BRONCS IN HARD LUCK—ZIMMERMAN TENNIS CHAMPION

BRONCHOS SPLIT LABOR DAY BILL

LOSE MORNING GAME, BUT WIN EASILY IN AFTERNOON.

WITHERS IN FINE FORM

Crack Pitcher Included in South Bend Deal Again Displays Unusual Ability—Scores, 4-3, 6-0.

The Tribune's Special Service.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Sept. 5.—Fighting for every point, the Bronchos lost the first game of yesterday's pair of Labor Day contests, but won the second easily, 4 to 3. Four support in the afternoon battle lost Platteen the game, but the big hurler was also solid. The scores were 4 to 3 and 6 to 0.

Stoyer, recently drafted by the Boston Nationals, pitched good ball in the morning game, but his backers were unable to pierce the defense of the locals quite frequently enough. Loomis was in form, holding the invaders to five singles.

Withers is Strong.

Withers' performance in the afternoon was the feature, however, the Bronchos' hurler allowing only three short-out hits and allowing but three hits. Score:

TOROKS CLAIM TITLE.

May Meet Staples-Hildebrand Club for City Championship.

By defeating the Mooseheads decisively at Huntington park, Sunday, the Toroks appear to end the 1911 baseball season as city champions, although they have been scheduled to play the Staples-Hildebrand club, another claimant to the city title. The latter team is made up of last and prominent Sunday school teams, and has won and winning ball since the first few games of the season, when they met defeat at the hands of several opposing teams. It is possible, however, a game for the city championship will be arranged between the Toroks and the Staples a week from Sunday.

Another challenger of the Toroks is the Laurel club, which also wishes to meet the Mooseheads. The Laurels will meet Jerome, Mich., club next Sunday.

LAURELS ARE VICTORS.

Win Sunday Game as Plymouth by Score of 10 to 1.

The Tribune's Special Service.

PLYMOUTH, Ind., Sept. 5.—The Laurels, of South Bend, defeated the home team Sunday by a score of 10 to 1.

The Laurels hit the ball hard, Negley and Weiss featuring with the pat. The former secured a double and a triple, while Weiss drove out a double, triple and homer. Score by innings:

Laurels	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	0	10	14	1
Plymouth	0	0	0	0	0	1	0	0	0	6	3

Batteries—Weiss and Negley; Fedro, Harrison and Bishop; Breese and Kuntz.

Reds Lose By 12 to 5.

The Tribune's Special Service.

KENDALLVILLE, Ind., Sept. 5.—The Kendallville Reds went to pieces Sunday, in a game with the Mishawaka Cubs, and lost by a score of 12 to 5. Cook, the home regular pitcher, was on the sick list, and Moore was substituted. The visitors hit Moore at will for the hard and Merts Weiss hit on the home field with a triple in the game. The Reds will close the season with Garrett next Sunday.

Sensational Racing.

By Associated Press.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 5.—Two big stakes called out sensational racing at the opening of the Indianapolis state fair races. Maillard won the $5,000 Indiana stakes, beating the fast three-year-old trotters, and Miss Defender, the horse world stake for $2,000, for free-for-all pacers.

BOSTON'S CLEVER SOUTHPAW, WHO MAY BE TRADED TO GIANTS

BOSTON, Mass., Sept. 5.—The local Nationals begin play here to-day in their more homecoming before the 1911 pennant race is close. Not satisfied with parting with several good players earlier in the campaign, it was give one more. According to reports, Matters, the Rustlers' clever southpaw pitcher, will wear a New York uniform hereafter. The excuse for letting Matters go to be in a down hitting pitcher and that he is disatisfied with the north pitcher. With the Giants he might be alright.

BRONCHOS PLAY IN HARD LUCK

FORMER EVAS LOSE FOUR GAMES BY SINGLE TALLY.

Show Tendency to Stop Slide Toward Cellar—Vets Have Been in Lead for Over 100 Days.

Wednesday will see the Bronchos opening finale last stand of the season at Springbrook park. Under the management of Eddie Wheeler, the steeds have been unable to break their losing streak but have displayed a tendency to stop their slide toward the cellar, four of the five games lost on the final road trip going to Kokomo by a margin of one run. Their record for the jaunt to the south to-day's game is five games lost, and three won. To illustrate the hard luck in which the boys have been running, the results of each game in runs is given:

Tuesday—Zanesville, 1; South Bend, 4.

Wednesday — Zanesville, 1; South Bend, 4.

Friday—Wheeling, 8; South Bend, 7.

Saturday—Wheeling, 4; South Bend, 4.

Sunday—Wheeling 2; South Bend, 3.

Monday—Terre Haute, 4, 6; South Bend, 3, 0.

The Dayton Vets have had the lion by the tail since the start of the league, practically, and have held the lead for over 100 days, never being headed after dropping into the lead, May 22.

