SECRET OF LIFE IS SOUGHT BY THOMSON

PASSES 150,000 VOLTS THROUGH BODY IN TESTS.

HOPES TO REVIVE DEAD

Believes Overdose of Electricity Same as One of Drugs—Confident He Will Succeed in Resuscitation of Victims.

LYNN, Mass., June 23.—"It may be possible to revive life after electrocuting by means of high frequency current, although I cannot as yet state definitely as to that fact. I am experimenting and hope to bring about this result," was the statement of Prof. Elihu Thompson, the millionaire electrical inventor, when questioned as to the possibility of reviving the heart acting after death.

In his daily experiments with electricity at the local plant of the General Electric company, the professor has very often passed 150,000 volts into his body, and has placed others in a position to receive this amount, without any serious effects. The fact that this feat can be accomplished successfully gives grounds for the belief that the shock that the heart action can be revived.

Continuing Dr. Thompson said: "High frequency is known to be perfectly harmless even in large amounts of high voltage. Drugs, tends to relax the arterial sidewalls, then contracted or in a state of spasm which accompany a severe shock.

"There is a feeling that possibly drugs may be used in conjunction to neutralize the effect of the shock. I would recommend that experiments along this line be made upon animals under medical control and supervision."

Experiment Failed.

Francis Leary, an employe of the General Electric company, received a shock of 150,000 volts in the plant of that company recently. At that time Prof. Thompson was in the factory and made some experimental efforts to resuscitate the young man to life by means of high frequency current.

Speaking of the experiments made at the time of this accident Prof. Thomson said:

"After all efforts had failed in this case, I had been working for a long time, some one asked me if we had a high apparatus ready for use. I said no, there was not at the time. The physician present said he had such an apparatus in his office in Boston, at Hingham, Ma. secured this and tried it without success.

"It was feeble in its effects, representing probably not more than a few thousand volts energy of high frequency currents which I have repeatedly allowed to pass through my body and that of others without even noticing the current.

"I have thought that had it been a powerful enough apparatus something might have happened, although I am not sure. I have sometimes speculated on the idea that this heating would have meant. The thing is now in an experimental state.

"Had the current been applied without the heating effect the resulting result might have been very much different, even with the weak apparatus which we used."

The electrodes of the machine were placed on the chest of the man, one close to the sensory nerve, which lead most directly to the heart. Then the current was applied.

Prof. Thomson does not state that he has any hope of reviving a person by a victim of electrocution, but his many experiments with electricity lead him to believe that it is but a matter of time before this secret will be revealed.

CITY ESTABLISHES RECORD FOR SHOWS

Mazeppa Carnival Opens at Springbrook Park Next Week.

Three circuses and a carnival within a month is a record South Bend will establish when the Mazeppa shows begin a week's engagement at Springbrook park next Monday. An attraction is Mazeppa, who is billed as the "horse with the human brain." According to the management this horse can do everything but open the door, lay the bed covers, crawl in and pull the covers up only to awaken at the sound of the breakfast bell. Unique as is this act, the owner asserts a revelation in the horse's ability to jump from a cup and the dressing of the inmates by Mazeppa is startlingly realistic and thrilling.

The company will arrive early Monday morning and will unload its amusement equipment on the Springbrook park baseball grounds. Tents with fancy fronts will house the attractions. A ferris wheel will be a feature. Afternoon and evening performances will be given. The tents will be open about 10 o'clock at 2 o'clock and continue until 5 o'clock. The evening performances will begin at 7:30 and continue as long as crowds attend.

TAKE RELIGIOUS CENSUS.

Two Hundred Men Will be Engaged in Canvass of City.

Two hundred men will visit every home in South Bend to-morrow afternoon between 2 and 5 o'clock to take a religious census of the church affiliations or preference of every person in the city. The census, which will be made under the auspices of a men and religion forward movement, a consolidation of personal work having direct charge of the campaign.

Each worker will be provided with a recording card, ruled in three vertical columns. In the first column is marked the name of a family, employe, or boarder, the race and language spoken in the home. On each card are printed the names of the churches of the denomination in the city. Where there is a preference or affiliation an "X" will be placed. No preference and refused information will be tabulated in a similar manner. The name of the pastor of the church attended or preferred will also be recorded.

In a classification of the results obtained by the canvass, the residents will be divided into classes according to their age.

