THE SOUTH BEND DAILY TRIBUNE, SOUTH BEND, INDIANA, FRIDAY, APRIL 4, 1902. 3

DEFEAT HIGH SCHOOL

NOTRE DAME WINS CONTEST

"Varsity Has Easy Victory Over Local Nine, Who Could Not Hit College Pitchers—Pile Up Many Errors and Lose by 16 to 5.

Notre Dame defeated the South Bend High school in a practice game of that half yesterday afternoon by a score of 16 to 5. As far as base ball was concerned the game was farce, the "varsity winning as it pleased. Hitting and Krick were in the points for South Bend and while they did good work their support was miserable, the team making 11 errors.

All three of the Notre Dame candidates for the box were tried, pitching three innings. Nine gathered Hogan, 18 faced Higgins, and 15 Dehan. Each of the pitchers struck out three men. Score:

| | |
|---|---|
| Notre Dame | 3 2 0 2 3 2 0 2 0—16 |
| South Bend | 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 5—5 |

Batteries — O'Neil, Hogan, Dehan and Higgins; Hilting and Krick.

CAPT. HERBERT RESIGNS.

Trouble Develops in Notre Dame Track Team.

M. P. Herbert, of Chicago, captain of Notre Dame's track team and its leading high hurdler here for three years past, to-day handed in his resignation to the faculty board of control, with the statement that he intends to retire permanently from athletics. He states as his reason for quitting that he cannot get along with Coach Butler, who is regarded as the best coach Notre Dame has ever had, stated in an interview that Herbert persisted in breaking training and was playing baseball against orders, and that other men on the team refused to work on Coach Butler's orders.

Herbert will be greatly missed in the hurdles and springs both at Philadelphia in April and in the later western meets.

CHARLESTON TO GET FIGHT.

Los Angeles Club Withdraws Offer for Big Contest.

New York, April 4.—Charleston, S. C., is now believed to have clear sailing for the Jeffries-Fitzsimmons bout. A dispatch said to have been received from Los Angeles and signed by J. J. McCarey, read:

"As Fitzsimmons has failed to answer our telegram of April 1, which was final, we withdraw all offers made by the Olympic Athletic club for the Jeffries-Fitzsimmons contest."

This was followed by a dispatch purporting to have been signed by Jeffries, saying:

"I will box Fitzsimmons at Charleston, but they must put up at least $10,000 at once and forfeit same if they fail to pull off contest."

CRACK SHOOTERS ARE OUT.

Number of Marksmen in Grand American Handicap Reduced.

Kansas City, April 4.—At the close of the second day of the Grand American handicap the number of wing shots with straight scores had been materially reduced Wednesday. Of the 142 who had not missed a bird when the shooting stopped Wednesday, 89 dropped out yesterday, leaving 54 who still have a straight score. Forty-four of the 54 high men have shot 16 rounds. When the shooting stopped last evening there were 97 men who had shot 15 rounds and among them were 19 shooters with a straight score.

TEMPLE DECLINES OFFICE.

Will Not Accept Presidency of National League.

New York, April 4.—The National league baseball magnates in session here have received a telegram from W. C. Temple, of Pittsburg, declining the position of president of the league.

Chairman Young has announced the following appointments of umpires for the coming season: Robert Emslie, "Hank" O'Day, Tom Brown and Joseph Cantillon.

Ryan Outclasses Stift.

Kansas City, Mo., April 4.—Tommy Ryan got the decision over Billy Stift, of Chicago, at the end of a 10-round bout last night. Stift was much outclassed.

Chapin Parks Win.

In a game of baseball yesterday the Chapin Parks, of South Bend, defeated the Notre Dame Minims by a score of 22 to 21.

Yanger to Meet Sullivan.

Dave Sullivan and Benny Yanger are practically matched to box in Chicago April 14.

High-Priced French Pictures.

Puvis de Chavannes's pictures are increasing in price. At the Walter sale in Paris a sketch, "Ladies pre Paris," brought $1,000, "La Famille," $1,100, and a panel, "L'Enfant Prodigue," $2,000.

NEWS OF THE CITY.

Social at the First Presbyterian church Wednesday evening, April 9.

Plenty of spring lamb and also spring chicken at Jimmie's meat market.

Mr. E. Squint and Mr. H. C. Hupp are preparing to give a dance at Maccabee hall Friday evening, April 18. All their friends are cordially invited. Music by Dockers' full orchestra.

Plenty of spring lamb and also spring chicken at Jimmie's meat market.

TALKS ON ADVERTISING.

Most Effective Advertising.

That advertising is most effective which attracts the eye and appeals to the mind. Clear, concise, and to the point is much out of date as an advertisement as is a bit of mud on a negative's surface. Exaggeration is always to be avoided. People nowadays demand sincerity in all matters of business. It is observable that the big and successful advertisers are most careful as to their statements of fact. They realize that confidence is the keystone in the arch of trade. Their success came of their jealous regard for their work.—Printers Ink.

The Use of Advertising.

