READY FOR OPENING

SPRINGBROOK PARK WILL BE A BLAZE OF LIGHTS.

Many Improvements Made in Popular Place of Summer Amusement.

Springbrook park will present a much more up-to-date appearance this season than ever before. Many changes and improvements have been made in this popular place of summer amusement. The change will be noticeable as soon as one leaves the street car.

The fence on the west side of the baseball park has been set in several feet while the old ticket office and building formerly used as a laughing gallery have been moved back. This gives a wide and unbroken entrance to the park and one can plainly see every attraction above the hill at a glance.

While many improvements have been made in the grounds surrounding the Casino and entrance the real change is on the hill overlooking the park. Finishing touches are being placed upon a building with a frontage of 50 feet and a depth of 90 feet. It is in this building which is divided into three compartments that the improvements. Manager Thomas Moss expects to attract the big crowds. The building has a very attractive front and at night will be illuminated with several hundred electric lights. Immediately in front of one part of the building will be one of the finest scenic theaters to be found in any park in the country. In the south side of the building will be the entrance to the new laughing gallery with moving figures of dog, birds and other animals. On the north side will be the arcade. In this part will be machines of every size and description, by which one can get a glimpse of foreign lands and other scenes of interest. Seats will be for the entertainment of women and children will be shown.

"The Tunnel" is located near the main building and will prove one of the most novel features of the park. For five cents one enters a neat enclosure and attempts to find the center. This will afford as much amusement to the spectators on the outside as to those who are trying to solve the problem.

The scenic theater at the park will be under the management of Lawrence Carpenter and will open every afternoon and evening. A new set of pictures has been secured and Manager Moss states that no finer moving pictures will be shown anywhere. The little theater will be a model of neatness.

Arrangements are now being made for installing a "Shooting the Chutes." This amusement will be located on the high bank overlooking the river and will undoubtedly prove one of the attractions here as it has in all of the larger parks of the country.

Everything about the park looks improved. The entire lawn both above and below the hill has been put in fine shape, greater care will be taken of the old wooden steps leading to the park proper. These have been replaced with wide cement steps which are easy to climb. Several other improvements have been made. The new built and the building formerly occupied by the laughing gallery will be occupied by Japanese rolling ball games where dainty Japanese ware is on sale at reasonable prices.

Manager Thomas Moss was seen by a representative of The Tribune at the park one day last week. He had his coat off and was a very busy man. He stated that many of the features of the improvements contemplated in the park could not be installed this year as the time was too limited. He said the Interurban Amusement company was busy at work and would be in place in placing many other amusements in Springbrook and next summer we will have a regular White City.

The park opens next Sunday night with a bang and the attractions for the season will be given in the Casino.

Elbel's band will give a short concert at the corner of Michigan and Washington streets at 7 o'clock and then will go to the park where a concert will be given from 8 o'clock until 10:30 o'clock. The programme will consist of selections from the latest operas and will be well worth hearing.
