BASEBALL FANS TO SEE LOCALS IN ACTION TOMORROW

INFANTS TO BEGIN PRACTICE MONDAY

VETERANS WILL BE GIVEN FIRST WORK AT ZANESVILLE.

STILL TWO HOLD-OUTS

Swartling and Richardson Steadfastly Refuse to Sign—Former Has Been Offered Raise Over Last Year's Figures.

The Tribune's Special Service.

ZANESVILLE, O., March 27.—Monday is reporting day for the majority of the local baseball team and already the men are starting to come to this city. Manager Montgomery, Third Baseman Joe Blackburn and Pitcher Sample are the men here at present and will start their preliminary work on Monday at the ball lot.

The veterans and men who played on the team last season will be here a few days before the youngsters. Manager Monty wants to get a line on the men that performed last season before he is bothered with the new men so that he can tell just what he needs. Then the old players who have professional experience in other leagues will be here on at the practice. By the time that the youngsters arrive for their work-outs Monty will know just about where he stands in regard to material and the ability of the men he has to work with. He will attempt for a time to be new player.

All of the men will be here by next Thursday and the first game will be played on Sunday, April 4, with the Newark team of the Ohio State league.

To See Stags.

Zanesville fans will get a look at the Stags in action before the season opens as the Stags will play both Newark and Lancaster which are but short distance from this city. Zanesville has no games on the days when the Newark and Lancaster teams are in it, so it is probable that Monty will take the local squad in charge of some of the old men and run over for a look at the Stags.

Every man on the local squad with the exception of Swartling and Richardson has signed a contract in his contract. Swartling has been given until March 29 in which to have his signed contract in at local headquarters. He was given a raise over his figures of last year and Richardson is holding out for a raise. If his contract is not in at that time his last season's contract will be mailed and if he doesn't sign that it's suspension for him. Manager Montgomery gave Richardson a raise of $100 will say this classy first sacker is holding out. He hasn't written a line to local officials since he was traded.

Myers at First.

Neither of these two men are counted on as regulars for this season. Myers secured from the Louisville team and he will be given a chance. Monty counts on him for that position. Holmes, Heffner, Cavis, and Crater are the other catchers under contract and Monty is satisfied with them even if Richardson does not come to report. Holmes has been with Louisville and Louisville, of the association, and the St. Louis Cardinals in the National league, so that he is counted on as the first catcher. Heffner finished last season with Milwaukee and is a good catcher. Cavis is a catcher's birth, unless one of the youngsters shows great form.

Walker, Sander, Bennett, Carpenter and Sample are all hoavers who are above the six foot mark and the steam department of the local club. Sander is a brother of Pitcher Sander. Walker is the only one of the lot who is familiar to the fans of South Bend. Kenworthy, Bales, Chittham, Coulson, Hastings, and H. Walker are the other pitchers under contract. Bennett, Walker, Sample, Bales and Kenworthy are sure of their places and the other pitchers on the staff will be fought for by the other men.

Bill Coulson and Jack Wren played the shortstop and third Blackburn at third in the way in which the infield will appear. The moving of Myers to the initial tabler leaves a hole in the outfield and Montgomery is after a strong hitter and good fielder to take care of the left field. With this here holder signed Zanesville will be ready for the gong.

STOGIES REPORT MONDAY.

Early Arrivals Will Begin Work Outs on That Day.

WHEELING, W. Va., March 27.—Huston, Jewell, McKenzie, Fletcher, Nally, Fisher, Jerger, Clyde and others will be among the first squad of Stogies to report in Wheeling next Monday for spring training. Manager Phillips, who has been in Hot Springs, Ark., for the past several days helping Fred Clarke, of the Buccaneers, coach the pirates, will be here when the boys arrive and take up permanent quarters in Wheeling on Sunday. He may, however, not be able to reach Stogieland until Monday.

The Stamm hotel will be baseball headquarters this season. Reservations have been made for a number of the players and they will take up their quarters immediately upon their arrival. Groundkeeper Zane has placed the island park in good condition, and the Stogies will have a playground. The players who report on Monday will turn out in the afternoon for their first practice.

Several of the players who have been signed will not report until most

CHICAGO, March 27.—Jimmy Callahan was reinstated by the national commission yesterday after three years as an "outlaw" ball player. That is, there is a little humanity at a time rate that still remains to be receipted for, as "Cal" was a shortstop for manager Garry Herrmann last night.