YOUNG WOMEN HOLD KEY TO MORAL UPLIFT

Must Refuse to Entertain All Immoral Young Men.

CLEVELAND, O., June 23.—A rousing gathering of the 2,500 Christian Endeavorers at the Chamber of Commerce hall last night, with addresses by a number of noted men, marked the formal opening of the annual state convention.

Throngs of delegates arrived in the city from the various parts of the montage, which opened yesterday afternoon. The meeting last night was in the nature of a mass meeting and reception. Department meetings with addresses by noted men, will occupy large meeting on the programme in the evening.

This convention, more than any other, is to be a convention of song. All the services and meetings are opened and closed with songs, and a special choir of 500 voices, a mixed choirs will join, will be held Friday at the Hippodrome.

"If all young women would refuse to entertain immoral young men a great moral uplift in our communities would be made," said the Rev. Ira Landrith president of Belmont College for Women, Nashville, Tenn., who was the principal speaker at the meeting last night. "If all the young men of the world would be turned from the paths of sin if their sweethearts would refuse to have anything to do with them until they had abandoned their evil ways.

"People think it a hard task to place Christ in the world, but it is easy. If every young woman refuse to keep company with a young man if he drinks, even moderately, and watch the result. In a short time we would have a world wide prohibition. The women can exert a great influence for good. This is only one of the ways they can aid reform."

MINE HOST OF MERMAID.

Manuscripts Reveals Identity of Keeper of Inn in Shakespeare's Time.

LONDON, June 23.—During the course of a lecture delivered at the Haymarket theater, Lord Howard de Walden spoke of a discovery that had been made in connection with Shakespeare's famous duel of the wits at the Mermaid.

He said that he believed that it was the Mermaid tavern, where the duel said had been, but in looking through some old manuscripts at the British museum a friend of his had been delighter to find in the genealogy of Thomas Lloyd, one of the Welsh families, which ran:

"His wife was a minister's widow of Henley on Thames and had issue Richard Lloyd, of the Mermaid Cheapside." Thomas Lloyd was born in 1547 and so was just the actual landlord during Shakespeare's time, but it seems possible that he had succeeded his father in the possession of the Mermaid. Richard Lloyd was the Lieutenant, or heir, to those of Henley, of the marriage of Thomas Lloyd, but it is certain that there was a considerable Welsh colony "living there, and in a MS. in the Welsh national library this record is to be found, corroborated by a MS. in the Tower of London," evidence which seems to confirm the idea that this was the identical Thomas Lloyd whose son was afterward married to the "minister's widow." Thomas was landlord of the famous hostelry.

Ask Damage for Assault.

The Tribune's Special Service.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., June 23.—Wilbur Louis VanDine has filed suit in the superior court demanding $10,000 damages from Isaac Weil for injuries suffered in an assault for which Weil was recently fined in the city court. The complaint filed by Attorney Frank Bostwick says VanDine was suddenly struck and beat him when he entered his office to make a collection. Weil denies the assault.

INFLAMED KIDNEYS

Medical writers declare it incurable and it matters little or much whether albuminous or not.

The average man prefers to think of it as "kidney trouble" and bite it go but the census shows this appalling fact—out of 43,000 deaths from kidney troubles the last census year over ninety per cent were those of middle age, called "Bright's Disease" although it is quite probable that nine-tenths of them up to the last moment thought of it as and called it "kidney trouble" when it was too late to do any good, though hope had through a specific for Bright's Disease.

There never was one until Pulton worked out his Renal emollient (Fulton's Renal Compound), and

Since then inflamation of the kidneys and bladder, commonly called "kidney trouble" or "Bright's Disease" or whether six months or six years old commonly yields.

If you have had kidney trouble over six months, you should write at once for it is the only hope. Efficiency 87 per cent where patients do not wait until bed-ridden although some of them recover. It can be had in South Bend only at Fulton's Drug Store.

How is Your Weight?

While it is true that too much weight is not to be desired yet the fact remains that many men and women are this to the point of danger. This danger lies in their having no reserve force or nerve power to combat deadly diseases. Nature's way of reducing flesh is the food wall and to look well, and the safe up the question of how best to increase the weight. Physicians and chemists, by experiments have solved the problem, and have found a tablet for the purpose of the blood, by the administration of 7 grain hypo-nuclean tablets, and this always followed by an increase of weight. Obtain in sealed packages, and take for a period of several months according to directions with package.
