Big Ten Elevens On Edge For Hard Battles Saturday

BACKFIELD ACES GET CHANCES TO DISPLAY WARES

BY CLARK B. KELSEY

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

CHICAGO, Oct. 22—Brilliant backfields, bulging with some of the best backs ever assembled on midwestern teams, will move into action in tomorrow's games, which should determine which eleven are the best in the midwest. Presumably Michigan and Notre Dame should win over Illinois and Northwestern to loom as potential champions of the central states.

Michigan with Ben Friedman, "Bo" Molenda, Gilbert and Rich will line up against Illinois backfield quartet, named the "four aces" The Illinois boys, "Presty" Peters, Frank Lanum, Red Hawkins and "Pug" Dougherty, carry a kick, but lack the seasoning of the Michigan team. Both teams have strong lines, but Michigan's has been weakened with the Illini lines been strengthened over last year in the forward wall. The Illini started for Ann Arbor last night.

Flock at Notre Dame

Notre Dame has perhaps a score of backs who will be inserted into the Northwestern game. Chief among these are Johnny Niemiec, Christy Flanagan, Elmer Wynn, Jack Chevigney, Edwards, Parkins, and O'Boyle. Probably none of these is as good as Leland "Tiny" Lewis or Ralph "Moon" Baker of Northwestern, who are paired with Northwestern, who are paired with but the constant stream of fresh Notre Dame players on the field is bound to wear down the best of teams, if they have no equivalent reserve force to start a similar big parade.

Ohio State starts her real test of the season against Iowa, with a backfield composed of Elmer Marchetty Karow, Hoy, Hunt and Cook. This backfield, Buckeyes say, is the greatest since the great Harley, Stinchcomb and Workman here played for Jack Wilce.

"Cowboy" Nick Kutsch will lead the Hawkeye attack against Ohio. Then there will be the Hawkeye hurdler "Dab" Cubel to consider. The Hawkeye squad took its first leg of the 600 mile jaunt to Columbus last night, and will arrive there today.

Purdue Fears Chicago

Purdue with high hopes of defeating Chicago for the first time in 23 years will pin its faith on "Cotton" Wilcox, a fine crashing and circling halfback, who is the best in Indiana history since Oilphant.

Wisconsin's backs—Doyle Harmon, Shaw, Rose and Kreuz will try to repeat feats of Illinois backs against Indiana. At Minnesota, Gopher backs, resisting the best golfer backs since Earl Matthews, will see action against Wabash.

Midwestern crowds will break records for attendance, it is estimated at all schools. Tickets for the Northwestern-Notre Dame game have been sold out for a month. A raccoon overcoat was offered today as the price for one of these tickets.

ALBION, KAZOO TO LOCK HORNS

BY MARSEN GRAHAM

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

DETROIT, Oct. 22—With every appearance pointing to a rubber-ended fold, the pre-doped "send-dual" game of the M. I. A. A. tomorrow at Albion apparently will be confined more to straight football with few passes.

The Kalamazoo Baptists are a favorite to win, but with their line averaging five pounds to the man more, the Albion Methodists will, or should be, aided by the sloppy underfooting.

The Barnard twins have worked hard and developed a speedy and healty team. Their work in holding Michigan State to a 9-6 score shows the defense is there. Then in beating Olivet 25-0, at least two critic touchdowns being a result of critic touchdowns work on the part of the opponents, shows good and effective offense that is also conservative.

Coach Batchini and Parker have eleven veterans to start the season with and were picked to win the conference championship. The real truth behind their poor showing appears to have been the late arrival of many of the boys, and their consequent poor physical condition for the hard games scheduled early.

The team now is reported in good shape, but has the mental handicap of its early lickings to overcome.

Saturday's game is the first conference game for the Methodists, and strangely, it will be one of the most important in the final standing.

FULGONI OUT

KALAMAZOO, Oct. 22—Western State Normal will enter the Chicago Y. M. C. A. game here tomorrow minus the services of George Fulgoni, the speedy halfback, who is out of action for two weeks with a sprained ankle. Dan Corbat, Mortimer's dropkick thrust, also is out with an injured knee.

YPSI DOPED TO WIN

YPSILANTI, Oct. 22—Ypsilanti Normal was a heavy favorite to defeat Central Normal here tomorrow in the annual battle between the two. Both teams are reported in good physical condition.

OLIVET TO FIGHT

OLIVET, Oct. 22—With the cry of "hold Alma" going the rounds here, Olivet was prepared today to give the M I A A favorites determined resistance Saturday.

Both teams were on good edge, with few important casualties.

Indications were for a rain-soaked field.

Princeton Still Nourishes Hopes; For There's Still Gentle Harvard

Princeton's defeat at the hands of the Navy and the marked success of Tad Jones' team at Yale have not entirely disheartened Princeton graduates, although they had hopes of a biggest year. Photos show three of the Tiger stars who hope to get a measure of revenge against Harvard if against no other team. Upper photo is of Burrell, center; middle photo, Baldwin, guard; lower photo, Darby, tackle.

