GAME ENDS IN A RIOT

FIVE GRANTITES EXPELLED AND CONTEST FORFEITED.

ANDERSON IS INJURED

Grant Taken Off Field—He With the "Grat," Tieman, Francis and Fortriss are Fined—Wheelock Assaulted by Local Players.

President Carson received the following telegram from Canton this morning:

"I put Grant, Anderson, Tieman, Francis and Fortriss out of the game yesterday. I fined Anderson, Grant and Tieman each $5, and Francis and Fortriss $3, and gave Wheelock back $1. There were not enough South Bend players in uniform to finish the game. Tieman and Anderson were fined for assaulting me, Grant for assaulting Wheelock, and Francis and Fortriss for throwing balls over the fence.

"UMPIRE WHEELOCK."

"Come to Canton at once. I will wire you for the decision of Manager Grant and the South Bend players.

"JOHN W. WILLIAMS,
"Manager Canton Club."

The Tribune's Special Service.

Canton, O., June 1.—One of the worst riots that has ever been witnessed by fans in the cities of the Central league took place on the local diamond yesterday afternoon between Umpire Wheelock and the Canton and the South Bend players. It resulted in serious injury of Anderson, of South Bend, who was assaulted by Wheelock and the expulsion from the game of five South Bend players, which forced the visitors to forfeit the contest because they did not have men enough in uniform to finish it.

The trouble arose over differences of opinion of Manager Grant and his players and Umpire Wheelock as to the eligibility of a ball, which was being used and was thrown out from the Canton bench. The game went along all right until the third inning. In this round Wheelock and Grant disagreed over a ball which the latter claimed was thrown in from the outfield and Francis, who stood on the coaching line, got possession of the ball and threw it over the fence. Wheelock then called another ball into the game, although there should have be had plenty of better balls in his possession, and threw it to Grant for approval.

Grant Out of Game.

Grant insisted that the ball had been thrown in from the outfield and without further parley he threw it towards Wheelock, the heredofe striking his leg in the back. Grant was ordered off the field. After this Harbin was substituted and Johnson switched over to second.

The game continued without further trouble until the fifth when Fleming was batting. Wheelock was still using the disputed ball and the South Bend boys were at bat, but when the pitcher took to the stick it was noticed that better looking spheres were in motion. Fleming hit the ball towards the coachers box and Francis throw the ball back, throwing another into the diamond, which he had had in his pocket. When Wheelock insisted on having the ball Francis produced another from his pocket thrown and threw it to Fleming. Wheelock having refused to allow the Reds to play with the ball Fortriss had thrown in and Anderson not allowing Fortriss to give up the one that came from Fleming's bat "Jake" threw the ball back to the pitcher and he promptly launched and fined it. This was the third fine imposed as Grant had been fined $25 and Francis $5.

Anderson is Injured.

After Fortriss threw the ball over the fence, Wheelock walked towards the coaching line and called for more balls. Anderson and Tieman jumped on the umpire kicking and punching him. Canton players and the police stepped the fight, but not before Anderson had landed a punch under the left eye, which for a time was thought to be a serious injury. Later it was found that the eye could be saved.

Anderson and Tieman were then handed and fined $25 each and this took so many men away from South Bend that there were not enough in uniform to finish the game, which was forfeited to Canton by the score of 9 to 0.

The officials of the Canton club and the fans were very indignant at the actions of the South Bend players. Canton boasts an stigma for having the game given to them as they had bill to play a game here Sunday if it is good. This, however, does not say that they would have won the game, unless Wheelock had insisted on using punk balls again—on the visiting bat—balls, which gave them no chance to get hits.

South Bend was never dangerous in scoring, as Kihm, with the balls he was using, was very effective. Without a hit the visitors scored in the third on a single and Kelly's triple. Hits by McGrew and Lindsy scored two more in the second. A two sacker by Hughes in the third scored Fox from second base, and the score stood 4 to 0 when the game was forfeited. The scores:

WERE BALLS DOPED?

Local Man Thinks Myers Fined Those Batted by Grantites.

