

Benders Open at Terre Haute Today---Take Final From Muskegon 15 to 3

GET EIGHT RUNS IN THE EIGHTH

Compton Driven from Mound and Wachtel Walloped—Bowman Wins Game.

By Ed J. Murray.

There was some sweet music dashed up to the fans at Springbrook park yesterday afternoon. It was the song of the single, the blow of the double, and the bang of the home run, and when the final tune had been played the count stood South Bend 15, Muskegon 3.

Everybody on the home club hit safely at least one time except Tannehill, but it was only an act of robbery that kept Lee from getting in the column. He cracked one back of second base and Brubaker scooped it up. He on the run and got his man at first.

The visitors took the jump by scoring one run in the first but Koehler tied it in the locals' half with a blow over the fence. Abe Bowman delivered in great style in the second when he got a home run with two men on and gave the Benders the runs needed to win.

Bowman Allows Three Hits. Bowman was on the mound for the locals and while he held the enemy to three safe blows he would have lost the game if the Benders hadn't done better than they did in the first game with the Reds. Abe fanned seven, allowed one walk and hit one batsman. Compton was driven from the mound in the fourth after Hensling got his home run, and Wachtel finished.

O'Day, first up, got a walk and went to third when Dowling hit to center field. Fisher was an infield out, but O'Day counted when Koehler grabbed Coveleskie's grounder and hurried high home. Abe proceeded to fan McNeil and Stanley.

It was one, two, three in the second but in the third O'Day cracked a double to center and took third when Dowling flew to Collins. Fisher hit to Bowman and died at first for Abe had no chance to get the man at home. Wachtel, the second man to bat in the eighth inning, was the next Red to get on the path, but he didn't linger on the paths long as his drive went out of the park. McNeil was hit in the ninth, but Stanley ended it by flying out to Bashang.

Bowman Scores Three. Koehler's home run in the first tied the count. In the second Hensling beat out a drive that Brubaker hurried to first. Reilly cracked one to left field for two bases. Tannehill was out on a grounder to Fisher. Beall hit at Fisher and Hensling was tagged out sliding into the plate. Bowman then cracked one over the fence for three runs, Bashang hit to Fisher.

Not a Bender got on in the third, but in the fourth Hensling opened with a drive over the right field wall and Compton got the sign "Go out the mound." Wachtel took up the hurling duties and Beall was the only gent to get a safe blow that frame.

Bashang tapped back of second in the fifth and made it count for two bases. Koehler hit a short fly to left and Al never got away from second as it looked as if the ball would be caught. Collins did a death act and then Donnelly cracked a fly at Stanley. Bashang counted, but Koehler was tagged out trying to reach third after about three of the Reds got assists.

In the sixth only three men faced Wachtel. In the seventh the locals got four hits and a sacrifice fly, but counted only one run. Beall opened with a blow to center. Bowman laid one down and the sign "Go out the mound." Wachtel tried for Beall at second. Bashang tapped a bunt towards third and beat the throw. Koehler's fly to Stanley scored Beall, but Bowman remained on second. Collins hit between first and second, but no runs counted. Donnelly tapped to Fisher and Bowman was nailed at first. The big round was the eighth when the locals counted eight times. Here is how it happened:

Eight Runs Are Scored. Hensling got a life when Brubaker booted his drive. Reilly hit a grounder towards left. Tannehill bunted and Wachtel booted the ball, although he had a chance to get Hensling at third. Beall was hit, which forced in the first run. Bowman hit to Fisher and Reilly was out at home. Bashang drove one that Harris couldn't handle and Tannehill counted. Koehler sent one to Harris and the third baseman picked up the ball, but hurried wide at the plate and Beall counted.

Collins hit to right and Bowman and Bashang counted. Collins going to second and Koehler to third. Donnelly hit to right and scored two men. He stole second. Hensling walked and Donnelly was out trying to steal third. On the hit and run Reilly drove through the infield to right field and Hensling went on around to third. Reilly was caught off first. He headed for second and Hensling scored when Fisher threw poorly to second. Reilly kept on going for third, but Brubaker recovered the ball in time to nail him going into the bag.

YOUTH IS SIGNED.

BOSTON, June 17.—Harold Crisp, an 18-year-old pitcher of the Needham high school team, signed a contract Friday to play with the Philadelphia Athletics. The boy is said to have struck out 25 opposing batters in four successive games.

