BRONCHOS COMING HOME AFTER SERIES WITH RAIDERS

SOUTH BEND PUTS BILLIKENS ON ICE

DEFEATS HENDRICK'S MEN WITHOUT ANY EFFORT.

MOFFIT HURLS FINE BALL

Fort Wayne Sends Three Twirlers to Firing Line But Bronchos Are There With Big Bingle Sticks.

The Tribune's Special Service.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., July 3.—The Bronchos yesterday put the second game of the Fort Wayne series in cold storage in the first four innings in which they hammered Harry Curns until Jack Hendricks applied the "hook" and put in Charlie Alberts who showing signs of weakness gave way to Walter Miller who finally stopped the bombardment and got through five innings without being scored against.

In the meantime Elmer Moffit was swinging along nicely through the engagement and was never forced to extend himself as he not only put up a good line of ba — but had such fine support that he managed to keep out of danger all the time. Craven pulled off a nice little stunt in the third inning that retired the side but in doing it he unfortunately stepped on Tommy Fremer's hand and sank his spikes into the flesh in three places.

Moffit opened the third inning by hitting to center and after Blount had been retired Fremer hit a slow grounder to Craven for a base. Eisten repeated the dose with the pitcher's box and Curns scored. Fremer was caught off the throw in and after he was caught in a rundown between the bags a long swing like he intended to throw to second to nip Eisten who was taking an extra hog on the play and Fremer started for home. Craven lunged for the ball and in the act of throwing it he accidentally inflicted the injury.

Jubilee for South Bend.

South Bend had a regular bonaling jubilee with Harry Curns' delivery gathering eight hits while he was on the mound although three of the runs are chargeable to mistakes behind the south side flinger.

Curns was showed in the first Cravens hit to center and took third on Kelly's hit to right. Heckinger, Fort Wayne's new catcher, who made his first bow here in the battle, beaved wild to outfield allowing Kelly home second and Cravens scored. Kelly homered and Curns muffed a throw at first and Kelly finished the route. After Blount and Fremer had been retired in the first Curt Eisten lifted the ball over right field fence for home run. Curns hitting Moffit's first pitch in the Cravens instead of holding the hack third was left uncovered and the Turn set sail for the bag. Eisten's three ta — been second and third that bounded merrily along until it came to Curly Blount, hopped over his head and went for home. Blount was caught at Douglas and beat the throw to first and after Coffey had whiffed Cravens landed for three sacks. McDermott let the throw to third get by him and the midget tiekled on home. Alberts then came in to pitch and Curns got hot for a single and was wild and after the side had been retired Miller was sent up and stopped the fustlade.

He allowed a couple of hits but they did not count for runs. The big end of Cravens's day ended in the pitcher's box when he was cut and bruised by Fremer's ball for the remainder of the encounter. The score:

PITTSBURG DEDICATES NEW MILLION DOLLAR ATHLETIC FIELD NAMED IN HONOR OF GENERAL FORBES

Thursday the dream of Pittsburg was realized. The great new $1,000,000 baseball park, known as Forbes field, was thrown open to the public, and Chicago and Pittsburg engaged in the first battle on the splendid field, which is the most splendid park in the country.

It is so called in honor of Gen. Forbes who not only furnished Pittsburg with the sinews for it name by giving the city the ground from the French and outline it for Pitt.

Situated at the northeast corner of Schenley park, one of the most beautiful parks in the country, the field spreads its great steel wings to the south and east upon a most extraordinary landscape. The field proper covers approximately seven acres. Around the crown of this lying field, 24 feet high and extending 818 feet from end to end, is the great concrete and steel grandstand, the most extensive of which has been poured 305 carloads of gravel, 45 carloads of cement, 60 carloads of brick, 65 carloads of structural steel, 21 carloads of sewer pipe, 6 carloads of concrete mortar, 3 carloads of ornamental iron and 18 carloads of chairs.

This stand, the largest in the country, is divided into three receding tiers, each L-ed with boxes, nearly 300 in number, and has a seating capacity of about 18,000. Beyond this main stand, directly on the left, and continuing along the same lines, is the massive left field bleacher, constructed entirely of reinforced concrete, 121 feet long by 50 feet high, and which contains 43 rows, with seating capacity of more than 3,000, and for out right field is—other bleacher—the 12 cent one—capable of accommodating 2,000 people. The cost of the ball park at Forbes field will be about $1,000,000. The exits are such that it is estimated that when packed to its capacity the place can be emptied in eight minutes. A potential wall of solid concrete, 10 feet high, surrounds the grounds from end to end of the stands.