Yellow Jackets Ready For Game With Niles

Coach Hank Howe's Yellow Jackets took it easy this afternoon after a week of hard practice for the game with Niles high school's football team at Wells field tomorrow.

Limbering-up exercises were the order of the day this afternoon and a light drill—just enough to keep the squad in shape.

Yesterday Howe gave his men a long, hard drill, driving them strenuously for the more strenuous work which they will have tomorrow afternoon.

With tomorrow homecoming day, and many alumni and ex-students present to see the representatives of St. Joseph high school in action, the Yellow Jackets set themselves to play their best game of the season, and to romp away with the long end of the score, if possible.

The Yellow Jackets face Niles, with a new coach Jack Rabe, making his debut in the Little Ten conference, will also play hard to win and to avenge last year's defeat. Reports from the south-end city indicate that Rabe will present a strong team, particularly good on defense and capable of carrying a driving attack.

Students of St. Joseph high school were to hold a "pep" meeting this afternoon at three o'clock to instill the old-time fest for battle in the Yellow Jackets and to select cheer-leaders for tomorrow's colorful game.

Howe may present a somewhat different line-up at the start of the game. Reports have it that the team will start about as follows: West and Mabel, ends; Herman and Cohn, tackles; Brewer and Thelen, guards; Rieck, center; Zitta, quarterback; Garlanger, fullback; Nordberg and Haddock, halfbacks.

Howe will have four teams in uniform.

Benton Harbor has an open date tomorrow.

EX-FOOTBALL STAR VICTIM OF MURDER

CHICAGO, Oct. 21 (United Press)—Police here learned that a man slain October 16 in Detroit was Erling Norris, alias John Johnson, alias Albert Williams of Minneapolis, Minn., and the nation-wide search for Norris, wanted for a con game charge, has been stopped.

Norris, former University of Minnesota football star, was wanted in connection with a confidence game in which two men minted Johnson-Tyrphen Adler of Dragsholm-Haarve, Denmark, out of $18,000.

According to information the police have here, Norris and his companion, Charles Johnson, now being held at Wichita, Kans., chasted Adler of the $18,000 in this city and then fled to Detroit. The theory is that Johnson and Norris quarreled over the split and Norris was shot to death by his friend.

Champion Girls' Cage Teams to Play Soon

DETROIT, Oct. 22 (United Press).—The Central Methodist Girls' basketball team, which has a record of 103 consecutive victories to its credit, left here last night for Redmonton, Alta., where it is to engage the unofficial world's champion team in two games next week.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22 (United Press).—Gene Tunney, heavyweight champion, and Jack Dempsey, from whom he took the title, will watch several hopeful aspirants for the crown tonight in the second of a series of elimination tourneys in which Tex Richard expects to bring out the best challenger.

Tunney and Dempsey will be present with their championship belts by the Boxing Writers association.

The feature of the card will be ten rounds between Arthur De Kuh and Jim Maloney. Monte Munn of Nebraska will meet Carl Carter, the Cuban. Other bouts are Jack De Mave, Hoboken vs. Sandy Seifert, Pittsburgh, and Tale Okin, New York vs. Joe Lawson, Alabama negro.

YOSTMEN READY TO DOWN ILLINI AT FERRY FIELD

ANN ARBOR, Oct. 22 (United Press).—Camped a few miles apart, Michigan and Illinois football squads faced a day of light workouts today in preparation for the "Big Ten" classic here tomorrow.

Michigan here and Illinois at Ypsilanti, "hot seat of Perry field", are both primed for what is expected to be the outstanding game of this season's western conference race.

Against an admittedly powerful Zuppke-coached eleven, Yost is expected to start the same team which humbled Minnesota last Saturday, 20-0. The line-up includes:

Friedman at quarter; Oosterbaan and Flora at ends; Gilbert and Rich at halfback, Molenda at full; Galt and Baer at tackle, Lovelis and Palmerelli, guards; and Truskowski center.

The Illini Lineup

Zuppke's chief point threat, with but one and possibly two exceptions, will be the game as it went against Iowa last week. It includes:

Captain Kassel at right end and J'Ambrosio or Overton at left end, Lanum at quarter; Stewart and Petersen at half; Daugherty at fall. Marlaer and Grabo at tackle, Shively and Shultz at guard and Reitsch at center.

Shultz has replaced Nowack at right guard, while Overton, a raggy substitute end, may appear in D'Ambrosio's place, if the latter does not recover fully from injuries.

Indications today were that the field might be heavy tomorrow, in view of a fairly heavy rain which swept across lower Michigan last night and today.

In general the campaign of Michigan appears likely to concentrate not only on stopping Zuppke's crack ball-carrying back-field quartet, but to smear drop-kicking formations featuring "Presty" Peters, who twice booted the ball between the posts in the game with Iowa last Saturday.

Record Crowd Coming

Illinois is confronted with the task of stopping Yost's great back-field—built around Benny Friedman—and of solving the aerial threat of both Oosterbaan and Flora.

