SAVED FROM AN OPERATION

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Peoria, Ill.—"I wish to let every one know what Lydia E. Pinkham's vegetable has done for me. For two years I suffered from a tumor, and the only remedy was the surgeon's knife. My mother bought me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and today I am a healthy woman. For months I suffered from inflammation and pain, which kept me from my work. Your Liver Pills have no equal as a cathartic. Any one wishing proof of what your medicines have done for me can get it from any druggist or by writing to me. You can use my testimonial in any way you wish, and I will be glad to answer letters."—Mrs. Christina Reed, 106 Mound St., Peoria, Ill.

Another Operation Avoided.

New Orleans, La.—"For years I suffered from severe female troubles. Finally I was confined to my bed and the doctor said an operation was necessary. I gave Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial first, and was saved from an operation."—Mrs. Lily Peyroux, 1111 Kerlerec St., New Orleans, La.

The great volume of unsolicited testimony constantly pouring in proves conclusively that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a remarkable remedy for those distressing feminine ills from which so many women suffer.

Plumpness Makes Health

This People Need This

If you are too slim; if you are pale and sallow; if what you eat seems not to strengthen you; if your lips and cheeks are colorless, it is because you are thin-blooded. Thin people are close and disease can easily overcome you, as you have no reserve strength or nourishment to uphold you.

NEWS OF INDIANA AND MICHIGAN

INTERURBAN MAY BE VICTIM OF BOYCOTT

WORKMEN AT LAPORTE HIGHLY INDIGNANT AT SERVICE.

SEND COMMITTEES HERE

After Repeated Demands, 150 Laborers Conclude Northern Indiana Will Do Nothing for Their Ask Train on Steam Line.

The Tribune's Special Service.

LAPORTE, Ind., April 3.—Because the Chicago, South Bend & Northern Indiana road has failed after repeated demands to give them satisfactory service, 150 men employed at the M. Rumely company plant are endeavoring to arrange with the Lake Erie & Western railroad to take them back and forth daily to their homes at Michigan City. If the train schedule can be so arranged, the men will take to riding the steam line regularly and will declare a boycott on the interurban road.

The workmen, who only live at Michigan City because they cannot find homes for their families here, have sent several committees to South Bend to see the Northern Indiana officials and have been promised a satisfactory no doubt. The men say they are tired of waiting and propose to hire a special train over the steam line morning and evening, if they can do so better.

Complain Against Cars.

Possibly 150 employes of the Rumely factory live at Michigan City and find it necessary to come to Laporte daily over the interurban line. For accommodation of the army of workmen there is one small car leaving Michigan City in the morning at 5:45 o'clock and there are no less than 12 men to come on it. The cars comprising the interurban are 40 feet long, simple. The law allows the company to carry not over 40 people on a car, where as there are 12 crowded into a small steel car every morning. The other 18 to 60 come on a later car at 7 o'clock.

Each morning there were 75 passengers crowded on one small car when it left Michigan City and there were 101 passengers when it arrived in Laporte.

Conditions at Night.

At night there are about 150 to 175 of these men who have to leave here for Michigan City at 5:45 and as the cars are crowded and they have to wait for the next car, the men say they are getting tired of the arrangement.

One of the committee from the workingmen tried to arrange to rent a special car. The company is said to have offered to make the trip for $14.50 each trip and if the number fell below 40, the number required at the 25-cent rate to make the $14.50, the deficiency must be made up by the men. If there were more than 40, the company was to collect the regular fare from the excess number.

ALL FOOLS' DAY GALA TIME FOR CHESTERTON

Town Has Holiday, Celebrated as Other Place in State.

The Tribune's Special Service.

CHESTERTON, Ind., April 3.—Chesterton shut up shop Saturday and the people carried out their annual custom of celebrating All Fool's Day. "All fools go to Chesterton," was one of the many signs which were displayed about the town and country, and farmers for miles around gathered to celebrate the biggest event of the year.

Fourth of July, Labor Day and all other holidays fade into insignificance beside the celebration of All Fool's Day, for it's Chesterton's own private celebration. A big industrial parade, with bands in line, was given by the merchants and manufacturers, and made, and at night a big home talent entertainment was given.

The question of celebrating All Fool's Day in Chesterton was established six years ago, having originated as a church function. It has grown to be a big money-making proposition for Chesterton. The entertainment Saturday included all kinds of funny "stunts."

The Tribune's Special Service.

BUCHANAN, Mich., April 3.—Shortly before the death of Hodson Burton, five years ago he talked into the horn of a phonograph and had the record preserved. It was placed in the hands of a lawyer with the request that it be removed in his safe.

