Los Angeles Bay Captures $40,000 in Prizes and Crown of Racing World by Great Post

By Associated Press
PHILADELPHIA, June 1.—A youthful dare-devil from Los Angeles won $40,000 and the crown of the racing world in the Hoosier speed race today.

Frank Lockhart, 23 years old, driving his first major race, piloted his little white coupe past the victor in the battle classic, out to 400 miles in 11 hours and 10 minutes, an average of 35.2 miles an hour. The race was held at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, where rain had delayed the start for several days.

As the flying race was flagged from the pits, the rain came down in torrents, soaking thousands of spectators on the track. In the crash of the rain, the crowd was so dense that it seemed the track, making any further attempt to continue the race was impossible.

Lockhart's victory was a surprise to many, as he was considered a newcomer to the racing world. He had won several minor races, but this was his first major triumph.

His opponent, Young, was a veteran racer, but he was unable to keep up with Lockhart's pace. Young finished second, with a time of 11 hours and 15 minutes, an average of 34.5 miles an hour.

The race was a thrilling contest, with many close calls and exciting maneuvers. Lockhart's driving was praised for its precision and speed.

The prize money of $40,000 was a record for a single race. Lockhart will receive the money in installments over the next few months.

The race was a great success for the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, which has been the site of many famous races.

The weather was a major factor in the race. The rain had delayed the start for several days, and it continued to pour during the race.

Despite the weather, the race was a great success, and Lockhart's victory was a major upset.
