HOME-COMING WILL BE A GREAT EVENT

PLANS PROMISE CELEBRATION OF ELABORATE KIND.

Executive Committee Will Meet Next Tuesday Evening in Council Chamber to Receive Reports.

A meeting of the executive committee of South Bend home-coming celebration Oct. 3 to 9 next Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in the city council chamber will be of great importance. The Chamber of Commerce urges all members of the committee to be present.

This meeting will give some idea of the magnitude and character of the home-coming celebration as various committees will make reports and recommendation. There it is expected, will show that a very elaborate celebration is contemplated. Reports of the committees will be made which will be of great value to the event. Committees have been holding meetings to discuss their particular duties and responsibilities. It is believed, will go before the executive committee with a report of what has been done which, started the week of Oct. 3, will make South Bend's home-coming the greatest celebration Indiana has ever had.

The Chamber of Commerce's request that relatives and friends send it the names and addresses of former residents of the county is meeting with constant response. About 100 names have been received. At the proper time there will be sent thousands requesting as many as possible may arrange to be present. The Chamber of Commerce continues to request that people send it names and addresses of former residents of South Bend or other parts of St. Joseph county.

A letter received to-day by a friend from William J. Oliver, of Knoxville, Tenn., says he will attend the celebration, if business will permit. Mr. Oliver formerly attended the South Bend high school. He is now a prominent and wealthy manufacturer and railroad contractor in Knoxville and one of its most influential citizens.

A citizen deeply interested in the success of the proposed celebration says:

"I would like to suggest that the property owners of the city put forth every effort to have their properties present the best possible appearance home-coming week. If they intend to paint, or have repairs made, let the business let them put it off until September and then order it done in time to have it completed the week before Oct 3. Let them also take special pains to keep up their yards so that the latter will present a beautiful appearance when our visitors are in town."

The committee on decorations for the home-coming festival which has adopted yellow and white as the official colors, will meet at noon Monday at the Chamber of Commerce next Tuesday morning at 10:30. Plans are being perfected for elaborate decorations and brilliant illuminations. Definite plans relative to an extensive system of decorating will doubtless be reported at the committee meeting. The committee was to have met the morning, but the meeting was postponed owing to other urgent business engagements.

Daffy Down Dilly has come up to town,
In a fine petticoat and a green gown;
Starched is the petticoat, spick and span white,
"Twas done up with Fels-Naptha, that's why it's so bright."

Did you ever look at a piece of linen under the magnifying glass?

Or any other kind of cloth?

You'd see a multitude of small threads woven together with tiny open spaces between.

When soiled clothes are boiled, the dirt is just softened, not loosened.

When you rub them on the washboard, the soft dirt is partly rubbed into the tiny spaces between the threads and you might rub till Doomsday without getting it all out.

That's why clothes washed in the boiling, hard-rubbing way are so often muddy or dull-looking.

They're not wholly clean.

Fels-Naptha cleanses clothes perfectly because it attacks the dirt and dissolves it.

Breaks it up into particles which are easily rinsed out of the cloth meshes.

Fels-Naptha Soap does this in cool or lukewarm water.

No boiling; no hard-rubbing; takes less than half the time of the old way.

Saves the clothes; saves fuel.

When you've once tried the Fels-Naptha way of washing in the Winter or Summer you'll never go back to the wash-boiler and hard rubbing.

Try it next washday.

Follow the easy directions printed on the red and green wrapper.