Actor Callahan was given his release by President Comiskey of the White Sox and signed with the Logan Square club, but the release did not carry with it the right for Callahan to engage in organized baseball until the national commission had discharged him for failing to report to the White Sox. Callahan then signed with the Cincinnati Johnson, the head of the American league, ever since he obtained his release, and early this week Johnson informed Callahan that he would organize a team in Chicago and that immediately wired Herrmann for reinstatement and he got a wire back saying he would be placed upon the eligible list upon payment of a fine of $100.

WITH AUTOISTS AT HOME AND ABROAD

STUDEBAKER PATHFINDER AND DRIVER ARRIVE.

DAYTONA TOURNEY CLOSES

With Ball Game And Bicycle Racing—Motor Cycle Record Smashed Thursday—Driver to Reach Atlanta for Hill Climbing.

George W. Smithson, who drove the Studebaker, Glidden tour scout car from Denver to Chicago, returned to South Bend last night in the car, finishing his long trip by running down from Chicago, via Michigan City, a distance of 1134 miles, in four hours actual running time.

Smithson started from Denver, March 2, and reached Chicago, March 22, after one of the hardest trips he ever tackled. He says that his trip to Iowa was the most hopeless task, apparently, he ever saw, because of the hazard he encountered there. He refused at any time to acknowledge himself stalled and worked through the storm with a shovel. His worst day's work was between Des Moines and Iowa, just outside of Woodbine, Iowa, when it took him from four in the afternoon till the next morning to shovel that distance through drifts 10 feet high.

Twice during the trip he managed to get the car out on the ice, once in getting a start for a deep drift, backing into a deep ditch full of drifted snow and turning completely over.

One broken spring, which Smithson had to have repaired at Des Moines, tells the story of the reports of the machine during the long grind.

Following are the principal cities through which the pathfinder passed between Denver and Chicago: Denver, Nob. Grand Island, Neb., North Platte, Neb., Grand Island, Neb., Omaha, Neb., Boone, Ia., Cedar Rapids, Ia., Clinton, Ia.

The car, which was taken out of the Denver salesrooms of the Studebaker company, will be taken care of at the local factory.

The last day of the automobile tournament at Daytona, Fla., was ushered in by a bicycle race between Cobb, Stubbs, and Dawson from the Jacksonville National league club, which came to Daytona from Jacksonville. Cobb beat the Regulars 4 to 3.

The record established by Ralph De Palma, held a walkover for pole position, and he was given the pole in manner presented by the company. The same car easily won the mile in elevation cups. De Palma handily won from scratch with his Italian flyer in the 5 mile handicap race. The time was 4 45 sec.

Fred Hill made the best time, 1:19 4-5, for a bicycle mile paced by a motorcycle, and in the attempt to 1000. Murphy's old record holder for a mile on Long Island, behind a motorcycle, made a mile, Gallus, of Lynn, Mass., rode a mile on a bicycle in :38 2-5 behind an automobile.

The principal feature of the Thursday events was the breaking of the 1 mile motorcycle record, the time of 48 seiles by Walter Goerke, of Brooklyn, N. Y.

Goerke also established a new world's record for the gliometer, covering 1 mile in 1:19 4-5, and Fred Hill, of Sidney, Ohio, and Hoffman, of Birmingham, Ala., also lowered the world's one mile motor-cycle record made yesterday by Goerke in remarkably fast time, 42 2-5 seconds, against Goerke's time of :42 4-5.

The Buick team, composed of Strang, Burman, Myers, and Dewitt, left here today for Atlanta to enter in the big climbing contest. The big record of 1:04 made by Peter De Palma in his car, was shipped back to Jacksonville to-day.

It was formally that the eighth annual Daytona Beach tournament will hold on this racing course the last week in January, 1910, and a huge sum money will be deposited for cash prizes.

GEORGE SUTTON GETS HIS INNINGS WITH CUE

Defeats Cutler, of Boston, 500 to 283, at 18.2 Billiards.

NEW YORK, March 27.—It was George Sutton's turn last night to show what he could do as a cue artist. He did well, better, in fact, than any one in the 18.2 tournament except George Sisson. He played against Cutler, of Boston, and won so he did not have to blame the tip of his cue for anything.

Sutton won by a score of 500 to 283, his average being a fraction better than 33. Cutler, too, did well, especially towards the end of the game. Sutton had taken such a lead early in the contest Cutler had little hope of winning out, but he kept on plugging and finished with a run of 50 points which took 15 innings to his 14 Cutler gathered the balls together and piloted off 89 perfect billiards. Some of the cannons were wonders, and he had Sutton on the run.
