed time after each round to rest. Hanlon's defeat was his last appearance in the ring was his meeting with Dick Hyland. He still retains hope of getting into form, but in the face of other examples, it will be difficult for him to do so.

Big Jim Jeffries retired when he was 32 years old, and that was five years ago. He had nearly made up his mind to re-enter the ring to meet Ruhlin, but he hesitated, as he has done in many of his other match-making schemes, and the Ohio giant beat him to the punch in Tommy Burns. Had Jeffries met Burns a year ago, the big fellow would have been an overwhelming favorite in the betting. If they were matched now, Jeffries would probably be about as 6 to 5 pulls against the Canadian. He is still able, obviously, but it is believed that Jeffries' immense bulk would take all the fighting spirit out of Tommy.

Bob Fitzsimmons has been the exception to the rule about the age of fighters. He won the champion ship of the world from Corbett at Carson City when he was 32 years old. Corbett at that time was 31 years old. Fitz was 41 years old when he appeared the last time as a principal in a fight. He was 39 years old when he made such a sensational showing against Jeffries. Joe Gans is another exception.

MAIDENS NO LONGER ROMANTIC.

"Prince Charming" of To-day Must Have Fat Bank Account.

There's no romance left in the world, anyway. Time was when girls thousand of Prince Charming, and didn't bother about anything less important than the color of his eyes and the way he tied his cravat. Now they're thinking of a bank account as large that almost any man will be quite indistinguishably hidden behind it. They're doing worse than that. I overheard two girls of girls, neither of them older than 13, exchanging confidences recently. The shorter one said she meant to be an architect, and earn her own living.

"But if you'd marry a rich man you wouldn't have to," objected the taller girl.

The midget screwed up her face shrewdly.

"You can't never tell about money," she said. "He might go and lose it, and then where'd I be with him to support it I couldn't work?"

"And certainly I'd have to support him!" asked the first girl, a bit awed.

The other nodded.

"I'd give him car fare every morning and 15 cents for lunch," she said, magnanimously.—Washington Herald.

Self-Control.

Rare is the virtue of self-control. One of the most important, but one of the most difficult things for a power ful mind is to be its own master; a good mind to be in a plain, but to take wants mountains to compass and hold it to.—Benjamin Bender.

I Am Still At It!

—In order to reduce my stock of fancy suits still further, I am going to give the friends of my shop another big opportunity.

Now Listen to This:

—You can have any suit in the store for FIFTEEN DOLLARS. This is a sweeping offer and includes all black suits and blue serges.

—I think this is the greatest opportunity since, well, since Bryan ran the first time, to get a good suit at a bargain.

—However, at this price I can't give you a pair of suspenders.

—I can show you a big variety in all colors, including browns and the popular new shades.

—I am bound to reduce my stock and I feel confident that any man who reads this "ad" will look at what I have to offer for $15.00.

ON CHEAPER SUITS

—the sale prices still continue as follows:—

All $10 & $12 and	All $15 & $18
Suits,	Suits,
$6.50	$10.50

Now I Ask You—

Who Makes Prices?

—Why shouldn't I sell goods cheap?

* I haven't a greedy landlord.
* My connection with a certain wholesale house enables me to own my goods 5% cheaper than otherwise.
* My shop is so compact I don't need many salesmen.
* Those things all save YOU money.

—Drop in and see me.

P. S.—My furnishing dep't is full of new things that will please you.

More P. S.—You are not urged to buy here.

I want to know you.

Chicago Tribune's News From Denver

The World's Greatest Newspaper Will Maintain Its Record

THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE'S report of the Denver convention will be as much better than that of any other newspaper as was its report of the republican convention in Chicago

THE TRIBUNE will be represented in Denver by a staff of twenty men under the direction of James Keeley, Raymond Patterson, and John Callan O'Laughlin. It is almost unnecessary to say that no three men have such record for scoops as these representatives of THE TRIBUNE.

THE TRIBUNE also has added to its staff Willis J. Abbot, who enjoys closer personal relations with Mr. Bryan than does any other newspaper man, and who will write daily articles during the convention.

THE TRIBUNE will be the only newspaper east of Denver with a complete leased wire service. The telegraph companies have refused leased wires to newspapers in order to reserve the wires for the press associations. In the emergency THE TRIBUNE arranged for the use of the long distance telephone wires between Denver and Chicago which will be equipped with telegraph instruments.

C. A. Briggs, the cartoonist, is now in Denver, and his character sketches of the participants will appear daily, supplementing the work of THE TRIBUNE'S staff photographers

John T. McCutcheon's daily cartoons on the first page will add new laurels to those he now bears as the world's greatest cartoonist

The demand for THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE during the republican convention was so great that thousands who neglected to notify their newsdealers in advance did not get copies. Order from your newsdealer today.