When Burton died, in his will was found, with other information, the statement that he had buried a large sum of gold and that the location was recorded on a phonograph record which was not to be read until after he had been dead five years.

His wish was complied with, and not until Saturday did the heirs gather at the home of his son, Luke Burton, to hear what the phonograph had to say.

When the special seance commenced the period, the arrival of a "Dear Friend" was reached. The record broke. He entered the house from the rear, unwrapping the precious articles in the kitchen. PASTOR NAMES SEVEN ELEMENTS OF BELIEF

Rev. G. W. Henry Preaches on Faith—Being Service is Given.

That seven particular elements enter into the christian faith is the belief of Rev. George Watson Henry, pastor of the First Christian church, in his morning sermon yesterday, the pastor enumerated them after laying down the proposition that sources of information concerning faith are the written records, the world of nature and people have the advantage of 19 centuries of interpretation and illustration to add to an understanding appreciation of this divinely given body of truth.

The elements of faith, as enumerated by Rev. Mr. Henry, follow:

"First, the revelation of God found in Jesus Christ; second, the life, the teaching, the death, the resurrection, ascending, and present intercessory, the Jesus Christ; third, the ministry of the holy spirit in the conversion of the modern world by cutting pictures on stone walls. This human feelings have inborn; an instinctive tendency toward simplicity of organization, its ordinances fraught with sacred symbolism, the church, the spiritual body of Christ, proclaiming the gospel to the world; fifth, the christian life, with its uprightness and purity of conduct, its witnesses gentleness and unfailing kindness, its of endeavor in behalf of righteously once; sixth, the christian hope, the hope of eternal life, the far off above, the christian's hope of heaven casts its rays ever brightly on his path and gives destiny and meaning to life's activities."

Prof. Ernest Kiser, a song service was given by a double quartette choir under the direction of W. Preston McMenry. The last half of the programme was occupied by the evangelist, Rev. Mr. Henry, who preached. Features of the programme were solos by C. O. Krueger, Mrs. Guy Staples, Mr. McHenry, and a duette by Mrs. C. W. Osborne and Mrs. Krueger.

PICTURES IN NEWSPAPERS.

Trend of Progressiveness in the Journalism of To-day.

The development of newspapers practically the world over is marked by an interesting phase in that illustrations are now coming to be of greater importance than the news itself in many instances. In the last 10 years the number of papers using illustrations with their printed matter has doubled, and those that used illustrations for the most part advanced to the use of half tones.

The photograph man, he who supplies the illustrations, is the happiest of the hour, is now the "man of the hour" in the average progressive newspaper office. Instead of being longer a sort of human cocoya to be kept in the background, he is now indispensable cog wheel in the big journalistic machine.

The public with more offers and more gladly for something that appeals to the eye than it will for text which talks to the brain. Here is proof of the statement that the increasing popularity of news illustrations. Besides, the eye is the agent that provides the human being with his chief set means of receiving an impression. Sight is speedier than hearing, feeling, tasting, smelling or thinking. Hence, the illustration is a powerful agent. It, therefore, the human will use it as a substitute for everything that he can. A picture tells the story better than words. A picture fires the brain, the imagination of the literary and causes him to feel momentarily like an actor in the scene displayed—that is, it produces realism, and realism, whether pictured or described words, attracts readers to a paper.

The English illustrated weekly magazine, are centers in glorious realism. The United States has not caught up with Great Britain in this respect, but it has literally created a nation of magazine readers just as the merits of American newspapers have produced here the greatest newspaper reading nation on earth.

A photograph of an airship falling to the earth, for instance, tells the story of the accident written by the here reporter on earth. Mr. Public would rather see a cut of Blanche Wagner in action than read the story of her death, or perhaps an account of her passing.

Humans know how to make pictures before they know how to read or write. Their first writing, in fact, was pictures in stone and wood and clay. The Indian wrote his letters on a tree with a knife and the Egyptians and Assyrians and Babylonians wrote to the modern world by cutting pictures on stone walls. This human feelings have inborn; an instinctive tendency toward simplicity of organization, its ordinances fraught with sacred symbolism, the church, the spiritual body of Christ, proclaiming the gospel to the world; fifth, the christian life, with its uprightness and purity of conduct, its witnesses gentleness and unfailing kindness, its of endeavor in behalf of righteously once; sixth, the christian hope, the hope of eternal life, the far off above, the christian's hope of heaven casts its rays ever brightly on his path and gives destiny and meaning to life's activities."
