ARE AFTER CONNORS

SOUTH BEND FIRST BASEMAN IN GREAT DEMAND.

SPRINGFIELD WANTS HITTER

Wheeling Fans Are Enthusiastic Over Signing of Alva Spangler—Chilly Weather Prevents Games in Major Leagues.

Three Central league clubs went John "Buck" Connors but they might as well make an effort to secure the services of Hal Chase, of the New York Highlanders, as to try to induce Manager Grant to part with the local heavy hitting first sacker. Connors will cover the initial sack for South Bend this year and there is not an inducement which would be sufficient to lead up to the release of the favorite.

Evansville, Dayton and Springfield are the clubs which would not object to lugging the "shoaler" on the first sack and Springfield has really been counting on securing him. Up to last Saturday, Manager Hubbard, of the Indians, was confident that he would be able to arrange a deal with Grant by which Connors would be loaned to him but when he heard of the sale of Connors to Wheeling he became disappointed. Hubbard picked the wrong man and now he will have to work hard if he digs up a good first sacker before the opening of the Central league season. Connors, who is now on the market is young Hummelsbee, who was released by Grand last Saturday.

Wheeling Fans Are Happy.

Wheeling fans are in high glee over the signing of Spangler and they have every reason to be enthusiastic over the Virginia city if the club finishes in a tailend position. The former South Bend first baseman is a great favorite in the West Virginia city and nothing would please the fans more than the presence of that player which would have pleased the rooters more.

The Wheeling Register says: "That Big Alva will receive a warm welcome when he comes to Wheeling is a safe betting. On all sides, yesterday we heard expressions of satisfaction that the former South Bender had been secured for the initial sack. The management of the Wheelers showed a enterprise and liberality in going down in their pockets and buying first players when, through desertion and shiftiness, the team appeared to have deserted Wheeling forever.

The Wheeling News also has a good word to say for Alva in the following: "The signing of Spangler, who would not come for a small consideration, shows that the management is going to have a good team at any cost.

Price and the Steeples.

Down at Wheeling the fans are wondering why Price and the Steeples do not report at all this year and President Perkins has announced to the public that he also fears that such may be the case. It will be remembered by the fans that Price and the Steeples left Hagerstown season and was to again have that position this year. He was not able, however, to join the team previous to May 2 and for this reason he was fined and suspended. Price is to "jump" Schriver. Under these circumstances it would not be pleasant for Twiley to play at Wheeling this season and some good friend of the clever outfielder should inform Manager Twiley. Price intended to play with Wichita, Kan. To satisfy everybody concerned Wheeling might bring about a deal with some other Central league club for Price and the Steeples. Wheeling There are three clubs on the circuit that could use him to very good advantage.

Cold Weather Causes Postponement.

With the mercury below the freezing point and brisk winds blowing at the rate of a gale the games were not scheduled to take place yesterday. It was not to be wondered at that some of the games had to be postponed, as few managers dared to risk their pitchers out in the cold and some teams was numbered in the hundreds only.

In the American league, the Detroits-Cleveland and the Philadelphia-Boston games were postponed, while in the National league the Cubs and the Reds stayed in their hotels and did not get to the ball grounds at all.

The best game of the day was in Chicago, where the White Stockings and Pittsburgs had a game which was a bunch of decorate ball. It was a pitcher's battle pure and simple and the Chicago deserved their victory. The New York Americans had an easy time with the Washington Senators, Townsend as well as Patterson, who pitched for the New Yorks, had one bad inning and Griffith sent Walter Clarkson in to relieve him. The Americans had a comfortable lead and held the Washington until the ninth, when he eased up and let two runs be scored. In the National league St. Louis easily defeated Chicago, and Brooklyn had no trouble with the Giants. Ted Hanlon's Brooklyn team yesterday cleaned up the Cincinnati Reds again in a loosely played game.

The Case of Hawkins.

Billy Lauder is in hot water and it is up to him to explain to the satisfaction of Tommy Hawkins why he requested that he be suspended from the Dayton team. It is up to Lauder to explain why he announced that he had jumped to Youngstown, O. Under these conditions it would seem that the two men are at cross purposes, Hawkins denying that they are responsible for certain things that have transpired within the last few weeks.

According to information from Dayton Lauder wired Hawkins yesterday with a statement that Hawkins had not been reported to President Carson with a request that he be suspended and Hawkins is telling his friends, the Dayton fans, that he never for a single thought of signing with Youngstown, O. The real facts of the case are that Dayton did report the star catcher to the league executive with the intention of having him suspended and he did state that he was going to play ball with Youngstown this season. He not only made the statement that he had jumped but he also made an effort to induce Hawkins to throw up his Dayton engagement.

Boston Nationals Sold.

