SECOND ALARM GIVEN WHEN WIND FANS FIRE

Two Houses on Longley Avenue Suffer Damage from Blaze.

A second alarm was turned in this morning when flames in two houses on Longley avenue spread into the adjoining dwellings and the assistance of the southwest wind threatened to burn the row. Hose company No. 1 the police patrol, and the assistant department chief responded to a call at 10:45, but Hose company No. 2 and No. 4, truck No. 1 and the chief which had answered the first alarm at 9:35 had the fire under control when the second alarm came.

The blaze started in the residence of James Knott, 1639 Longley avenue, when an overheated cook stove set fire to the ceiling. The flames were fanned by the wind and leaping from the roof jumped across to the house next door, owned by Mrs. Mary Ellis and occupied by Adrel Eckert. Both roofs were destroyed and the rear of the first house was damaged greatly. The loss on the Knott home is $400, on the Ellis house $300 and on the Eckert house is not known. The loss on the Eldon home and contents is $200 covered by insurance.

ACCUSES EMPLOYE OF BOLD THEFT

MANAGER MARKS BILLS TO TRAP GARAGE MAN.

Plan is Successful and Elmer Shandoff Faces Larceny Charges in City Court.

Repeated disappearance of small sums of money for the cash drawer of the Studebaker garage, South Lafayette street, is responsible for a disciplinary hearing of Elmer Shandoff, employe of the garage, which is in progress this afternoon in the city court. When arrested last night by the police they allege a marked $1 bill placed in the money drawer was found in the young man's pocketbook. The bill bore the initials, "N. M. S." and were placed there early in the evening by N. M. Snyder, manager of the garage.

Shandoff was taken into custody last evening at the garage by members of the police department shortly after the time he is claimed to have removed a marked bill from the cash drawer. A dollar bill in the drawer of $5 is alleged to have disappeared from the drawer and Shandoff had been in the office to make out a report for repairing an automobile. H. E. Gallager, night foreman of the garage said he discovered the loss and informed Manager Snyder and Chief of Police Boyer and members of the police department.

Shandoff, who is 17 years old, and rooms at 215 South Franklin street, has been employed at the garage this summer. Shandoff claims that he disappeared from the cash drawer and at the suggestion of the night foreman, the bills were marked by Snyder.