This is not the first time managers in the Central league have had trouble with Beda Myers on account of the balls that have been thrown out from the Canton bench. The game went along all right until the third inning in this round Wheelock and Grant disagreed over a ball which the latter claimed was thrown in from the outfield and Francis, who stood on the coaching line, got possession of the ball and threw it over the fence. balls that have been thrown out from the Canton bench last year this was the source of considerable complaint to the officials of the league and it has been so for this season.

Some local men are of the opinion that the balls Manager Grant objected to were fed to him and that they were doped from the Canton bench. According to the report received from Canton and sent out by sympathizers of the Canton club, Wheelock was warned to duck the "doped" balls against the South Bend team. "Doped" balls are balls that have been rubbed or had the "Doctor" Wheelock was called upon to decide whether or it was the intention of Wheelock to aid the "Reds" in winning the game or not cannot be learned as yet. This matter will be investigated by the officials of the league. Wheelock has been seen at the South Bend team since the season opened and he has been a good umpire. Great, although he has proved to be so as he was used as good in this city as any umpire that has worked here.

What makes the riot yesterday look more serious is the report that Wheelock worked on the part of the Canton team and Umpire Wheelock to defeat South Bend, is the fact that Fleming and Tieman became involved in any way in the riot. Fleming is a quiet boy and never given to trouble in leagues and have never been known to cause any trouble. Grant has a fight in him, but Wheelock must have been very provoked to have had a fight with Grant, while the conduct of Anderson and Francis might have become involved in a fight, but that there was a cause for resentment by Tieman, who is a quiet man, would have to be proved thoroughly.

President Carson said this morning that if Anderson and Tieman assaulted Wheelock, as is the report, the fines imposed on them would be well merited. Carson said he will wire Canton for a decision of the matter. Carson did not go to Canton this morning. He said he would not spend valuable time in a trip to Canton unless he felt it was necessary to settle the wire. He expects to see the team back in the same locality and no more trouble.

Jake Meyers is a tricky manager, as he is the only one who seems to have trouble with umpires or with Managers have always had trouble with him and probably will continue to have trouble. Leading the green pole South Bend in third place with Springfield first and the Grand Rapids second.

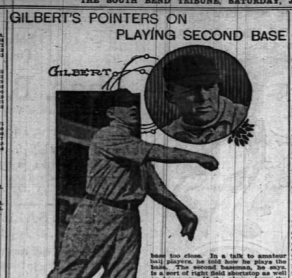
The Vernon Stars will play Benton Springs at that place Sunday afternoon.

GILBERT'S POINTERS ON PLAYING SECOND BASE



William O. Gilbert, second baseman of the New York Giants, in discussing how to play the keystone sack position, advises against hugging the base too close. In a talk to amateur ball players, he tells how he plays the bag. The second baseman, he says, is a sort of right field shortstop as well as baseman. If the player hugs the bag too closely he must wait until the third base man, shortstop and pitcher might have stopped. Mr. Gilbert advises the baseman to play well back of the base line to be sure of hard hit balls. He says a baseman should be able to get to a hard hit ball hit to his mind that he will almost mechanically run to cover first when the first baseman goes after a bunted ball. "No man can hope to be a success on second who does not hug close to the speedy on double plays," says Mr. Gilbert. "The second baseman should relay the ball for a double play and give life to a team that otherwise might go stale through the leggy playing of the man in the keystone position.

Central League Gossip.

The Grand Rapids Press says: "After seeing the South Bend bunch in action three times, besides in the moving exhibition game, the verdict must be given that it is a real ball team. It has the hitter from the top to the bottom of the line, is by no means a weak fielding team, has a good pitching staff and will have all the cash and attractions in the circuit, and our Great Weight was the pennant in a walk." It must be the Press has changed its mind about the locals being mediocre players.

NEWS FROM COLLEGE.

Evening Sessions Come to a Close—Summer Term Opens.

Many events of interest took place in South Bend Commercial college circles this week. Among them were the following:

Ernest Barbier, of the commercial department, has taken a position at the Wilson Bros. shirt factory.

Walter Palmer, a former student, has accepted a position with the Palmerton-Powell Lumber company.

Miss Ethel Hoffman has accepted a bookkeeper by the Knickbocker Candy company.

The Misses Alvina Holdeman and Ethel Thompson, of the stenographic department, have accepted the office of the Home Clothing company.