Penn Crew Has Chance in Regatta

The University of Pennsylvania has been granted a chance for winning the American college rowing classic on the Hudson river at Poughkeepsie today, when the crews of Cornell, Columbia, Syracuse and Pennsylvania row their annual four-mile race.

Penn's showing so far this year has been nothing wonderful, yet Coach Joe Wright is confident that the red and blue oarsmen will give a good account of themselves in the big race. The Penn crew has been slow in rounding into form, but is going at top speed now.

PRESS COOP CHATTER

BY MURRAY.

Tannehill was at short yesterday and took six chances without making a base. Lee's arm is in good shape and he got the ball over in great style.

There was much satisfaction for fans. Hensling had four chances to start something and he made good in four attempts.

Then, too, Reilly, who follows him in the batting order, came through every time Hensling was on with a clean blow.

Brubaker made the play of the afternoon when he speared Tannehill's grounder back of second. He picked the ball up with one hand and got his man.

In the ninth frame, Fisher and Coveleskie drove balls at Bowman. Abe made a game effort to get them but only touched them. Koehler was on hand and grabbing the balls, made the plays at first.

In the sixth Reilly drove a high fly and Harris came in for it. He caught the ball, but lost it only to grab it before it fell to the ground.

Beall's drive in the fourth was a legitimate hit. It went to Harris but the third sacker was only able to knock off some of the smoke. On his second blow the wind played a big part. It carried the ball towards the diamond and kept Stanley from reaching it. George was sure a happy lad. He has been eluding them on the nose for some time, but always at somebody.

Koehler's drive over the fence made two of folks fooled. It was on a line and didn't look high enough to clear the boards, but it was still going as it cleared the fence.

The value of a well placed bunt was illustrated in the seventh frame. Bowman and Bashang laid the ball down and both got credited with hits.

Smith was out on the coaching lines yesterday and seemed to be enjoying himself. It is needless to say Babe Myers was not in a cheerful frame of mind.

The Benders open a three-game series at Terre Haute today. They will then go to Evansville for three games.

Tomorrow at 3 p. m. the fast Gergacz Silver Edge team composed of Manufacturers' league material, will meet the colored South Bend Giants at Springbrook park. NEW YORK, June 16.—Harry Salee, star pitcher of the St. Louis National league club, was indefinitely suspended Friday by Manager Higgins of the club as the result of an altercation between the manager and the player Thursday night.

MAY KNOT HOLD ON LEADERSHIP

Double Bill at Singer Park and Game at Springbrook Today.

TODAY'S GAMES.
Springbrook park—Olivers vs. Ball Bands.
Singer park—Studebakers vs. Singers (two games).
Springbrook game called at 3 o'clock. First game at Singer park will start promptly at 2 o'clock.

There is a possibility that three teams may be tied for the leadership of the Manufacturers' Baseball league when today's contests are ended. Singers and Studebakers stage a double bill at Singer park, while the Olivers will clash with the Ball Bands at Springbrook. If the Olivers defeat the Ball Bands and a double victory comes to either the Studebakers or Singers, the two winning clubs and the Ball Bands will be tied for the top position with three and two games.

Fast Contests.
It is expected that all three games will be hotly contested. The Olivers are making a strenuous fight to get into the lead, while the Ball Bands see another opportunity to cop the flag. The Singers have shown improvements during the past couple of weeks, while the Studebakers appear to have weakened, judging from the walloping given them by the Ball Bands last week.

Prest F. R. Carson has ordered two umpires to officiate at the Olivers-Ball Band game. "Snips" Schaffer and Frank Hoxan will work at Springbrook while "Goat" Anderson will handle the double-header at Singer park alone.

NOT MUCH INTEREST IS SHOWN IN RACE
Crowd at Poughkeepsie Is Not Up to Standard of Other Years.

International News Service: POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., June 17.—No one around these Vassarized parks seemed unduly exercised over the intercollegiate regatta, which is to be staged on the Hudson river late this afternoon.

Less interest has been exhibited in the rowing classic of today than at any time in recent years. Yes, a crowd has filtered into town conveyed by trains, private yachts, automobiles and excursion steamers; but it isn't as sizeable as on regatta days of yore. Enthusiasm does not run riot. The old "hip, hip, hooray" stuff is conspicuously absent, almost pathetically absent. The village cops are having a quiet, uneventful day.

A hard rain fell during the night, with a steady drizzle this forenoon. The temperature was warm with an absence of wind.