The club control of the home team are per excellence. Each of the visiting teams has a private locker, a bath, a quick drying apparatus for uniforms, etc. Barney Dreyfuss has said: "The best is none too good for the local fans of Pittsburg, and it has been my humble endeavor to give them a first class ball park and the very best ball team that is in my power."

The consensus of opinion at present in Pittsburg is that Dreyfuss is living up to his "humble endeavor."

Sunday, July 25, 2 p. m.—Handicap medal Foursome. Prize, one dozen balls.

Saturday, July 31.—Team match.

GRUMP SPECIAL GOT IN.

Three Losing Teams Trail on One Train.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., July 3.—The grump special arrived in Fort Wayne Wednesday morning over the Grand Rapids road bearing along with it the Fort Wayne, South Bend and Grand Rapids ball teams and this charge is the excuse for calling it that kind of a special, for it carried in the Pullmans more gloom and sad tidings than was ever hauled by one locomotive over the road.

The story told by his followers were horrifying to tell how it happened that every game they had won, they had been chucked to the discard. Fort Wayne had the burden of six losses out of seven games to bear and South Bend had just been bowled over four successive times in double dockers with Zanesville.

Jollity was at a discount and every mother's son of every team on the train had a distinct and separate grouch and each grouch was working over time. Grant had the additional burden of a grouch on "Sunny" Walsh just blue out of the team.

In addition to losing the games Manager Hendricks was grumpy because he lost out on a few players he wanted badly. He could have gotten Mack Wheeler, Wheeling's first base, but for the fact that he was away from home and could not see him to the player. He wired an acceptance of the terms offered him but the reply came back that Lowell had closed a deal. This message had to be sent on to Evansville and the delay was fatal.

BIG CROWDS TO SEE GAMES

South Bend Will Draw Heavy at Grand Rapids.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., July 3.—The coming of Grand Bronchos to Grand Rapids to-morrow and Monday will be the means of giving local fans something to talk about during the next few days. Since South Bend started the Raiders on their downward path by taking four straights from them, the team has been the talk of the town in this city.

Holding to every one the scene the fans will turn out by the thousands in the next three games and added to the local rooters will be hundreds from towns and country in this territory who will come here on the baseball excursion. The excursion on Monday, With South Bend the biggest drawing card in the Central league as the Fourth of July bill, Grand Brotherhood expects the attendance of the next two days to set a new league record.

MAY USE BOBBY LYNCH.

Grosschow Will Take on Chicago Infielder if McDonald is Out.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., July 3.—Manager Grosschow is up against it for a time to take the third base position if Mickey McDonald is laid up as that he will not be able to play, but plans on sending to Chicago for Bobby Lynch, the shortstop Aggie Grant used for a time while Kelly was out of the game.

Grosschow's hand is still so sore that he can not play, and McDonald is playing on his nerve every game. It is no wonder that the Tots make errors, for the lineup is sadly disrupted. However, Lynch will put up a good game for a short time if he is sent for.

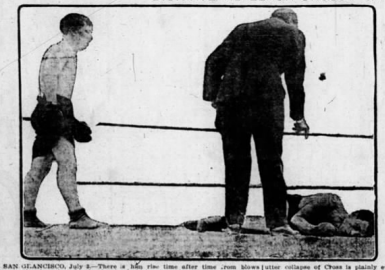
END OF THE FORTY-FIRST ROUND OF THE DICK HYLAND-LEACH CROSS FIGHT



SAN GLANCISCO, July 3.—There is no question but that the dentist gladiator, Leach Cross fought to the very last round against Dick Hyland, the Oregon giant, with Dick Hyland the California lightweight. Those who saw the fight fans have seen for 15 years. The blow rise time after time from blows which were calculated to do the boasts state that it was one of the plucky-est battles ever fought in the longest ring in the San Francisco fight fans have seen for 15 years. The utter collapse of Cross is plainly evident in his face and arms during the entire fight. Owing to the fact that a fog hung over the ringed arena during the entire fight it was difficult to secure a good photograph.