The use of advertising are rapidly increasing. People find that it is easier and far better to make announcements through the advertising columns of the newspaper than by word of mouth or by letter. Thus the great human library has produced many by newspaper advertising. Instead of consulting a friend, people now turn to our collections of book and prints the library managers have, and tell their desires in regular form, and have been surprised by valuable gifts from unexpected sources. The newspaper reaches virtually everybody.—Philadelphia Record.

Opposite Methods May Succeed.

When you see a merchant making a success from a certain style of advertising, don't jump to the conclusion that he has solved the problem—look at the other fellow who succeeds by entirely opposite advertising methods.—White's Savings.

The Power of Print.

A newspaper whose columns overflow with ads of business men has more influence in attracting attention to and building up a city or town than any other agency that can be employed. People go where there is business, and where they will locate where there is an enterprising community. No power on earth can build up a town as a newspaper will patronized, and its power should be appreciated.—Sec. T. DeWitt Talmage.

Use of Optional Space.

The most economical, efficient and satisfactory way to engage space is to take an option for the number of inches you think you will require and use just as little or as much of it as seems warrant without binding yourself for any certain amount of space or length of time, thus making it a mutual matter between you and the publisher, instead of a one-sided or arbitrary opinion.—Printers Ink.

MELTING OLD PLATES.

Tons of Those Used for Printing Money to Be Melted.

Tells Was "Smelting Day" at the Bureau of Engraving and Printing. All the plates, rolls and dies used in printing gold and silver certificates, postage and revenue stamps, bonds and postal cards during 1901 were loaded early this morning on two big trucks. Another big wagon and two hacks had to spell the face of each plate with a fine, four uniformed employees of the Treasury Department rode on each truck. A Treasury committee rode in a carriage.

The procession went to the Navy-yard foundry, on the plates were unceremoniously dumped into one of the furnaces, to come out as pig steel and to be used for ballast for warships. There were twenty tons of plates, rolls and dies, from which were printed last year $2,200,000,000 in gold and silver certificates of various denominations, and $888,000,000 in postage stamps, besides hundreds of millions of bonds, revenue stamps and postal cards.

The engravers are now at work on the plates, rolls and dies for 1903. These in turn now will be destroyed next February.—New York World.

Siberian Railroad's Cost.

There has been frequent speculation as to the actual amount of money expended upon Russia's great Siberian railroad, but not much of it has had any foundation in official information. According to the Novosti, of Odessa, when work was begun upon the line, ten years ago it was estimated that the total cost would be 350,000,000 rubles. This has, however, been exceeded to an extraordinary extent, the difference between the estimated and the actual cost up to twelve months ago being more than 420,000,000 rubles. That is to say, the line, originally estimated to cost 350,000,000 rubles, but already twelve months ago cost no less than 780,000,000 rubles. The public has of these figures has attracted much attention and as much comment as is possible or safe in Russia. Before this line can possibly be put in regular practical working order, it is now estimated, the total cost will be swelled to at least 1,000,000,000 rubles, or roughly, $500,000,000—that is, nearly three times the amount provided for a decade ago.

Roman Emperor Was Insane.

Caligula was a maniac. For nights together he would walk the halls of the palace, unable to sleep, alternately cursing the gods and praying for day. He is reported to have said he wished the Roman people had but a single head that he might decapitate it at one blow.

Population Multiplying in Algeria.

The French census returns for Algeria reveal the fact that in less than fifty years the native population of the colony, Arab and Kabyle, has almost doubled itself, having risen from 2,307,000 in 1856 to 4,071,000 at the present census.

Our Revenue-Cutter War Vessels.

The vessels built or authorized by congress since the Spanish war number that equal in tonnage the regular naval vessels we then had. The effectiveness of guns has also been doubled.

PURE WATER FOR SOLDIERS.

New Filters Introduced in French Army.

During the past year a new model of Pastour-Chamberland filter has been introduced in the French army, and special instructions for its care and management have been issued. The candle of unglazed porcelain is contained in a metallic tube, the latter being screwed at the top to the water origin. In this way the necessary water pressure for rapid filtration is obtained, provided that pressure corresponding to a height of column of about 40 inches. Otherwise the proper pressure is obtained by means of a special pressure accumulator which are cylindrical vessels of sheet iron, capable of withstanding a pressure of three atmospheres, in which the required pressure on the surface of the water is produced by means of an air pump.

The experiments at Versailles showed that, with a pressure of two atmospheres even with a very impure water, the filter could yield about 24 liters of pure water per day, and will therefore be sufficient for every need. To remove the sediment, the outside of the candle it must be cleaned once a week, and to sterilize it it is only placed in boiling water for half an hour.

Another improvement has been made in the Andre system, in which a number of candles (4, 12, 2) are connected together and placed in a metallic reservoir which can be kept clean and sterilized by the action of the surface of the candles and keeping the water in the reservoir of 50 liters in sufficient to provide a battalion on the war footing with all the drinking water it needs.

Although these filters may not be convenient for transportation, will troops constantly on the march, yet they are of immense value when more or less permanent quarters are occupied, especially in countries where the water is not good.

