Games for To-day.

Wheeling at South Bend.
Springfield at Fort Wayne.
Dayton at Grand Rapids.
Terre Haute at Marion.

The Greens split even with Wheeling yesterday in a double header, losing the first game after a desperate struggle of eleven innings by the score of 4 to 3, and winning the second, 5 to 2.

The attendance was only fair, but there is reason to believe that the team has at last overcome the hoodoo which has been pursuing it, and that a greater percentage of victories will be gained. The boys have constantly played good ball, but things have been breaking badly for them. With Sager out of the game and Cogswell and Spangler unable to connect with the ball the team has been deficient in runs getting. But the sturdy right fielder and the elongated guardian of the first sack both broke into the hit column yesterday, and will probably continue to do so.

Ferguson and Cannon were the opposing pitchers in the first game, and both did well, the former fanning 11 men and the latter six. Runs were scored by both teams in the eleventh, by walks in the first inning, stole second and third, and scored on Cogswell's out. In the third a hit by Coffey, another steal and Anderson's sacrifice fly gave the visitors another run with a second tally. The Greens were then blanked until the eleventh, when Cogswell slipped second base with a hot single and Andrews scored on a wild throw to the plate. Cannon had worked himself in the first inning by Smith being hit, walking and getting to third on a wild pitch and home on McConnale double, and again in the sixth on hits by Smith, Wessel and McConnale. The last tallied player was the man who had hit the ball in the sixth, and struck out McConnal, however, smashed out a two bagger, and Brown knocked a high fly to center which the reliable Andrews muffed, allowing McConnal to come home and score on Noland's single, winning the game. The Greens took the field first in the eleventh game and were retired in the 1ock. Wheeling started to do things at once. Smith was hit, Wessel singled and so did McConnale, Smith scoring. Further trouble was averted, however, by McCourt driving out Cogswell, Kennedy fielding McConnale to third and Schaal going out via Anderson.

South Bend did nothing in its half, and Wheeling was blanked in the second. Again the Greens had in vain to score, Coffey and Anderson both reaching third on Pfiester poor throw in second, but the next two were easy outs, and Graf died between third and home. Cogswell scored in the fourth on Smith's two bagger to left and Spangler's single.

In the fifth after Smith flew out to center Coffey duplicated Cogswell's feat and counted on Andrews's infield out. Wheeling tied the score in the third hit and singles by Schaler and Bannon. Wheeling looked dangerous in the fifth when Wessel, the first up, singled. McConnale went out to Anderson, Wessel being forced to second first base. Spangler grabbed it and doubled Wessel unassisted, before he could return to the base. In the seventh after two were down McConnale reached first on a hit and was forced by him to hitting for two sacks. The Greens more than evened up in their half. Anderson fanned, but Cogswell drew his third pass from Pitcher Hanson, Smith hit to Schaler, who ran along the third base line on which he made the circuit, Cogswell preceding him. This ended the scoring, a full double play in the ninth spoiling Wheeling's chances. The score:

Caught Between Innings.

There was a little confusion of Umpire Quinn's work, it was very bad.

Wheeling has a team of live ball players. The scores show what desperate struggles the games of this series have been.

Wheeling accepted 14 chances without an error in the two games. It looks better at short than any one the Greens have had this year or last.

The crowd gasped in amazement when Anderson dropped Pfiester fly in the eleventh inning of the first game. Anderson is a good fielder, but he had done such a thing before. The error allowed Wheeling to tie the score.

Wortlake caught the first game for the Greens, but was all in at the finish and Price had to get behind the ball. Wortlake made a good showing. Thirteen pitchers in eleven games is not a good record. Grant did especially ill well.

Price batted out of turn in the eighth inning of the second game, thinking it was his turn to bat, and Wortlake was. If he did not do so he would have to open the ninth in his regular order to succeeded in working a nice trick, or be scratched out a nice single in that inning. He came to bat in the order in which he had played during the first game.

MUCH INTEREST AT WHEELING.

Fans Very Anxious to Get Results From Games.

The Wheeling Intelligencer says: "At no time this season was interest in the prowess of the Greens stirred up as it was last evening when the result of that first game at South Bend was flashed across three miles to anxiously awaiting fans. Hopes were in the first few innings, only to be revived again when three runs in the seventh were piled up. When, in the thirteenth inning, the game was won, pandemonium was jubilant. By taking that game Wheeling has practically left third place and the race begun for the place above it. It was a brilliant start and if maker things look as if they had only been a temporary check in the upward report coming down the home stretch."

Umpire Quinn came near being mobbed over at Fort Wayne Sunday. The Sentinel says as follows of the affair:

"Quinn, the umpire, was hooted yesterday in ordering a spectator put out of the grounds. Al Pepe, who was pitcher, is one of the best patrons of the game in the city and was not at fault. He was sitting in the bleachers "rooting" with just cause, but he was not insulting. He consented to leave the bleachers because he didn't want the game forfeited, but at the box office he expressed well and loud his opinion of the game, and got a sign of a class of two from Quinn. Pepe was escorted to the dressing room after the game until the crowd had dispersed."

Charlie Andrews was back behind the bat at South Bend yesterday, and he did good work. It was a pity for him to leave home. "Teddy" Price caught the game.—Fort Wayne Sentinel.

"Stole" Bung is playing shot for the Greenville team, which is a strong amateur league in the west, and on Sunday he won a game at Aurora, Ill., with a triple in the ninth.

The game was then awarded to Grand Rapids by a score of 9 to 0.

P. T. POWERS, IS STILL HEAD OF MINOR BASEBALL LEAGUE ORGANIZATION.

There was some talk during the last few months of a movement to dethrone Powers from the presidency of the Eastern league. The trouble began with a couple of disgruntled managers and ended where it started. The Eastern league is a well managed organization, and the management of its executive officer has guided the Eastern through many a stormy era.

Greens have an open date. The challenge reads as follows:

"Capt. Angus Grant, Dear Sir: We would like very much to arrange a game with your aggregation of ball players when you have an off date. If it is not too much trouble we would like to know at your earliest convenience. I think we can accommodate you at the park the Greens are playing at present of course you understand we are only playing ball there for the time being. Make it interesting for a professional bunch at the rate some of them are playing. If it is impossible to get a game with you before the league season closes we would like to have you name some time after Sept. 15. Wishing you better success for the next three weeks and to hear from you at your earliest convenience. We are yours, New Carlisle Tigers."

BALL PLAYERS IN A FIGHT.

Goodwin, Formerly of Central League, Severely Injured.

Vincennes, Ind., Aug. 17.—During a street fight yesterday Clyde Goodwin, formerly a Central league twirler, and a member of the Vincennes baseball team, was dangerously injured by being struck with a missile hurled by Charles Hoffman, a former Vincennes boy, who is now a leaguer, received a serious gash under the left eye. Goodwin and five members of the Cairo baseball team were opposed to Hoffman and several members of the Vincennes team. Hoffman's injuries consist of a dangerous scalp wound and a bad cut in the forehead, but physicians give hope of recovery. No arrests have been made. The cause of the fight is unknown.

Government's Shrewd Scheme.

The Canadian government, says the Westminster Gazette, has had built in Glasgow a traveling "stand" such as is commonly used at exhibitions, for the purpose of touring the country, advertising the advantages of life in the dominion. The wagon is now in Edinburgh. From there it is to travel through a large part of Scotland. The exterior of the wagon is painted bright vermilion, with appropriate mottoes, and when it comes to a standstill the sides and ends can be thrown up, converting it into a stand, on which are shown specimens of the products of the colony. By means of the stand it is hoped to reach remote and otherwise inaccessible parts of the country.