It is reported that Rube Kroh, Bunkie of Dayton, purchased by the Vets from the Kokomo club, will be traded to the Nashville Southern association club, for "Red" Smith, a college third sacker, who has played semi-pro ball for the Nashville club this season.

Among several members of the major leagues who will spend their winter hunting in Mexico is Dolly Stark, ex-Dayton shortstop. Dolly, who is now playing short for the champs of the Cleveland Naps, will shoot wild turkey and quail, and grapple with bears, if they are any, all winter. They will be joined at San Antonio, Tex., by Catcher Jim Stanage of the Sox, who will do the same, and several members of the club.

LOSE $1,250 BY DRAFT.

Attempt to "Cover Up" Pitcher Platteen Fails.

The Tribune's Special Service.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Sept. 5.—Because the Cincinnati National league club drafted Pitcher Platteen of the local Central league team, the Terre Haute baseball management is out $1,250. Platteen had been sold to the Newark Eastern league club for $2,000, a deal which necessitated his delivery before the Newark club, which finishes its season in college, timeout, at the Michigan "Aggie" institute, and will not be able to report until July, in 1912. For this reason, the Newark management decided to release the pitcher, and return him to Terre Haute the remainder of the season, the Terre Haute club kept the same way, and it is probable he will finish the season here without being drafted.

"One Round" Lands "K. O."

NEWPORT, R. I., Sept. 5.—"One Round" Hogan, of California, knocked out Jim Eaves in the fourth round of what was scheduled to be a 15-round but here yesterday. The match was held in the pro ring.

FIGHT WITH JACK LANGFORD'S GOAL

BOSTON HEAVYWEIGHT TO BATTLE JEANETTE TO-NIGHT.

Colored Boxer Expects Bout to Lead to Match With Champion Johnson—Hard Battle Anticipated.

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—A bout with Jack Johnson for the world's championship, is the goal to which Sam Langford expects that big fight tonight with Joe Jeanette will head him. The Boston heavyweight is taking no chances. He has trained Barder than for any of his previous matches, and is a decided favorite.

Jeanette, however, is expected to prove the hardest nut Langford has had to crack during his progress toward the championship, making the fourth battle between the two times, and their last, won by Sam, at Boston last September, was a furious battle. The fight will be staged at Madison Square garden, and the promoters have made a special effort to keep clear of the confusion and crowding that marred the recent Wells-Brown bout.

HUMBOLOT IS STILL WRESTLING CENTER

WOUNDED KNEE BEAT "HACK," ACCORDING TO CHALLENGER.

GOTCH IS EASY WINNER

Champion Plays With Lion in Bout for World's Wrestling Title— 19 Minutes Required for Two Falls.

CHICAGO, Sept. 5.—The geographical center of the world's wrestling, is more than ever fortified at Humboldt, Ia., the home of Frank Gotch, yesterday.

Moforver, Ed Smith, who proclaimed the world's champion victor over George Hackenschmidt, declared that for the next 10 years there would be no shift of the wrestling capital, unless Gotch should choose to change his place of residence.

The Russian's showing was pitiful. The crowd desired that he had "quit," but the defeated challenger, through copious tears, averred that he had entered the arena with a wrenched knee on which Gotch worked and speedily reduced into a comparatively helpless state. In any event, it is certain the Russian was outclassed by a wide margin. Had he spent a sleepless night and a good part of the day before the wrestling event, Dr. J. J. Davis, who examined both wrestlers before they went on the mat, stated that while Eave might be something wrong with Hackenschmidt's knee, it was not evident during the exhibition. Gotch was on the mat 19 minutes and 18 seconds to gain the first fall, the second required only five minutes and 32 seconds, which Hackenschmidt's friends assert, proved that his knee was not in condition.

Referee Smith is emphatic for the statement that when Gotch secured the fatal toe lock which won him the match, Hackenschmidt cried out: "Let me up, let me up, I have had hard, 'Don't break my leg,' and fell with his shoulders to the mat, fruitlessly at the bottom.

Toe Hold is Fatal.

The first fall resulted from a reverse body hold after the man had struggled for 14:18 1-2. Gotch secured a hold, for which Hackenschmidt is famous, and threw his opponent. His champion did it upon the left side of Hackenschmidt after the second fall had gone 1-2 1-4. Reversing had he secured the grip when Hackenschmidt advanced his knee.

Hackenschmidt's own statement that it was the easiest world's championship ever won, tells the story. Gotch was as well as it could be hoped, and was able to do his work difficultly at any time during the match. Neither was he forced to extend himself to win. The lowan secured it all, or his entire half dozen dangerous holds, in the first fall. Hackenschmidt had Gotch pinned but once. During the first fall Hackenschmidt obtained a body hold on Gotch that brought him to the mat. The champion was on the one was not down, and he was on his back. Almost before the "ion" realized that his opponent was in a dangerous predicament, Gotch had wriggled out of the hold and was bounding from the ring to safety.