Frank V. Dunn, a banker of theatrical enterprises in Boston, New York and Philadelphia, closed a deal yesterday and posted a forfeit of $5,000, which will give him the ownership of the Boston National League club on Nov. 1. Over $40,000 is involved in the transaction. Dunn was ready to take up the deal last fall but the owners of the club had contracts then could not get away from and were satisfied to turn over the whole plant next fall. It was said that he was representing a New York syndicate when he made the deal and had planned the year he decides to make the deal for himself and also Boston Director President Soden and Director Conant said they were ready to turn over the club to Dunn and Soden 62 years of age, while Mr. Hilliken has been out of the club since last season.

Caught on the Fly.

Springfield has released Brosnahan, an outfielder.

Madison defeated Wisconsin 3 to 1 at Madison, Wis., yesterday.

Cold weather made it necessary to call off the Grand Rapids-Rochester game at Grand Rapids Sunday.

This is the kind of dope which appeared in the sporting papers made up in the form of a "special" from Cincinnati the day of the game, the Cincinnati team scheduled with the Eastern championship team Sunday: "Lee will be on hand to-day the American association champions will be here to-day and Lee will be for another crack with the Old Reliables."

Dick Cooney, the former Philadelphia and Boston National league player, will manage the Lancaster team this season and probably will replace Hickman, who has been playing right field since Crawford and given first base permanently. Detroit bought Cooney's release and he was given his chance last season to join Charles Dickson, Detroit's popular player, has been offered $2,400 to play independent ball in Cuba.

Little Willie McDonald, the coach of the Cincinnati Reds, is still laid up in bed, so bad is he that he was in old "home, sweet home," again. Pitcher Scott, Hawkins and McDonald all played amateur ball together in Cincinnati. Scott and Hawkins played in Cincinnati and fought out grammar school championship in back lots when they were in knickerbockers. Later they became members of the Franklin Athletic club of Cincinnati, the league formed from the ashes of amateur baseball in Cincinnati. Scott and Hawkins

CHESBRO, ONE OF GREATEST PITCHERS IN THE GAME.

PITCHING AT THE PLATE.

New York is counting on many victories through the services of Todd Chesbro, who is regarded as one of the greatest pitchers "in the minors" since had ever seen. Not only is the big fellow a good pitcher but he is also a fine batter and a mighty hard hitter for a man who fills the position which he does.

GREENS WIN CONTEST

REGULARS HAVE EASY TIME WITH NOTRE DAME.

WILLIAMS ON THE MOUND

Former Evansville Twirler Feeds Collegians With Slow Teasing Twisters—Schafer and Moffit Work.

A cold raw wind blew across Carroll Park yesterday afternoon, but notwithstanding this fact all of the players played with the Greens and were under instructions to go in and win." It was for the purpose that the collegians went down to easy defeat, the score of the contest being 6 to 3.

The crew of Capt. Grant overwhelmed the varsity at the outset and with the game checked played rather easily after the third inning. At no time did the varsity have a chance to win and that they scored at all was due to the nonchalance of some of the infielders who handled the dopy offerings with the greatest of difficulties.

Jesse Williams who took his second turn at the mound against the students served up slow tantalizing twisters which gave the young men something to think about during the three innings he was in the game. Schafer and Moffit were the other pitchers worked out, the former allowing two hits in the three innings he twirled and the latter giving the university players one single in the seventh.

Greens Hit the Ball.

South Bend showed up in pretty style with the stick and although but one hit was made off the offerings of the Greens, the hits were of the good old fashioned kind which result in runs. For Joe Lefevre took the honors in this line of work, each man who came to the plate hitting the ball well with only one hit, but that he because Notre Dame's pitchers were too wise to allow him to pass the ball for fear that he would put it over the fence. Lefevre's hit was a long fly to the fence. Cafe to worst the man at the mound for a gift, but on two other occasions he poked the ball into the infield and smiled as the infielders found their fingers acting as thumbs. THAT AWFUL "SPIT BALL."

To throw the "spit ball," moisten the first and second fingers of the pitching hand, allowing these fingers to rest but lightly upon the surface of the ball, which is held in a fairly firm clasp between the thumb and the third finger doubled into the hand.

The grasp, except for the fact that the ball is not firmly clasped by the first and second fingers, is the same as that used in throwing the fast ball. The style of delivery is the same, too, but as the ball always slides over the moistened first and second fingers instead of being released by them, the ball does not revolve as it goes on toward the batsman.

On the contrary, it is about as motionless as a slow ball. There being no twisting motion to it, it does not break as it reaches the batsman, dropping out, and sometimes dropping straight before him. Sometimes the "spit ball" takes a drop of a foot and a half, leaving the batsman who strick at it look foolish. The "spit ball" is a fast ball but it is delivered with the same motion as a fast straight ball, it does not go as fast, having the speed of an ordinary curved ball—that is, about 70 miles an hour instead of 90 miles an hour. There seems to be no way to control the "spit ball" at present. All a pitcher can do is to throw it and take his chances of having it go in the right direction to fool the batsman. In brief, the "spit ball" is neither a slow ball nor a fast ball, but a deceptive ball to the batsman; but in addition it takes an eccentric course upon nearing the plate, shooting in or out or up or down, the pitchers themselves not yet being able to determine in advance just what course the straight shoots at as to enable them to find a way to control its direction.
