Andrew Jackson, 7th President of the United States.

ENERGY of character—this is the first essential of all human greatness, and General Jackson, one of the most picturesque figures in history, possessed it in plenty.

Of Scotch-Irish lineage, and a fighting man to his finger tips, the strategy of "Horse Shoe Bend" proved that he understood the art of war, but it was the battle of New Orleans that made him president.

He was a great lawyer, a bold statesman, had a clear head for business, and nothing could daunt him nor break his purpose. All his life he drank the generous creative juices of the soil.

And who will dare say that it weakened his will power or detracted from his success, his fame, his glory, and his might.