Gotch Had One Excuse.

For his defeat, Hackenschmidt offers the same excuse that his left knee which was injured in training two weeks ago, weakened under the pressure of the Gotch hold. Gotch said it was useless to continue in the ring if Hackenschmidt claimed he denied injury the challenger was in no state mentally to enter into a gruelling contest. Hackenschmidt's knee appeared before he entered the arena.

Gotch was in fine condition over his injured knee, or his fretting over the match cannot be said. Lake Jeffries, brother of the champion, was in attendance night before the battle. His trainer, Jack Ryan, said that Lake, who is a big man, had him worth with Jeffries Koch, a German, and one of Koch's chief duties was to keep away all the fatherland to the Russian, and try to make him fight. Ryan said Hackenschmidt would not be signed. After Jeffries had worked for several hours to get ready, he arose and pleaded with his trainers to give him drugs that would make him fresh. Ryan said he would do this, and Hackenschmidt retired for the night early.

No Doubt of Superiority.

In the minds of the cast crowd that saw the match, there was no doubt as to which was the better wrestler. Gotch was in good condition and was not gassed his opponent. The Russian was not in good condition and was gassed. His condition was perfect. He entered the ring filled with confidence, and never once lost his composure throughout. At every stage of the bout he smiled as though he was certain of the outcome, and as the ultimate opponent.

On the other hand, Hackenschmidt appeared ill at ease. Twice he fell and fell he went about his work with the face set as if he was not in good condition. Twice he fell from after being the first fall, the courage of the Russian appeared to have oozed out of him. With shoulders slouped, and eyes downcast, he arose to meet his adversary at the starting signal.

Twice, he lost in the center of the grand stand, and two women who did more, perhaps, to cheer Gotch on to victory than all the men combined, were the assemblage.

Hackenschmidt's young bride. Frequently while in the limelight of the ring, Gotch would look toward the two women and smile. Twice, the minutes intervened, the Russian fells, he would return to his dressing room, and stand for a moment with his corner smiling and waving at the two. Hackenschmidt's face was a picture of pain the result of the bout. Twice he dressing room, twice he sat in his corner, smiling, and refusing the proffered attentions and cheering words of his trainers. Twice he was said to all to be in good condition, and twice he said would have, and there would due succeeded from the eyes.

Gotch Smiles After Bout.

Gotch only smiled after the match was over. He said the result was exactly as he thought it would be.

Gotch said he was not injured during that was done in one hold. Time was called at 2:15 o'clock. The contestants immediately locked heads and began feeling each other out. For five minutes they tugged at each other's shocks, wrists and arms, but neither obtaining a dangerous hold.

Gotch secured the first turned attention to the Russian's knee, and before he finally obtained a knee hold at the end of eight and one-half minutes. Once he massive lowan's hands had fastened on the Russian's left leg, the Russian went down. He struggled out of that, and a subsequent hold of the same kind and then became the aggressor. At the 10 minutes, Hackenschmidt secured a hold on Gotch's foot for the last, but he was down only an instant.

After 14 minutes of wrestling Gotch started Hackenschmidt down with a body hold. Gotch protected himself while scored the Russian into a half nelson. They struck the mat together, head to head. Then Gotch pivoted on his opponent's stomach, clamped on a reverse body hold, and the first fall was over.

Gotch Works Splendidly.

The first five minutes of the second fall was a replica of that period in the first, but of a sudden Gotch reached down with his right hand, grasped Hackenschmidt's left ankle, and unbalanced the Russian. While the contestants were on their feet, Gotch twisted, Gotch strong the Russ's injured leg with his right knee, and the latter crumpled into a heap upon the canvas. Instantly Gotch was on him, and secured a leg hold, and while under the under man's left toe, Hackenschmidt screamed a couple of times, rolled over on his shoulders and gave up.

ZIMMERMAN RETAINS NET CHAMPIONSHIP

Crack Tennis Player Defeats Jernagan in Match for Trophy.

Another tennis victory in 1911 and Bob Zimmerman, of Mishawaka, will be permanent holder of the Calvin K. Chase tennis trophy. Zimmerman scored his second win in the annual Y. M. C. A. tournament Monday afternoon by defeating Jernagan, who had qualified for the finals by winning from H. Warner Saturday afternoon in three sets, 4-2, 4-6, 6-4.

Zimmerman won three in four sets in his match with Jernagan Monday. His victory came as a surprise to many followers of the net game, who had entered Jernagan as the probable winner. The latter displayed possession of more than his usual successful opponent, but lacked the latter's judgment and ability to place the ball. The match, which was interesting and closely contested, was witnessed by a large number of people of the court being lined with spectators. Jernagan won the first set, 6-4, but Zimmerman came back strong in the next two and won easily, while the latter's cleverness in placing the ball, being required to terminate the game. The scores were as follows: 4-6, 6-2, 6-1, 7-5.