Both teams have formidable lines with plenty of reserve material.

Despite healthy advance weather, the game is expected to draw one of the most—if not the most—colorful crowds of the year to Ferry field.

SPORT CHATTER

HASKELL WINS, 85 TO 0

LAWRENCE, Kans. — Defeating Ozark university of Chillicothe, Mo., 85 to 0 yesterday, the Haskell Indians ran their season's total of points to 248. Fourteen points have been scored against them in six games. McClain, Indian fullback, has amassed 121 of his team's total.

ROMANO LOSES ON FOUL

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—Joe Malowitz, Utica, N. Y., won from Mike Romano, Chicago, on a foul in their wrestling match here last night, after each had taken one fall. Grover Cleveland Alexander, pitcher of the St. Louis Cardinals, acted as referee for a preliminary match.

Cop Flees From a Dog; Discovers 'Blind Pig'

DETROIT, Oct. 22 (United Press) —A new angle in the much mooted search and seizure question in connection with the prohibition law was discovered in Judge W. McKay Gemmill's court here today when patrolman Joseph Dobrockowski testified he had discovered a blind pig while attempting to escape from an angry dog.

Dobrockowski said a large alsatia standing in front of premises occupied by Fred Reynolds evidently took offense at his blue uniform and started to attack him. To avoid the dog, the patrolman escaped into a doorway and discovered he was in a blind pig, he said.

Purchase of a glass of beer and arrest of Reynolds followed.

HOUSE OF DAVID TO PLAY GIANTS

The House of David's baseball team will play the Studebaker Colored Giants at the Israelites' park on Sunday.

Several stars from the Colored National league will be in the line-up, including "Dusty" Riddle of Birmingham, Robinson of Cleveland, Nicks, of St. Louis, Mitchell of the Chicago Stars, Anderson of the Illinois Giants, Curtis of Nashville, Crane, Anderson, Suggs and Pelicanter.

The Giants are a hard-hitting aggregation who should give the Davidites a busy afternoon.

The Israelites, however, will have the assistance of their traveling team's infield, with either Talley or Schnaigle on the mound. The game is scheduled for 3 o'clock, and the fans are hoping for good weather.

M'INNIS TO PILOT PHILS NEXT YEAR

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 22 (United Press)—John ("Stuffy") McInnis, famous first baseman of the old Athletics, has been named manager of the Phillies, to succeed Arthur Fletcher.

McInnis was signed to a two-year contract at a figure in the vicinity of $12,000 a season. During the conference at which announcement of his appointment was made, "Stuffy," who is past 36, said he would act as playing manager, covering first base most of the time.

SPORTS DONE BROWN

BY NORMAN E. BROWN

One can get one's self into more hot water when one begins touching on the matter of All-Time All-American football players than one generally aims to get one's self into. But, however, nevertheless and notwithstanding, the line has to be drawn some place and everybody is entitled to do his guess. I'm not starting out to name my All-Time team because this has already been done to my satisfaction. And, anyway, I'm probably deeper into the thing than I should be when I merely state that three men I generally look upon as members of any All-Time All-American team that should be named, are Jim Thorpe, greatest of all Indian athletes; Brick Muller, the California's famous end, and Pat Henry, great tackle from Washington and Jefferson.

These All-Time All-American teams are generally made over every time a new sensation comes along and somebody from the old team dropped to make way for the newest grid star. In making over the line-up which had held forth up until a year ago, many critics honored Red Grange, the "Galloping Ghost" from Illinois, with a place on the team as a halfback.

It so happens that Thorpe, Muller, Henry and Grange are the only members of the lineup which I have in mind as the most popularly accepted All-Time team, who are still playing the gridiron game. All four are playing professionally now. It is unusual then, to say the least, that three of the four active All-Time All-Americans should be seen in action on the same field. This happened in a recent professional game at Canton, O., when Brick Muller invaded that city with his Los Angeles eleven.

Opposed to the famous California end were Thorpe and Henry, who are still thrilling fans with Bashaw now and then, of their old-time form. It is probably the only time three All-Time players performed on the same field, at least in recent years. And it's not likely to happen again for a long time, if ever, for there must be two of the All-Time standouts in the lineup before the performance can be repeated. Canton is the only team that has two of them playing and since Muller is not scheduled to meet Canton again this year as Grange is playing in the opposite league, it never may be repeated. If Thorpe and Henry, who have been doing up their legs every year up in Hackensack, may find a way to be through at the end of the present season.

Spartans Rest for Game With Lake Forest Tea

EAST LANSING, Oct. 22—After a fast workout yesterday during which the coaches centered attention upon an offense that would enable State to cross the unbeaten Lake Forest goal line, the Spartans rested up today.

Last year State lost to Lake Forest 6-0, and the team is anxious to erase this beating, the only in the years connection between the schools.

NEW HAVEN, Conn.—Princeton defeated Yale, taking five out of eight matches, in the inter-college tennis tournament here. Yale took four of its six singles and two even in the doubles, one of which was tied.
