President Bement has selected four regular umpires and 14 substitute umpires for the Central league and will make an official announcement of the fact March 1. It is understood that Edward Coffey, of South Bend, has been appointed.

Luck of Joseph Dohan.

"Joe Dohan is counted lost to the St. Louis Americans, and Harold Langsa, in a recent screed, made some declarations about the Notre Dame boy that must have surprised him," says the Cincinnati Enquirer. "Langsa, in his Star matter, said:

"As regards Dohan, it is stacks of $10 gold pieces by yards of turf skins—Dame certificates that he doesn't enter Dame—Dohan's family is reported to be not only good, well, but almost as wealthy as the Rockefellers, Carnegies or Armours. Col. McDiarmid, one of Hedges' Cincinnati lawyers, 'booted' Dohan. 'He's a wonder, a cracker-jack, the pitching sensation of the age!' McDiarmid declared to Hedges at the time he tipped the young twister off to the boss of the Browns. If McDiarmid's expectoating was 18 carat then the Browns certainly failed to get a most acceptable addition to their noon too well stocked array of alabaster.

"After that exposition it will be proper to refer to the College Hill's premier as J. Pierpont-Morgan-Dohan."

COMMERCIAL COLLEGE NEWS

Washington's Birthday Observed—Address By President W. T. Boone.

Washington's birthday anniversary was appropriately observed yesterday afternoon at the South Bend commercial college. The school song, "Jolly Students We," was followed by a mandolin solo by J. C. Bishop. Prof. W. T. Boone addressed the school on "The Greatness of Washington." He said: "The mind is the great battlefield of human life. The great battles of mental as well as personal liberty are fought on the mental plane. Washington was great because he entertained only great thoughts. Washington could not tell a lie because his mind was too used to thoughts of truth that falsehood found no place there. It was not the opportunity which made him great, but only opened the way by which his greatness was made manifest to the world. He became free in the hearts of his contemporaries because his one prevailing motive was not for aggrandizement but for the personal welfare and liberty of the people struggling for this supreme blessing. Those who win the battles for liberty in their own being are assured of greatness, although opportunity to manifest that greatness in public affairs may never come. The exalting virtues of world renowned men are inherent in us all. We need not wait for great opportunities, but may find all about us, in everything we do, much needed application of our greatness in the smaller affairs of home and domestic life."

Mr. Boone admonished his hearers to affirm unto their thoughts of selfish manliness, to make the pure of others their own, and thus to develop the example of the great and virtuous character of Washington. The exercises closed with a song, "Hail Columbia," B. R. Thomas, in which the school sang the chorus.