Frank Edmon is assisting in a stenographic capacity in the office of Cushion & Elliott.

Miss Pearl McGowan has accepted a stenographic position with the Singer Manufacturing Manufacturing company.

One of the broader fields of work to which students are urged by the college to aspire is that of government positions secured through the civil service examinations. It is stated that in bearing fruit as several students are now in very lucrative positions. Among them are George Leddick located in Washington, postoffice department, Paper Bound navy yards, Washington, and Harry Bronner, Corbin, Pusheen, engineering department of canal construction.

Mr. Bennett will give an address on the coming exercises Friday morning. He submitted a synopsis of the splendid editorial by Orville Harden Sweet in the June number of Success, the great value of commercial education, the great value of commercial education to persons in all walks of life.

The commercial department of the college closed last night and will resume in the early fall. The summer session will continue for twenty weeks, with the exception of about two weeks during the portion of August. The summer term will open next week, June 4 to 11 being the special time for new students to enter, although they can enter at any time. The summer term is in preparation for the summer term.

W. W. Bennett has been very busily engaged during the past week in visiting towns of northern Indiana and Southern Michigan in the interest of the college.

MAY SUTTON WILL DEFEND TITLE OF TENNIS CHAMPION

MAY SUTTON AND SOME OF HER FORES.

Miss May Sutton, of Pasadena, Cal., who has come to England to defend her title of World's national lawn tennis champion, shows in practice that she is her final practice games. The contests will be played on the All England Lawn Tennis club courts at Wimbledon, London. A plan is on foot to offer an international challenge cup for women similar to that offered in 1905 by D. Dwight Davis for men's tennis.

Miss Sutton, who is unquestionably the world's greatest woman tennis player, won the championship of the United States in 1904, at the age of 17, defeating Miss Carr with ease. The following year she went to England and defeated the finest players among the women of the "tight little isle." Her rules of play are very simple. Increasing practice, she says, is the secret of proficiency. She advises against playing with inferior players when practicing as there is danger of becoming careless. Playing against superior players presents the possibility of developing a better style of play. Playing in mixed doubles is good practice.

Miss Sutton will witness the international matches in which the American team is contesting for the Davis trophy. She does not expect to play in any other tournaments while abroad except to defend her title, though she said she might change her mind after reaching London.

YOUNG WOMAN ALSO HAD PET

But It Was Somewhat Different from Other Women's.

When the thin woman in the long gray ulster sat down in the Subway car opposite the fat woman holding a bright little Scotch terrier it could be seen at once that they had points of common interest and that those points of common interest consisted of dogs.

"What a dear little fellow he is," chirped the thin woman.

"Isn't he cute?" posed the fat woman, snuggling her pet so closely that he had to sniff for breath.

"Miss is a French poodle," ventured the thin woman. "I hear those gray terriers are coming into style, though."

"Yes, they're all the rage," said the fat woman. "I had to give up fifty for Sandy."

A handsome young woman who occupied the seat by the thin woman was an interested listener to the colloquy. She was good-looking enough to attract attention anywhere, and she looked as if she loved everything that was worth loving in this world, including dogs. She leaned over and gave Sandy's head an affectionate pat, and Sandy tried to lick her gloved hand.

"You love dogs, too?" said the fat woman.

"Oh, yes," was the reply. "Who could help it?"

"What kind is yours?" came the eager query.

"Mine? Oh, I haven't any. I have a baby!"

And the fat woman and the thin woman raised their hands, turned up their noses and grew oddly silent. Just as if some one had said something to shock their sense of modesty.—New York Press.

Everybody Worships Her.

Several weeks ago I was in an Indian village and peeped inside the chief Hindu temple. To my great surprise I saw the portrait of a famous London beauty, nicely framed, calmly looking down on the idol beneath it. The lady, I am sure, never dreamed that her portrait would be worshiped in this way.—London Mail.

The Tribune prints the news.

NOBODY who knows ever said the W. L. DOUGLAS SHOE is not a GOOD SHOE—because everybody knows that for real, satisfactory long wear they can't be beat.

A glance at our Shoe Display will convince you, too, that they have all the style and finish of shoes costing more.

Spring Styles—Low Quarters, $2.50 to $5.