WASTE HEAT OF FURNACES.

English Engineers Are Beginning to Recognize It.

English engineers are beginning to turn their attention to the utilization of the waste heat of furnaces, and some too soon, for Belgium and Germany are distinctly ahead of us in this vital matter. Bryan Donkin discussed the subject before the last meeting of the Institution of Civil Engineers in an address on "Waste Heat and Waste Furnace Gases." He showed that the escaping gases can be burnt in gas engine cylinders so as to produce twenty-eight horse power hour per ton of pig iron. As 40,000,000 tons of iron leave from the world's blast furnaces every year, we have here a prodigious power. He adds that "the Cockerill Company, of Seraing, Belgium, huge as enormous, and 1,000 horse power, are being built to economize the new source of energy, and orders are in hand for machines aggregating 10 horse power. Similarly, the Gasmotoren-Fabrik, of Mannheim, Germany, and the Deutsche Kraftgas-Gesellschaft are busy. "England and Scotland seemed rather slow to utilize these gases," said the lecturer. Just so, but the time of awakening is at hand.—London Telegraph.

Our Scandals.

The most agreeable men I have met, known are the senators of the United States. No set of gentlemen with whom the writer has been associated seem so considerate of one another, so willing and convenient. In fact, it is a question if this has not been carried too far, at times, even to the point of interference with the execution of public business.

The word "parliament" is derived from parley or talk; and how they happened to call our august body the Senate of parley-seat or talk-seat, I cannot fathom. There are great occasions when one set their lips moving—that is, begin to parley—and let them run for days at a time without apparent physical or mental rest.

The pay of a United States senator is $5,000 a year, with mileage of a cent a mile—which will about pay for the use of a less horse his family at home and gets a pass for oneself, and he is not to be held to account for the sleeping car, the dining car, and the pass of his wife, commonly called the porter. We all admit that our senators are good men, but we have to admit that we all know what the pay was when we were voluntarily accepted the office. I have examined the statutes and the conditions very carefully and can find nothing in either which promises our resigning.—Senator Mason in Washington Times.

It Worried Him.

Mary Kragel's daughter, Gretchen, had been serving as domestic about two weeks in the household of Gustav Waughan, when her father came to see the village street.

"Vell, modder," said Kragel, "how do you like dole Gretchen by de village streets?"

"Like her? returned the judge, in his blunt way, "why, she's just great! We never had anyone in the house who was so willing and ready with no much spirit; she's full of snap all the time."

Kragel turned ponderingly away, and, leaning his head into his pipe-pot, he sorrowfully said:

"I wonder if dat Gretchen will do Gretchen; I yoost did mention to Gretchen dat she ought to be more quiet, and dat she was vun vell of schnapps all de time."—Richmond Dispatch.

Twelve Need Not Stop.

Among the patents which have been issued in the United States may be mentioned one issued to John Wrightson, New York City, for an interesting system whereby passengers may be exchanged from a train without the necessity of stopping at stations. The characteristic feature of the invention resides in the employment of a number of "saddle cars," which are successively taken up and dropped from the moving train, and through the medium of which passengers may enter or leave a train without interrupting the movement.

A DRAFTED DONKEY.

Story of an Over-Zealous Enlisting Officer's Visit to Maryland.

The list of those from Maryland available for draft during the Civil war, according to the records of the War department, contains the name of a donkey designated as "Billy Bray."

An enrolling officer in the Salisbury district was making inquiries at the house of a farmer one day when all the men were absent. An old lady gave a list of those connected with the household, and was asked if there were not others the old lady said:

"None except Billy Bray, and he was at the barn a moment ago."

The officer went out to the barn and, finding nobody, went back and asked concerning the age and physical condition of the supposed man. He was informed that Billy Bray was about twenty years old and is splendid health. Accordingly his name of "Billy Bray" was enrolled among those to be drafted. When the time came for the draft the supposed man could not be found, and the joke was told. The enrolling officer was known until death as "Billy Bray."

Wit of Senator Mason.

Senator Mason was talking to a group of newspaper men in the senate lobby, when Senator Scott came along. The latter said: "Mason, I would like to have your ear for a moment when you get through there." "All right," replied the retired senator from Illinois. "Just so you don't get me in the fix of the man whose son took him apart one day and then couldn't get him together again."

Rice in the Philippines.

More than twenty varieties of rice are known in the Philippines; but though this cereal is so important to the natives, not enough of it is produced to supply their needs, and large quantities have to be imported annually.

Mark Twain's Wit.

Mark Twain has added two new maxims to the world's already valuable collection. They are as follows: "We ought never to do wrong when people are looking," and "The real gentleman will tell the naked truth in the presence of ladies."

Quail Scarce in Europe.

Quail are becoming so scarce in Europe that France and Germany have joined in prohibiting the killing of the birds, and even the importation of dead quail across their respective territories.

Bath Tubs of Glass.

By using compressed air in the blowing of glass a Dresden inventor has discovered a method of manufacturing glass vessels of unusual large size, such as bath tubs and kettles.
